Story Of Survivors Brought To Life

by Jeff Lysiak

ased on actual diaries, letters and interviews, Unsinkable Women – a one-women show written by and starring critically-acclaimed stage actress Deborah Jean Templin – brings to life nine famous figures who survived the sinking of the RMS Titanic.

Presented as a fundraiser by the Sanibel-Captiva Rotary Club, Templin's dramatic performance of Unsinkable Women will be brought to Sanibel for one night only, on Thursday, April 9 at 7:30 p.m. at BIG ARTS' Schein Hall, 900 Dunlop Road. Proceeds from this show benefit several local organizations, including Human Trafficking Awareness Partnerships, Inc., the Sanibel Historical Village & Museum and BIG

After touring with the award-winning musical Titanic from 1998 to 2000, serving as a "swing performer" covering the roles of seven women characters on the ship, Templin became intrigued with the original music of the period and the lives of the women in the lifeboats while performing to over 45 cities throughout the United States. Soon, she began her site specific research at the homes of Titanic survivors and the nation's libraries.

Historic Movie And Recollections Of Old Mailboat

Mailboat Santiva

The Captiva Island Historical Society will present a showing of the film, Our Mailboat Santiva, filmed by local videographer Rusty Farst. The video will be screened on Wednesday, April 15 from 5 to 7 p.m. at the Captiva Community Center on Chapin Lane.

The film captures the spirit of Santiva, the old mailboat which serviced the islands prior to the construction of the Sanibel Causeway in 1963. Step aboard Santiva in the early days and sit alongside fellow passengers as you experience for yourself this daily voyage to deliver mail and goods to the people of the islands. This short film highlights interviews with local historians, islanders who personally rode her, and the witty daughter of her tireless captain and owner Ray Singleton. Neither rain, sleet, nor snow threatened Santiva from making her rounds. And hear how her wise captain protected her from injury.

The event, sponsored by The Sanibel Captiva Trust, will begin with a wine and cheese reception, followed by the showing of the short film. The evening ends with a panel of four locals who will share their recollections of riding Santiva

In 2014 the Captiva Island Historical Society opened the History Gallery, which takes on the wooden look of the interior of Santiva. In the History Gallery, interpretive panels, touch screens of historic photos, and a simulated replica of the cargo area tell much of the story of Santiva, as it weaves into the lives of the founding pioneers of the islands.

Arrive early to view the History Gallery, inspired by the committed vessel.

As seating is limited, reservations are necessary. Call 472-2323 or email mail@captivaislandhistoricalsociety.org.

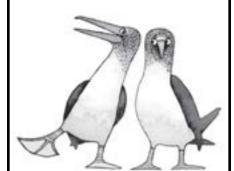

CARD OF THANKS

will be eternally grateful to the night and day managers of the Jacaranda restaurant on Periwinkle Way. I was there on Friday night and the clasp on my grandmother's antique bracelet broke. I thought that I might have lost it somewhere in the back parking lot on my way to our car. I stopped at the restaurant on Saturday evening to find that the morning manager had found it that day when he came to work. Of course, I am very appreciative to the both of them and I'm having the clasp fixed pronto. Such nice people work at the Jacaranda.

Historical Village Hosts Twilight Talk

Jim Pickens

The Sanibel Historical Village will conduct a Twilight Talk at 7 p.m. on Wednesday, April 8, at the Old Schoolhouse on the village grounds. The speaker will be long-time Sanibel resident Jim Pickens.

Pickens will share his stories of early island residents and what life was like on "Old Sanibel." He moved to Sanibel permanently in 1952 when he was 15 years old and has never left.

"I got to know a bunch of people who were children or grandchildren of original settlers," Pickens explained. "In some instances, they came to the island when their families settled here, so they had very early memories."

Reservations are required, as space is limited. Contact museum manager Emilie Alfino at 472-4648 or info@sanibelmuseum.org. The cost is $5 per ticket; tickets must be picked up and paid for in advance at the museum office.

The next talk scheduled – the last Twilight Talk of the season – will take place at 7 p.m. on Wednesday, April 22 when the village welcomes Flint & Doyle, the movers of its newest building, Shore Haven.

The historical village is open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Wednesdays through Saturdays. The village is located at 950 Dunlop Road (next to BIG ARTS). Admission is $10 for adults 18 and older; those under 18 and members are free. Docent-guided tours are available at 10:30 a.m. and 1:30 p.m. at no extra charge, based upon docent availability. There is handicap access to all buildings. Admission for entrance to the Museum Store only is free.

Beginning in May, the museum will be open five days a week, Tuesdays through Saturdays, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. For more information, call 472-4648 during business hours or visit www.sanibelmuseum.org.

Lighthouse Architect To Speak At Historical Village

The Sanibel Historical Village will host lighthouse architect Jack Graham during Lighthouse Day on Wednesday, April 15. Graham will speak at 10:45 a.m. in the old School House at the village. Admission to the village is $10 for adults, and there is no additional charge for Graham's presentation. No reservation is required.

In 1959, at age 25, Graham designed the last lighthouse built by the U.S. Coast Guard – the 140-feet tall Charleston Light on Sullivan's Island in South Carolina.

Now that electronic technology is used for most navigation, it is unlikely that another lighthouse will be built, so Graham can claim to be the only living lighthouse architect, perhaps in the world.

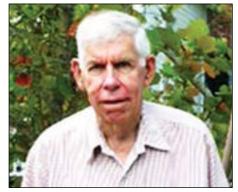

The unique structure of the Charleston Light has a triangular shaft with hexagonal base and lantern level and is the only lighthouse with an elevator.

Despite a modern architectural education, Graham has been involved in historic preservation for 55 years, restoring more than 20 historic houses and commercial buildings. He is a past president and for 45 years a volunteer architect of Furnace Town Living Heritage Museum on the eastern shore of Maryland. Furnace Town is very similar to Sanibel's Historical Village.

Graham has designed three historical museums and most of the buildings in the Chesapeake Bay Maritime Museum. A few years ago, he designed a replica steamboat housed in the Delmarva Discovery Center. This year, he is working on an addition to the Lifesaving Museum in Ocean City, Maryland.

Unsinkable Women

"When I began reading about the women who made it to the lifeboats, it made me think about their stories – who they were and what happened with their lives," said Templin, speaking from her home in Manhattan last week. "Then, I visited The Jane Hotel in New York, where survivors of the Titanic were allowed to stay for 25 cents per night. When you stand in the places where those people stood, it really helps you imagine what they may have been thinking."

Subsequently, Templin visited Pier 54 in New York City, where Titanic survivors were initially dropped-off following the disaster at sea. She also visited other sites – including the Molly Brown House in Denver, Colorado – and read the original diaries and letters written by the survivors themselves during her extensive research before writing the play.

"I think that my interest in history comes from my mother's archival interest in photography – she never threw anything away and said that every picture told a story," said Templin. "I love bringing these people to life. In fact, in many ways, they've become my friends."

Some of the characters featured in Unsinkable Women include:

• Madeline Astor, the beautiful teenage bride of John Jacob Astor, one of the wealthiest men in America

• Margaret Tobin Brown, the "Unsinkable Molly" herself, whose account of the ship's final moments brings the evening to its dramatic climax

• Nora, a flamboyant music hall performer on her way to New York to try her hand at American vaudeville

• Violet Jessop, a ship's stewardess who tells of the friendships and loves of the serving crew below decks

• Ida Straus, wife of Isador Straus (owner of Macy's Department Store), who refused rescue to stay on board with her husband of 38 years

• Eleanor Elkins Widener, founder of the Widener Library, one of Harvard's most prestigious research centers, in honor of her beloved son Harry, who was lost on the Titanic

Asked which of the characters she identifies the most with, Templin responded quickly.

"Nora," she said, "because as a fellow actress, she does something I do every day. Auditioning, hoping she might get the job, being friends with musicians. But she is also a third-class passenger, which is something I can really relate to."

With musical underscoring and accompaniment on CD created by musical director C. Colby Sachs, choreography by Broadway veteran Ron Schwinn, nine intricate period costumes designed by Sara Jablon and direction by Nancy Robillard, Unsinkable Women offers vivid portrayals, punctuated with songs from vintage vaudeville numbers to Victor Herbert's Toyland. Drawing wigs, costume and props from an authentic 1912 wardrobe truck while on stage, Templin transforms herself, shifting from character to character – in 15 seconds or less – in full view of the audience.

"From everything that I've researched, these survivors all felt a sense of 'What can we do?' with their lives," added Templin. "In many ways, these women could make choices that otherwise they couldn't have made before."

During her career, Templin has performed in leading roles with some of America's most prestigious theater companies. Her national tours include Mamma Mia!, Titanic and Annie. She was given Philadelphia's Barrymore Award for Best Actress in a Musical for her work as chanteuse Kay Goodman. The Los Angeles Arts Council awarded her the Richard Burton Award in Acting.

Reviews for Unsinkable Women include The Westchester Journal News, which wrote "Templin had an audience spellbound" while The Times of London (UK) boasted "The production is unfussy and intelligent and centers around a performance of luminous understanding from Deborah Jean Templin."

A handcrafted paper-mache mermaid sculpture created by Sanibel artist Jerry Churchill will beckon attendees at a post-performance wine and dessert buffet following the performance.

Rotary thanks Churchill for contributing his talents toward making this fundraiser something special on the island.

Tickets are available at the BIG ARTS Box Office, located at 900 Dunlop Road on Sanibel. For more information or to purchase tickets, priced at $55 each, call 395-0900. Following the show, a wine bar and dessert buffet will be available.

Special Appearance By 'Elvis' Supports FISH

Chris Coile and Chip Specht

hris Coile, a local Sanibel entertainer, designated FISH as the sole benefactor of 2014-15 performances held at George and Wendy's Corner Grille. His last performance, on March 24, featured a special appearance from Elvis impersonator Terry Igo, in full costume.

"I'm very impressed with all of the programs at FISH that help the people of Sanibel and Captiva. Neighbors Helping Neighbors is their motto — and they deliver," Coile said. "In 2014, they provided services to 1,317 households representing 1,737 individuals on the islands. 86 percent of their 2014 annual budget was used for client programming benefiting seniors, children and families.

Coile raised money FISH from his biweekly Tuesday evening performances. He donated his music CDs, which were complimentary to anyone making a $5 or more donation. "It's a win for everyone," Coile added. "I enjoy playing and singing great classic rock and roll and country music, and our customers sing along and dance. We also have local musical talent join in, including former FISH Treasurer Chip Specht. It's just an enjoyable evening every time. Neighbors helping neighbors is what it is all about, and I am happy to be a part of it."

Next year's performance schedule will begin sometime in January.

Tenebrae Service At Sanibel Community Church

tep back in time to the first Good Friday as Bible characters find themselves at the foot of the cross during the Tenebrae Service beginning at 8 p.m. in the main sanctuary at Sanibel Community Church.

Community Church.

The word "tenebrae" comes from the Latin meaning "darkness." The Tenebrae is an ancient Christian Good Friday service that makes use of gradually diminishing light through the extinguishing of candles to symbolize the events of that week from the triumphant Palm Sunday entry through Jesus' burial.

This increasing darkness symbolizes the approaching darkness of Jesus' death and of hopelessness in the world without God. The service concludes in darkness, sometimes with a final candle, the Christ candle, carried out of the sanctuary, symbolizing the death of Jesus. A loud noise may also sound symbolizing the closing of Jesus' tomb. The worshipers then leave in silence to ponder the impact of Christ's death and await the coming Resurrection. JOHNNY "UTAH" FREEMAN ohnny "Utah" Freeman lost his fierce battle with cancer on February 26, 2015 surrounded by family and friends and the caring staff at University Hospital and Ellis Fischel. Born John Carl Freeman, II on January 25, 1953 in Mexico, Missouri to John Carl and Catherine Marie (Fennewald), he was preceded in death by his father John and is survived by wife, Suzie (Thompson) of Columbia; mother, Catherine; sisters, Cathy Aldrich (Dick) and Ellen Cross, all of Bradenton, Florida; nephew Will Todd (Olga and sons Bladen and Kobi), niece Ashley Todd (Ray and daughter Amaya) and numerous aunts, uncles and cousins.

Johnny started traveling soon after high school and never stopped. Having lived in various spots around the southwest while working highway construction, Johnny moved to Dallas where he met Susan in 1985. After visiting family in Florida, the couple discovered Sanibel Island and soon relocated there, spending their next 20 years. Johnny was an accomplished singer, songwriter and musician, performing as a solo artist and with a variety of bands who opened for a number of national acts in the seventies. Since returning to Missouri in 2007, "Utah" was a regular at Bambino's in Columbia and played with numerous old and new friends in the area who have already given tributes and dedication to Johnny at recent gigs (thank you all so

A lifelong water spirit, he loved fishing, boating, snorkeling and scuba diving. Johnny was also an avid collector with a wide variety of interests including coins, his prized acquisition being Roman coins found near Sanibel through his extensive beach and underwater metal detecting around southern Florida. His largest collection was that of friends. Johnny truly never met a stranger. The couple operated a property management and landscaping/lawn maintenance company on Sanibel. Johnny loved gardening, running his heavy equipment, and "playing in the dirt." His last years back in Columbia were spent as a member of the Red Campus grounds crew at Mizzou, of which he was very proud to be a mem-

Communion Service At Community Church Open To All

n Thursday, April 2 at noon in the Historic Chapel of Sanibel Community Church, Christians will gather in quiet reflection to commemorate Maundy Thursday. The service will include scripture reading, quiet meditation time and the receiving of the Lord's Supper. Maundy Thursday is celebrated in Christian worship remembering the Passover Meal with Christ's disciples in the Upper Room the night before He was crucified. Derived from the Latin word mandatum, meaning "command-ment," Maundy refers to the commands Jesus gave His disciples at the Last Supper: to love with humility by serving one another and to remember His sacrifice. All are welcome to come, step out of the traffic of life and be still as you remember the perfect sacrifice Christ offered for the salvation of all.

Sanibel Community Church is located at 1740 Periwinkle Way (next to Jerry's Market). For more information, call 472-2684 or visit online at www.sanibelchurch.

Advance Directive Presentation

ope Hospice presenter Reverend Jonathan Scalone, MD, DMin, (Lt. Col. USAF Ret.) will lead a discussion on Five Wishes Thursday, April 2 at 1 p.m. in Fellowship Hall of Sanibel Community Church.

Five Wishes is an advance directive in easy to use booklet form, and includes such topics as: Health Care Power of Attorney – allows you to name a person you trust to make health care decisions for you if you are unable to make them for yourself; A Living Will – statements about your desires to have or not have your life prolonged by extraordinary measures if you have a terminal or incurable illness, or are in a vegetative state, and other topics.

The session will include viewing of the film Consider the Conversation, a thought provoking film that looks at the issues everyone will face at the end-of-life. As stated by Samira K Beckwith, Hope president and CEO, "It is more than simply getting records in order... it is one of the greatest gifts that a person can give to their family. Dying is inevitable, but leaving your family with difficult, heartbreaking decisions is not. Planning ahead will save them from a heavy burden and will give them peace of mind when they need it most."

For questions or to sign up, contact the church office at 472-2684, or contact Deb Stephens at 401-529-0713. Sanibel Community Church is located at 1740 Periwinkle Way (next to Jerry's Market).

igh season on the island is Lwinding down. This season has gone < incredibly fast. It's been a great season with a lot of great energy coming from visiting and snowbird Rotarians pitching in on all the projects and activities that the club has engaged in the last six months.

So last Friday, our Sanibel-Captiva Rotary club president, Bill Rahe, presented a recap of the club's service projects, fundraising activities, grants, distributions – both internal and external – from our own Sanibel-Captiva Rotary Trust Fund (the giving arm of Sanibel-Captiva Rotary), the updating of club by-laws, and our club's membership growth. What an upbeat and positive report it was.

The Sanibel-Captiva Rotary has a guideline given to the club from our District 6960 governor each year, named the Governor's Goals. This list helps our club plan and direct achievement toward participation in Rotary International programs. This document guides Rotary clubs in avenues of service, club foundation giving, youth service, district service, membership goals and vocational goals.

Although this is a district guideline, each Rotary club tailors its own activities and what they select to participate in; however, as an added incentive for each district goal achieved the club is recognized on a district level by receiving district awards and, ultimately, the Governor's Award.

This year Rahe determinedly wanted to achieve all the goals set bydistrict for the Rotary 2014-15 year. So, with a great deal of participation from all club Rotarians, snowbird Rotarians and visiting Rotarians, the Sanibel-Captiva Rotary will no doubt receive the highest distinction from the District Governor Pete Doragh.

Fundraising activities have allowed the Rotary Club of Sanibel-Captiva Trust to distribute this year... drumroll please... over $80,000 to other non-profits and organizations with programs and projects aligned with Rotary International. This $80,000 also includes the financing of three Sanibel-Captiva direct or designated Rotary Scholarships.

Our trust is currently distributing this money with a 50/50 split between local and International Rotary gifting.

Local recipients were: FISH, Women's Fund of SWFL, CECI KIDS, Heights Center, Suarez Soup Kitchen, CROW, Sanibel Historical Museum and Village, Fort Myers Middle School Academy, Friends Who Care, Paul Duval Foundation and Shell Museum. Total locally, $40,450.

International recipients were: Gift of Life, Guatemala Coffee Micro Loans, Shelter Box, Rotary Club St. March, Haiti, Polio Plus, WheelChair Foundation, Clinica Verde, and El Hogar, total $37,300, plus our three Rotary Scholarships of $3,500.

Each dollar contributed to these organizations and scholarship recipients sets the groundwork for a brighter future for someone and benefits all of us through the success of these projects.

President Rahe – we call him the energizer bunny – has certainly taken on his leadership role with great gusto and our members have followed his lead. Somehow the word is out and our membership this year has grown by 12. That is mostly due to the positive reputation within our community that the Sanibel-Captiva Rotary Club has a broad reach into the community and worldwide for making a contribution to bettering the lives of so many.

The Sanibel-Captiva Rotary Club

meets at 7 a.m. every Friday at The Dunes Golf and Tennis Club, 949 Sand Castle Road. If you have any questions regarding Rotary, e-mail President Scot Congress at scot@scongress.com.

A Trip To Remember

by Capt. Matt Mitchell

he rainy passing of what should be, hopefully, the final cold front that we will see until next fall, marked the end to an exceptional week of fishing. Despite having to deal with a few hours of slow to almost zero tide movement for a few days, snook fishing was about as good as it gets. We caught snook of all sizes both in the passes and while mangrove fishing. Big trout were also caught in good numbers while targeting snook in the passes. Add to that a few bonus, slot-sized redfish and a few monster over-the-slot snook and it was certainly a week to remember.

Fishing with the Schlosser family from Ohio, we had a day it seemed that everything just went right. After starting out in the passes we caught lots of under-slotsized snook for the first hour of the trip along with a few trout for dinner.

Once the tide totally quit the bite, as expected, totally stopped in the passes. I picked up anchor and made the move to a favorite wind-blown shoreline hoping the wind would at least move the water a little bit and we could catch a few more snook while waiting on the tide to switch and come in. This bite was just on fire too with lots of little snook and a bite on almost every cast. We also landed one bonus 24-inch redfish in the same hole, so with the trout from earlier their dinner was now easily covered and the pressure was off.

Finally the tide had now started to come in so I moved a few miles further south to another deep mangrove shoreline looking for that one big snook. After catching a few snook in the mid 20-inch range we spotted a huge snook chasing one of our shiners on the surface. The fish followed the bait in circles but just would not eat it.

Making a long cast to a sand hole out from the mangroves, it did not take long for 8-year-old Blake to get slammed.

Blake Schlosser, age eight, from Howard, Ohio with a 41- inch snook he caught and released while fishing with Capt. Matt Mitchell this week

This big snook took off like a freight train. Everyone scrambled to clear their lines as I helped Blake lift and pump the rod as he reeled. The snook, after being out in open water for the first long run, turned and headed right for the trees making one explosive head shake on the edge of the bushes as we struggled to steer it clear.

Once the big fish turned back into the open, Blake had a good chance of landing this pig. After one more big run, the big snook came boatside and gently slid into the waiting landing net. This 41-inch snook was over that magical 20 pounds. We shot a few quick photos and then revived the beast and watched her kick off unharmed.

Blake's dad Matt was next up, hooking a snook of almost the same size on what seemed like the very next cast, to the same sand hole. After a few awesome jumps though, this big fish did make it back to the mangroves and broke the leader. Even so, it was sweet to watch the battle and the impressive jumps. With the sea breeze picking up, the wind direction was now wrong for this shoreline. so with the flood tide finally moving good, we headed out.

During the last hour of the trip we caught lots more undersized snook and a few trout over 20 inches.

This was just one of those trips where every place we fished was just right. For sheer numbers of fish caught it was as good as it gets and a 41-inch snook caught by an 8-year-old to top it all off, I can't think of a charter that could be any better. Thanks, Schlosser family, see you next time.

CROW Case Of The Week:

The New Adventures Of Ozzie And Harriet

by Patricia Molloy

't's not often that a wildlife hospital finds itself caring for a bona fide celebrity.

On the evening of March 17, Florida Fish and Wildlife Service (FFWS) delivered an injured adult male bald eagle that had been found down and depressed on railroad tracks in North Fort Myers to the Sanibel clinic. After a thorough exam, the veterinarians radiographed the bird and determined that the patient, #15-0543, had suffered a broken clavicle (collarbone) on the left side of its chest as the result of blunt force trauma.

During the entrance exam, the veterinarians at CROW noticed that the new patient was missing a talon on his left foot. Based on that highly unusual trait, FFWS was able to provide his identity. His name is Ozzie and he is an Internet star of local origin. He and his mate, Harriet (they were named after the stars of The Adventures of Ozzie and Harriet, a sitcom that ran from 1952 to 1966), are co-stars of their own reality

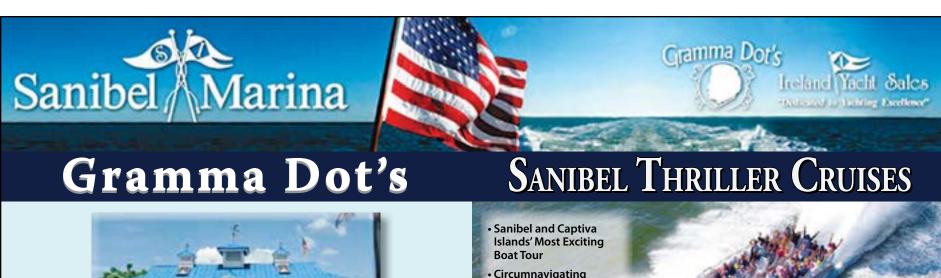

Ozzie is recuperating in an outdoor flight enclosure designed for large raptors

Since 2006, the actively mating pair have maintained a nest in Fort Myers that has been tagged and monitored by FFWS. From a tree-mounted camera placed next to the nest, the Southwest Florida Eagle Cam Foundation livestreams the couple's activities - including the hatching of their nine chicks – to a growing number of dedicated fans. (Go to www.southwestfloridaeaglecam.com.)

"He's doing well now, but he decided to go on a hunger strike for about 24 hours on his second day here. We had to force-feed him a couple of pieces of fish then as soon as we put him back (in his cage), he decided to eat on his own," said continued on page 40

Every three days, Ozzie's wings are gently stretched during physical therapy sessions photos courtesy of CROW

he Clinic for the Rehabilitation of Wildlife (CROW) has some specialty programs available for visitors. Meet the staff and learn what it takes to rescue, rehabilitate and release wildlife in Southwest Florida.

Reservations are required for all programs with a fee. Contact Rachel Rainbolt at rrainbolt@crowclinic.org or 472-3644 ext. 229 to register.

Raptors are groups of birds that prey on other animals in the wild to survive. Their specialized beaks and talons make them some of the most effective hunters. Florida is home to both native and migratory species of raptors. Learn more about these majestic birds.

CROW's teaching hospital offers externship, fellowship and internship opportunities for natural science and veterinary medicine students. While on site, students learn the ins and outs of conservation medicine and wildlife rehabilitation, and share their favorite patient stories.

Saturday, April 4, 2 p.m., free with $5 admission – Baby Care at CROW, presented by a CROW volunteer.

Wildlife parents are devoted to the care of their young and rarely abandon them, and juveniles found "abandoned" might actually be in a natural stage of development. Those that need assistance are placed in a specialized wing of the wildlife hospital and provided supportive care around the clock until they are old enough to care for themselves.

Monday, April 6, 4:15 p.m., free with $5 admission – Speaker Series, The Story of Ospreys, presented by Claudia Burns.

Unlike other birds, ospreys nest right out in the open so it's easy to observe and hear them. Claudia Burns, a 20-plus year nestwatcher for the International Osprey Foundation, uses photos, videos, and recorded vocalizations to explain what ospreys' actions and calls mean.

Visit Lee County Waste To Energy Plant With SCCF

arbage has a life after it leaves your curb. An upcoming field trip for the curious or those that like heavy machinery, hot fires and noisy trucks is sponsored by the Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation. The tour of Lee County's Waste To Energy Plant and Recycling Center is insightful. Big green trucks rumble down the island roads taking away black and white bags that have been dutifully placed at the curb by residents. Once those trucks cross over the causeway, which way do they go?

There is a sense of the huge scale upon which the Waste To Energy plant operates once inside the tipping floor, watching the cranes feed the furnaces. Trucks roll in very few minutes from all over the county. Watchful eyes look over the debris before it is pushed forward by bulldozers and into the bins reached by the cranes. A control room shows cameras from each nook and cranny of the Ear plugs, eye protection and hard hats will be supplied by Covanta, the company operating the plant. It is up to participants to protect their feet. Closedtoed shoes are requested and an indication how close to the action you may get. This complex handles the solid waste for a half million people. It produces enough electricity to be completely self sufficient and sells surplus power to nearby com-

In part two of the trip, watch how separators move recycled milk jugs, cardboard boxes, newspapers and spaghetti jars that come from your single source recycle bins. The way in which it is all sorted is a maze of conveyor belts and machines puffing air. By the time things pass through the over half mile of switchbacks and drop chutes, all of our unwanted receptacles are neatly separated, crunched and bound for Tampa and points north to be reused in some form or another. It is a staggering sight. Learn why we are asked not to bag up our recyclables or put shredded paper, clothing and garden hoses in our bins.

On Thursday, April 9, the tour begins at the facility at 9.30~a.m. The center is located at 10550 Buckingham Road in Buckingham, which is about an hour's drive from Sanibel. Carpooling is recommended. Certified and approved by SCCF's Hammerheads as a great field trip, interested people are asked to call Kristie Anders at 472-2354 for more information and driving instructions. Space is limited; please be courteous and sign up in advance.☆

Bushy Seaside Oxeye

by Gerri Reaves

Tative bushy seaside oxeye (Borrichia frutescens) is an excellent choice for a coastal landscape. Its natural habitat is saltwater wetlands such as salt marshes and brackish swamps. It is also found in swales and ditches.

This wildflower spreads via rhizomes, which stabilize the soil. Typically growing two to four feet tall, it is much broader than tall.

This member of the aster family works well as a groundcover, border or low hedge and provides cover and food for wildlife.

The showy flowers bloom throughout the year and attract a variety of pollinators, such as the great southern white, gulf fritillary, large orange sulphur and southern broken-dash butterflies.

About an inch across, the flowers have bright yellow rays surrounding darker yellow disc flowers. Below each flower is a sharp bract.

The fleshy obovate or spatulate leaves are evergreen and covered with soft hairs. They measure two to four inches long, less than an inch wide, and have pointed tips.

Their silver-green color gives the plant another name, silver sea-oxevedaisy. Bushy seaside tansy is yet another common name.

Plant bushy seaside oxeye in full sun to partial shade and avoid over-watering it. It has moderate drought tolerance and soil-salt tolerance and will survive in a variety of soils and even brackish conditions.

The small dry fruit is four-sided and one-seeded and does not split open at maturity. Propagate this plant with the seeds or with cuttings.

False Angel Wing

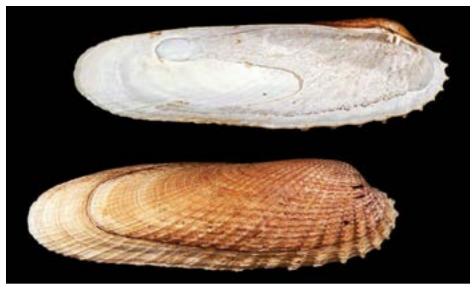

by José H. Leal, PhD, The Bailey-Matthews National Shell Museum Science Director & Curator

member of the venus clam family Veneridae, the false angel wing, Petricolaria pholadiformis (Lamarck, 1818), is so named because of its superficial similarity with the famous angel wing, and the fact that both burrow in compact mud or peat. However, the two species belong in separate families, with the false angel wing sharing its genetic and anatomical features with venus clams. Among other differences between the true and the false angel wings are the size, much smaller (to two inches) in the false angel wing, and the presence of hinge teeth in this latter species. Learn more about the false angel wing at http://shellmuseum.org/shells/shelldetails.cfm?id=274.

ue to popular demand, the Clinic for the Rehabilitation of Wildlife (CROW) will present The Story of Ospreys on Monday, April 6 at 4:15 p.m. in the Visitor Education Center at 3883 Sanibel-Captiva Road.

Ospreys are large brown and white raptors who breed in Southwest Florida from December through April. Because they build their nests right out in the open, their behavior is easy to observe.

But it is not always easy to understand, so presenter Claudia Burns, who has monitored osprey nests for 20-plus years as an International Osprey Foundation volunteer, uses photos, videos and recorded vocalizations to clarify osprey behavior.

Prior to the presentation, visitors are encouraged to explore the Visitor Education Center, which exhibits CROW's efforts to save wildlife through care, education and collaboration and is located across from The Sanibel School.

Because former osprey presentations have been sold out, CROW requires reservations for this reprise, with an admission fee of $5 per person. For more information or to make a reservation, call 472-3644, ext. 228. To learn more about CROW, visit www.crowclinic.org.

Researcher Explores Plight Of Roseate Spoonbill

Dr. Jerry Lorenz with a roseate spoonbill

r. Jerry Lorenz combines Audubon's 80-year record on roseate spoonbill nesting patterns in the Everglades' Florida Bay with his own personal experience studying the fish on which spoonbills feed to construct the story of how the human population explosion in southern Florida has had a multilevel effect on spoonbills.

His two Roseate Spoonbills in Florida Bay: Pink Canaries in a Coal Mine presentations will take place beginning at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m. on Friday, April 10 in the "Ding" Darling Visitor & Education Center on Sanibel.

Lorenz's most recent work banding and tracking spoonbills finally explains why it took so long for spoonbills to recover from plume hunting and why spoonbills in Florida Bay continue to decline while most other wading birds in the Everglades region are increasing.

In 2005, Lorenz became the state research director for Audubon of Florida. He serves as a member of the Florida Keys National Marine Sanctuary Advisory Council and is a founding member of the Florida Oceans and Coastal Resources Council.

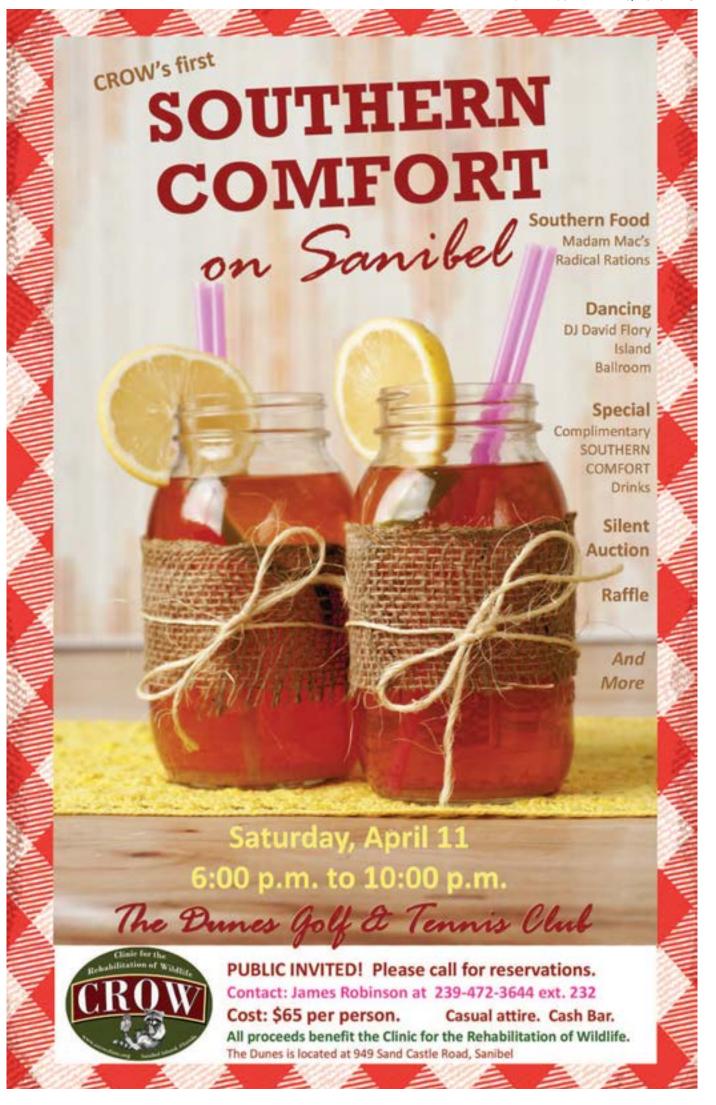

Admission is free to the lectures, which are sponsored by The Sanibel Captiva Trust Company and "Ding" Darling Wildlife Society-Friends of the Refuge (DDWS), as part of a 14-week series.

Future events are listed below; all lectures include two presentations at 10 a.m. and 1 p.m.

As usual, Wildlife Drive is closed on Friday, but visitors are welcome to visit the Visitor & Education Center and the recreational opportunities at Tarpon Bay Explorers, the refuge's official concessionaire located at its Tarpon Bay Recreation Area.

For more information on the lecture series, call 472-1100 ext. 241 or visit www.dingdarlingsociety.org/lectures.

Strauss Extends Hit Musical

Thr cast of Godspell

the season's hit musical, Godspell, will be extended by five more shows in April at the Herb Strauss Theater. The show continues every Tuesday through Saturday at 7:30 p.m. through April 11.

Based on the Gospel According to St. Matthew, the "truly glorious" (Island Sun) production presents an enduring reminder of the power of compassion – and it's a lot of fun.

The Strauss Theater is located at 2200 Periwinkle Way, Sanibel. Tickets are $42 for adults, $5 for students and children, and are available at the theater box office, 472-6862, or online at www.bigarts.org/

Under the direction of Bobby Logue and musical director Christopher Russell, the show tells the story of Jesus' life. From pop to vaudeville, the stories dance across production designer Adam Trummel's imaginative stage, dissolving hauntingly into the Last Supper and the Crucifixion. Through it all, Jesus' messages of kindness, tolerance and love come vibrantly to

"The audiences and the cast alike have so thoroughly enjoyed the show," says Logue, who is also the theater's artistic director, "we had to keep it going, especially the week following Easter – that is what the story is all about, and it's a fun show for the whole family. Now even more families can experience it.

For more information, call 395-0900 or email info@bigarts.org.

The production is presented through special arrangement with Music Theatre International, and is sponsored by 'Tween Waters Inn and Casa Ybel Resort; the theater's 2014-15 season is sponsored by The Sanibel-Captiva Trust Company. Godspell was conceived and originally directed by John-Michael Tebelak, with music and new lyrics by Stephen Schwartz, and was originally produced on the New York stage by Edgar Lansbury, Stuart Duncan, and Joseph Beruh.

Glass Artist And Archaeologist Discuss Calusa

by Jeff Lysiak

uring the Sanibel Historical Museum and Village's annual Calusa Day celebration last Wednesday, island sandblast artist Lucas Century and local archaeologist Theresa Schober discussed how history has depicted the Calusa through genuine artifacts as well as through modern-day artistic interpretations.

"People take away more from one good visual than from any number of statistics or descriptions," Schober told an audience of about 30 people gathered inside the Old Sanibel Schoolhouse. During her 30-minute lecture, the former manager of the Mound House on Fort Myers Beach discussed how working on the Viva Florida 500 celebration two years ago led to the creation of ArtCalusa: Reflections On Representation, a group exhibition featuring Florida's leading historical artists.

In addition to Century's work, other artists within the collaboration include Merald Clark, Charles Dauray, David J. Meo, Theodore Morris, Dean Quigley, Hermann Trappman and Jackson Walker. Their touring exhibit of original paintings, works on paper and etched glass was recently featured at the Collier County Museum.

Each of the artists participating in ArtCalusa has visually interpreted the life and experiences of Florida's indigenous peoples, particularly the Calusa Indians, through their contact with early European explorers. The exhibition also focuses on the dramatic changes in Florida's environment since people first moved to Florida more than 12,000 years ago.

Schober gave a PowerPoint presentation on the depiction of Calusa in artwork, from the period of the earlier Spanish settlers through the modern age. She described the vast differences in how male and female Indians were represented - from varying hairstyles and clothing to the activities they were portrayed participating in.

'Archaeologists look at artifacts with their own sort of filter, while artists look at them in a completely different way,' she said. "But when we bring both of these interpretations together, it's magi-

Back in 2000, Century was contacted by the Florida Museum of Natural History to create a large Calusa-inspired glass mural – four panels 48 inches by 80 inches each - for the entrance to their South Florida Peoples And Environment Exhibit Hall in Gainesville.

"There's a lot of interpretation in my $\operatorname{art}\ldots$ it's more the essence, the spirit of things," said Century, who brought with him half-scale renderings of that project.

The number four is featured prominently throughout his Florida Museum of Natural History mural: In the first panel, four Calusa masks hang in a fig tree, which also includes a woodpecker. A second panel features mangroves, dolphins and an alligator; the third, mullet, sea grasses and a fishing net; the fourth, dragonflies, butterflies and footprints.

Personally, I get a lot of information just by listening to nature," he added.
Following their lectures, Schober and Century fielded several questions from the audience and discussed the purpose of a number of Calusa artifacts on display at the village.

ArtCalusa: Reflections On Representation was underwritten by the College of Life Foundation, Lee County Tourist Development Council, Southwest Florida Community Foundation and Florida Humanities Council. It was the recipient of a 2014 Florida Trust for Historic Preservation Award.

Judges Jim Sprankle, Jaye Boswell and Deborah LaFogg walk through the gallery of entries in the 2015 Florida Junior Duck Stamp contest, staged in the Visitor & Education Center auditorium at the JN "Ding" Darling National Wildlife Refuge refuge manager Joyce Palmer, Alliance for the Arts education director Brandi Couse and wildfowl carver/artist Jim Spankle – collaborated for more than four hours to narrow the field of the top junior duck artists in the state.

"We saw a lot more masked ducks in this year's field of entries," said Becky Larkins, environmental education specialist at the refuge, who oversees the annual contest. "Of course, the mallard, the wood duck and the merganser are always the most popular species featured in the artwork."

According to Larkins, the number of entries submitted this year -3,082 – dropped only slightly from last year's record-breaking total. Of that total, a whopping 1,722 entries were submitted in Group I (Kindergarten through third grade); 949 entries were submitted in Group II (grades four through six); 322 entries were submitted in Group III (grades seven through nine); and 89 entries were submitted in Group IV (grades 10 through 12).

"I was very impressed with the quality of art in the younger age group," said Palmer, a two-time Florida Junior Duck Stamp judge. "The level of talent is very impressive when you consider how realistic the art looks coming from somebody of that age."

Sprankle, who noted that he has "lost count" the number of times he has served as a judge for the contest, commended the refuge staff for helping the Junior Duck Stamp art competition gain national notoriety.

"Everybody here at 'Ding' Darling is doing an amazing job," he said. "I can't believe they got that many entries from all over the state. And imagine... it all started here on Sanibel!"

Boswell, a former art teacher at The Sanibel School, takes great pride in seeing what the contest has become over the years.

"I never imagined in my wildest dreams that it would grow to be this big," said Boswell, who explained that the art competition was initially only open to third graders. "Then every year on the first day of school, all the kids would ask me 'Are we going to do the duck stamp again this year?' Everybody wanted to be a part of it."

While Standard Standa

In the end, the judges selected 13-year-old Mason Theurer's entry the overall Best of Show winner. Other Best of Show winners included Megan Zou (age 14, Group III), Michelle Zou (age 12, Group II), Karalynn Raya (age 18, Group IV), Sawyer Jennings (age nine, Group I) and Jessie Sui (age 15, Group III).

"What we wanted to do was get kids to go outdoors and learn more about wildlife and the environment around them," added Boswell. "That was the original idea behind the contest, and it still is."

Top entries from The Sanibel School included Lindsay Rizzo (age nine, Group I, third place), Julia Lemmon (age eight, Group I, honorable mention), Lauren Macalka (age eight, Group I, honorable mention), Ben Arensman (age 12, Group II, second place), Kianna Toothman (age 11, Group II, second place), Will Lejeune (age 11, Group II, honorable mention), Livia von Wowern (age 11, Group II, honorable mention) and Megan Brown (age not given, Group III, honorable mention).

New Adventures Of Ozzie And Harriet

Dr. Brittany Stevens, DVM intern. After two days in the clinic, he lost weight, a common but concerning development that usually occurs due to stress. Most wild animals that find themselves in captivity – and subjected to the unfamiliar sights, sounds and smells of humans – become frightened, which can trigger weight loss. "He was a little bit down from intake weight," Dr. Brittany added.

Being quite familiar with this type of reaction, Dr. Heather Barron, hospital director, made the decision to give Ozzie a change of scenery. "If he's outside, it is so much easier to keep him clean and he'll have the normal daylight cycle which will help his appetite. We put branches out for him, for low perches."

After a few days in a quiet room in the clinic's ICU, the eagle was indeed moved to an outdoor enclosure that is specifically designed for raptors: large avians like hawks, great horned owls and eagles need plenty of space to extend their expansive wings. Ozzie should begin taking short flights once the fractured bone has healed and the bandages are removed.

In the meantime, he relaxes by perching atop tree branches between feedings and therapy sessions. Every three days, he is carried inside for physical therapy during which his wings are manually extended so that the muscles don't shorten from lack of use.

Ozzie continues to eat well on his own and appears to enjoy the protein-rich meals that are being offered to him at CROW: rats, mice and herring, a fatty fish that helps him maintain a healthy weight.

When word spread that Ozzie had been injured and was being treated at CROW, his fans wanted to know every detail of his progress. "I am receiving over 100 Ozzie emails a day!" exclaimed Kenny Howell, CROW's marketing manager. If you would like to keep up with his progress, go to www.crowclinic.org and look on the Patient Status page. Ozzie's condition is updated regularly.

Monday Night Movie Tracks

by Di Saggau

he BIG ARTS Movie for Monday, April 6 is Tracks, about a young Australian woman who takes on the Australian desert. In 1975, Robyn Davidson came up with a plan to walk across the Australian desert. In her 20s, she was almost universally ridiculed. The 1,700-mile trek from Alice Springs to the Indian Ocean would take six months and, with the exception of four camels and her dog, Davidson would go it

Mia Wasikowska is a perfect fit for the role of Davidson, a woman who spends so much time alone on screen.

Her sweet, sad eyes make her utterly sympathetic and she's also a great physical match for Davidson. The film is an incredible adventure and an uncompromising, tough character study. Tracks, directed by John Curran, introduces the viewer to Davidson in the mid '70s. She describes her disenchantment with the society of other people, and how tired she is of suffering the depredations visited upon "my sex and class." Davidson just wants to be alone with her camels and her beloved dog.

Nobody makes it easy for her. First, she has to learn to train camels. Once she gets everything in order, she realizes she needs some financing so she pitches her journey to National Geographic and they go along with it. But they want one of their photographers to drop in on her periodically to take pictures. He's an amiable fellow named Rick, played by Adam Driver. He's perplexed by Davidson, as are many of the people she encounters during her preparation. "You don't have ommunity Housing and Resources (CHR) will hold its annual membership meeting on Saturday, April 18 from 10 a.m. until noon in the Center 4 Life building at 2401 Library Way, Sanibel. CHR board members and staff will give a presentation about activities over the past year, highlighting successes and giving a vision for meeting future affordable housing needs on Sanibel.

For over 36 years, CHR has been providing affordable housing on Sanibel for full-time island workers and for retired or disabled long-time residents of Sanibel. CHR residents live in modern studio, one-, two-, or three-bedroom units that CHR maintains, totaling 74 properties in 11 locations across Sanibel.

Over the past year, CHR has been able to strengthen its administration of Sanibel's affordable housing program, improving facilities while preparing for future growth as the island's housing needs continue to evolve.

"Annual meetings are probably misnamed," said CHR executive director Kelly Collini. "I like to think of them more as 'annual updates.' It's a chance for our residents and for the public to hear about what CHR has been up to over the past year and about what's next. Plus, islanders get to meet CHR residents and vice versa, which is part of creating the sense of community that CHR stands for."

The business portion of the meeting will be followed by a community potluck luncheon. The public is invited to attend this event. RSVP to CHR by calling 472-

A Pampered Rhino

by Tanya Hochschild

Down from the Pilansberg hill she through the waving grass and the wind to the Mankwe Dam, where she waded into the water sipped from her wide upper lip. Turned on her side she sank into the mud, rolled over, her short, fat legs kneaded the sky, like a kitten suckling her mother. The mud bath coated and cooled her, filled my eyes with her contentment, my heart with the wonder of her gentleness, and the joy of a rhino being a rhino.

On the bank she straddled a rock, massaged her belly backward and forthen rubbed side to side her round each leg in turn, a stretch and a bend, the full treatment.

An assistant in a white coat, a cattle began the final service: pick a tick.

She half-closed her eyes as the bird pecked her forehead, her mouth, under the horn, then shorn of ticks, the egret stood on her client's broad back.

Horn and beak faced forward.

Their rhythms in sync, they climbed back up the hill,

until once more

the veldt's emptiness filled the space at the spa.

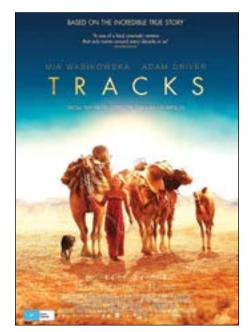

And I, left bereft by this creature, an armored tank when met on the open plain, her horn a scimitar, a threat, and yet...

today she pierced me in a different way, opened me to an aspect of her life, and by so doing made me alive in a way I had not been before.

"Do you want to die out there?" is the question that hangs over Davidson's journey while the audience tries to decipher why a person would give away almost all of her possessions and march across the desert in sandals and a sarong. The setting is breathtaking and captures the stark allure of the landscape so well, there are moments you might almost understand why Davidson chose to go there. The

The Men's Group played A 1,2,3 Tournament last week at Sanibel Island Golf Club. The teams used 1 best ball on the par 5s, 2 best on the par 4s and 3s best on the par 4s.

The winning team of Roger Cogswell, Dick Chocol and Phil Koller got some much needed help from their blind draw, Roger Triftshauser, who helped the threesome's score by 17 shots to put them in a tie for first place with Chuck Bye, Helmut Peters, Rod Verblaauw and Marty Gallagher. The winning team had the better back nine score. Third place went to Mike Zembko, Bill Fetherston, Jerry Mader and Tom Rathbone, who finished just one stroke back.

Sanibel Island Golf Club recently hosted the Women's Club Championship. Prizes were awarded for both gross and net scores for 18 holes and nine holes.

Leading the way for the 18-holers were Sue Belanger and Cecilia Olsson. Belanger, playing in her first club championship, ran away with an 8-shot victory with a two-day gross score of 180. Olsson squeaked out a one shot victory over runner-up Ann Marie Sprotte with a two-day net score was 127.

The 9-holers were led by Debbie Smith and Elle Hoeltgen. Smith's gross total of 99 captured first place and Hoeltgen's impressive net 64 gave her a 7-shot victory.

It's Been 25 Years Since Pete Rose Was Banned From Baseball; Is It Time For Him To Be Reinstated?

bv Ed Frank

ust as spring brings the start of the Major League Baseball season, it seems that nearly every year, the question arises – Should Pete Rose be reinstated in baseball? You may recall that 25 years ago, on August 23, 1989, to be exact, Rose signed an agreement with then-Baseball Commissioner Bart Giamatti that made him "permanently ineligible" from participating in Major League Baseball.

The agreement came after a lengthy probe revealed that Rose had bet repeatedly on the team he was managing, the Cincinnati Reds, and other teams as well. The all-time hits leader also had wagered as a player.

Now, with a new commissioner in office, Rob Manfred, Rose has filed a petition for reinstatement. He has filed such petitions in the past that have been

If you ask 25 people on the street whether Rose should be re-admitted, you'll probably get 25 different answers.

ADO

But the fact is there is a wide circle of fans and players that feel the once-fiery Rose has been punished enough and his ineligibility should be lifted. No question he was a great player, and many feel that still today, he would be a valuable ambas-sador to the game.

It's doubtful, however, that even if he is reinstated he would ever be voted into Baseball's Hall of Fame. There's a special Hall of Fame Committee composed of Hall of Famers, executives and media that meets next year that could consider Rose if he becomes eligible.

But just look at the lowly votes players such as Barry Bonds, Sammy Sosa, Mark McGwire and others – players tainted by the steroid scandal – have received in previous balloting.

To date, all Manfred has said is that he wants to carefully consider the matter and review the facts of the investigation that led to the ban. He is the fifth commissioner since Rose was banned.

There's another matter that must be considered regarding Rose: He has a nearly full-time job in Las Vegas at the Mandalay Bay Hotel & Casino, signing autographs and other memorabilia. Reportedly, it is a lucrative job and he is under contract until 2017.

So how does this casino job fit into his request for reinstatement?

Cincinnati is host to the All-Star Game in July, and the Reds faithful would sure like to have their former player and manager partake in the festivities.

It's certain, however, that Manfred s not going to be rushed into making a decision on Rose.

Playoff-Bound Everblades In First-Place

The streaking Florida Everblades hockey team closes out the regular 2014-15 season playing five of their remaining six games on home ice at Germain Arena.

Florida began the week with a season record of 46-13-2-5, having gone unbeaten in their last 14 games. They finished a seven-game road trip last weekend, capturing 13 of the possible 14 points.

The Everblades host Reading at 7:30 p.m. on Friday and South Carolina on Saturday at 7 p.m. Then they complete the regular season next weekend here against Orlando Friday and Saturday

Florida rides atop the ECHL Eastern Division, three points ahead of Toledo.

If the Kelly Cup playoffs were to begin now, Florida, with the No. 1 seed, would oppose sixth-seeded Orlando in the first round. The Everblades are 8-3-1 against Orlando this season.

Sanibel 8-Ball Pool League

Riegert Winner Of John Earle Memorial Award

ohn Earle shot his final game of 8-ball when the cancer bug halted his play on January 29. He was known for his quiet, deliberate style of play. He was a gentleman in a sport that sometimes attracts less than gentlemen

At the annual Awards Banquet for the Sanibel 8-Ball Pool League held on March 30 at American Legion Post 123, an award was presented to the league's player who most emulated John Earle as a man and a pool player. The first John Earle Memorial Award was won by John Riegert, a member of the Sandycappers.

Bob Buntrock earned top shooter honors by posting an 84 percent winning average for the season. Buntrock also posted the most 4-0 wins for the season. Buntrock, the captain of Bunt's Ball Busters, has led the league as its organizer for eight years.

Tom Walters from the Island Lifers team was named most improved player for the season. Walters raised his shooting average from 33 to 52 percent during the 2014-15 season.

Cash prizes were awarded to the six league teams in the order they finished: Bunt's Ball Busters won $700 for first place; Sandycappers won $600 for second place; Sanibel Café won $500 for third place; Fresh Legion Crew won $400 for fourth place; Island Lifers received $300 for fifth place; and Legion Motley Crew got $200 for sixth place.

Winners of the league's annual singles tournament were also award cash prizes. Terry Ricotta earned $120 for his first place finish. Dave Doane won $100 for second. Jimbo Gaubatz took home $80 for third. John Riegert earned $60 for fourth. Jack Dalton and Doc Lubinski won $40 each for fifth/sixth and Kevin Pottorf and Pete Mindel earned $20 each for their seventh/eighth finish.

Rich Ennis attended the event even though it was past his bedtime

Each of the league's six teams were presented two How To Play Pool books courtesy of Rich Ennis, past winner of both the coveted top percentage shooter and most 4-0 awards. Ennis has decided he's had "enough book learning" and felt he should share his library with other league members. Hopefully, Ennis retains some of the printed knowledge for his play for Bunt's Ball Busters for next season.

League pool ends next Monday when Sanibel meets North Fort Myers in their annual match at Legion Post 123. Sanibel trails the North Fort Myers shooters 3-4 and is looking to tie the series.

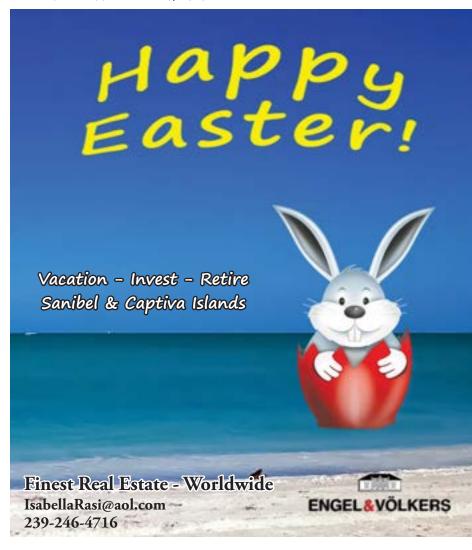

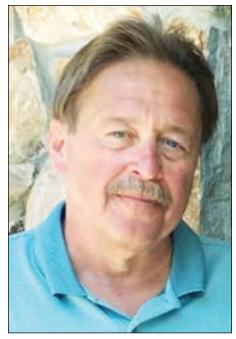

Golf & Jennis Club is one of those unforgettable yet affordable places. The 18-hole championship golf course was masterfully designed by 10-time PGA Tour winner Mark McCumber within a stunning wildlife preserve sanctioned by the Audubon Society. The Dunes also features seven new clay tennis courts, a large refreshing swimming pool, exceptional dining and popular social events that make being a member of the Dunes a lifestyle enhancement.

Volunteer Of The Month

The City of Sanibel Recreation Department recognizes Shirley Bonnert as Volunteer of the Month.

Bonnert is in her second season volunteering at the Center 4 Life reception desk. She assists with membership renewals, activity sign-ins, taking phone calls and greeting patrons. Bonnert's favorite part of being a volunteer is being a part of the Sanibel community. Volunteering gives purpose to her life. She enjoys being able to share some of her time, passions and talents with others in the community. When asked about the Center 4 Life, Bonnert replied, "This is a very busy place and it is well-run by an excellent staff and board."

Bonnert has been actively volunteering on Sanibel for over 15 years at various organizations such as "Ding" Darling, Friends In Service Here, BIG ARTS, Herb Strauss Theater, Community Housing and Resources and St. Isabel Catholic Church. In her spare time, she enjoys bird watching, going to the beach, kayaking and other outdoor petitities.

Volunteer opportunities are now available. For information on joining your friends and neighbors who serve as recreation center volunteers, call 472-

Al and Jan Schwartz

Members Of The Month

The City of Sanibel Recreation Department recognizes Members of the Month Al and Jan Schwartz.

Al and Jan Schwartz have been Sanibel residents since 2004 and Sanibel Recreation Center members since the new facility opened in December 2007. They joined the recreation center to further expand their daily workout routines to include treadmills, ellipticals, free weights and lap swimming. Their favorite aspects of the facility are the expanded hours and the availability to participate in workouts of various types in one day when desired. Since joining, they have noticed that while combining prudent exercise with reasonable diets, there were great reductions in their LDL cholesterol levels and improvements in HDL levels. They said, "While we focus on our exercises, we love the people we meet regularly there and the ambiance of this meticulous, well-equipped facility."

The Sanibel Recreation Center is at 3880 Sanibel-Captiva Road. Daily, weekly, semi-annual and annual memberships are available. For more information, call 472-0345 or visit www.mysanibel.com.

Sanibel Beach Club Designated Certified Guest Service Property

Staff members of Sanibel Beach Club - Donna Sage, Elizabeth Cruz and Eric Ryffel - with the Certified Guest Service Property award

The American Hotel & Lodging Educational Institute (AHLEI) has awarded the Sanibel Beach Club on Sanibel Island the designation of Certified Guest Service Property. To earn the designation, the property's guest contact employees passed AHLEI's Certified Guest Service Professional (CGSP) certification exam.

Sanibel Beach Club is the first property on Sanibel to earn the Certified Guest Service Property designation and the third of the VRI (Vacation Resort International) managed properties to do so. Sanibel Beach Club is a member of the Lee County Visitor & Convention Bureau (VCB), which has set a goal of becoming the first Certified Guest Service Destination. To achieve this goal, all of its members must complete the VCB's Guests First Customer Service Training program, which incorporates training material from AHLEI's Guest Service Gold program and includes the opportunity to earn AHLEI's Certified Guest Service Professional (CGSP) designation.

Sanibel Beach Club is a 31-unit timeshare resort whose patrons include owners, guests, renters, and exchangers. Eric Ryffel, CGSP, property manager, stated that the guest service training and certification has helped him to better understand the varying needs of all types of guests and to serve them more effectively and positively.

"Being a Certified Guest Service Property shows our guests and owners that we understand each and every one of their needs and work diligently to meet those needs," said Ryffel. "We work to find solutions to any problems and then follow through to make sure that everything has been completed to their satisfaction."

PACE Center Raises Over $40,000 At Grande Dames Tea

PACE Board Chair Sandy Stilwell and Grande Dames Mistress of Ceremonies Mei-Mei Chan

ACE Center for Girls of Lee County raised a record $40,395 at the 7th Annual Grande Dames Tea on March 20 at the Broadway Palm in Fort Myers.

Sharlene Hamel Dozier of Fort Myers, M. Jacqueline McCurdy of Bonita Springs and Melvin Morgan of Fort Myers were honored for their roles in Southwest Florida history and their decades of service and helping others. Mei-Mei Chan, The News-Press Media Group president and publisher, once again served as mistress of ceremonies.

Chair of the event was Deanna Hansen with Mary Fischer serving as cochair. Both are members of the PACE Lee Board of Directors.

"These three outstanding women come from varied backgrounds and offered some insightful advice for the audience and the PACE girls," Hansen said. "Our theme of The Wisdom of Age – Honoring the Female Spirit was so appropriate because each of these women had much to share from their own life's journey," Hansen said.

A special theatrical performance by the PACE girls was added this year, titled A Lot Can Happen In a Year, that described the challenges and triumphs they have face in their young lives. The emotional performance was directed by Stephanie Davis and Andi Horowitz.

This is the seventh year of the historic Grande Dames Tea. Previous honorees have included philanthropists Berne Davis, Eleanore Kleist and Barbara B. Mann in 2009; Jeanne Bochette, Helen Hendry and Veronica Shoemaker in 2010; Myra Daniels, Kathleen Nealon and Mimi Straub in 2011; Michel Doherty, Mavis Stinson Miller and Anna "Boots" Tolles in 2012; Thelma Hodges, Helen O'Rourke McClary and Ettie Francis Walsh in 2013; and Barbara Brown, Sarah Sciple and Margaret Sirianni in 2014.

The Grande Dames Tea was originated by PACE Center for Girls of Lee County to honor women who have played major roles in Southwest Florida history through decades of service, philanthropy and helping others.

The agenda for the tea included interaction between the PACE girls and the three Grande Dames, in a question and answer format.

White House/Black Market was the title sponsor of the Grande Dames Tea. Other major sponsors were the Broadway Palm. Edison National Bank and R. S. Walsh Landscaping along with media sponsors Grandeur Magazine and The News-Press Media Group.

ISLAND FARE

Dine Your Way Around Sanibel And Captiva With Anne Mitchell

For more information, check out our advertisers in this week's Island Sun

RESTAURANTS

The variety of dining options on Sanibel and Captiva just keeps getting better. For their size, the islands offer an extensive culinary array - all making the most of the area's fresh and abundant seafood and local produce. You'll find everything from burgers to barbecue, bistro style, Italian, Mexican, American, classic deli fare, organic, vegan, gluten-free, café food and Caribbean.

In this column, each week you will be able to stay updated on our local dining establishments and what they're offering and get the scoop on the island dining scene, whether it's fine or casual, take-out or frozen

AMONG THE FLOWERS CAFE

Among the Flowers Cafe features local and organic vegetarian/vegan fare. Some of the featured items are fresh pressed juices and smoothies, fresh organic coffee and an espresso drink bar, fresh housemade nut milks, raw protein gems and chocolates, organic egg sandwiches and salads, Queenie's local ice cream, local beers and organic/sustainably farmed wines, gluten free bakery with custom layered cakes and complete party catering. You'll also find original art with uplifting messages as well as salt lamps, sage wands, handmade jewelry, T-shirts and gift-baskets.

Open 7 days a week for breakfast, lunch and early dinner until 6 p.m. Call-ahead for to-go orders, or sit outside under a covered deck.

BAILEY'S GENERAL STORE

Bailey's General Store has a full deli, bakery, daily lunch specials, take out and catering for cook-outs, picnics and parties. This is the oldest supermarket on the islands, established long before a causeway linked Sanibel to the mainland.

The bakery has freshly made donuts, scones and breads. The deli offers a variety of hot foods for breakfast, lunch and dinner, as well as catering services for special events. Services include shopping for your groceries and delivering them to your home or vacation destination. If you are on a gluten-free diet, pick up the extensive list of gluten-free products near the entrance to the supermarket.

The Coffee Bar at Bailey's serves espresso based drinks, hot chocolate, smoothies and specialty coffees.

BEACH PIEZ

Beach Piez New York style pizza offers carry out and delivery on Sanibel and Captiva. Hours are Monday through Saturday from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Sunday 12 p.m. to 8 p.m. With fresh ingredients, mouth watering mozzarella, "secret recipe" dough and homemade pizza sauce, Beach Piez will deliver the best pizza the island has to offer. Jim Green at Doc Ford's Rum Bar & Grille

BLUE GIRAFFE

Blue Giraffe serves breakfast, lunch and dinner from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. This restaurant offers casual island dining seven days a week from a menu featuring fresh local seafood, chowders, salads and steaks. Besides dessert choices, you can get hand-dipped Edy's Grand Ice Cream.

Dine outside on the boardwalk or inside at handpainted tables decorated by a local artist, or sit at the full liquor bar for a mixed drink, glass of wine or cold beer.

CIP'S PLACE

Cip's Place is named for the late Jimmy Cipriani, a longtime islander and owner of the property on which the restaurant sits. Jimmy always made time for a good conversation, good company and great food. In Jimmy's memory, Cip's styles itself as a local watering hole. A mural that takes up an entire wall shows lots of islanders through the ages – including Cip – and if you don't recognize them all, ask to see the "key."

Food choices range from "comfort" to culinary with some Caribbean and island favorites as well. And do try the home-made potato chips, the fried buttermilk chicken with sage gravy and the snapper tacos.

Choose between the outdoor garden patio or front porch. Indoor seating and full bar are also available. Hours are 11:30 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. daily with happy hour from 4 to 6 p.m.

CHIP'S SANIBEL STEAKHOUSE

Chip's Sanibel Steakhouse has many great options for locals and tourists alike. It is open seven nights a week with daily happy hour from 5 to 6 p.m., featuring two-for-one drinks and $4.95 appetizers. For early diners, there's a three-course prix fixe menu for $35 including a cocktail. In addition to an updated wine list, seasonal house-infused liquors such as strawberry-jalapeño tequila, blood orange vodka and cucumber gin are available.

The menu features steaks and seafood, including a six-ounce filet mignon topped with jumbo lump crabmeat finished with Hollandaise and served with of asparagus and choice of potato; Parmesan-crusted seabass served with mushroom risotto and finished with a creamy dill sauce. Save room for dessert though, because whether you are a chocolate lover or Key lime pie fan, Chip's has something for every sweet tooth.

CROW'S NEST AT 'TWEEN WATERS INN

The Crow's Nest at 'Tween Waters Inn is a more casual place than its sister the Old Captiva House. It's home to the famed Captiva Crab Races on Mondays and Thursdays and is a popular venue for live entertainment on Fridays and Saturdays.

There is a nightly happy hour.

DOC FORD'S RUM BAR & GRILLE

Doc Ford's Rum Bar & Grille is named for the Doc Ford character in local author Randy Wayne White's best-selling mystery novels.

Fittingly, seafood dominates the menu, although other options are offered as well. The Green Flash is easily navigable by boat and is located southwest of Marker 38 on the Intracoastal Waterway.

Hours are daily from 11:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. for lunch and 5:30 to 9:30 p.m. for dinner.

He infuses flavors from the old world to the new world of cooking using only fresh seasonal ingredients to bring his dishes to life. Daily specials focus on pairing authentic meals with a bold array of fine Italian wines.

Il Tesoro (The Treasure) serves dinner seven nights a week from 5 to 10 p.m.

ISLAND COW

The Island Cow is a family favorite with its colorful indoor and outdoor seating and live entertainment. "Come as our guests… leave as our friends!" is the motto. The Cow serves breakfast, lunch and dinner featuring fresh local seafood and meats and has an extensive children's menu. Starbucks coffee is also on the menu.

Breakfast is served between 7 and 11 a.m. Hours are 7 a.m. to 10 p.m.

JACARANDA

The Jacaranda Restaurant & Patio Lounge is a Sanibel mainstay, with a reputation for fine seafood and steaks. Dinner is served year-round Monday through Sunday. You can eat inside or outside on the pretty patio with its fairy lights and tropical vegetation.

During The Jac's Summer Break, Monday through Thursday, choose an appetizer, entree and dessert from the featured menu for just $30. Wine specials are also offered, along with the featured drink, The Jacaranda Sangria.

The Jac Bar has live music six nights and is the unofficial HQ for Sanibel's social scene. The patio lounge menu includes a selection of "happy apps" for $5.95 and half price drinks during happy hour, 5 to 7 p.m. There is also a raw bar.

JERRY'S RESTAURANT AND DELI

Jerry's Restaurant and Deli in Jerry's Market is the next best thing to dining in a tropical garden. This family-style restaurant has large windows to view the lush garden with caged tropical birds that are favorites with visitors and residents. Daily specials are offered in the spacious restaurant and you can order a sandwich or hot food from the deli or help yourself at the well-stocked salad bar to take out.

The restaurant is open for breakfast, lunch and dinner from 6 a.m. to 8:30 p.m.

LAZY FLAMINGO

The Lazy Flamingo is a famed island hang-out with two Sanibel locations: one at 1036 Periwinkle Way, the other – the original – at 6520 Pine Avenue, near Blind Pass. "If our seafood were any fresher, we would be serving it under water!" is the Flamingo's motto. And that includes, shrimp, grouper, oysters, conch fritters and chowder as well as chicken.

The Flamingo Bread and the Caesar Salad are signature items. Pull up a stool to the rustic bar or take a high or low table. The interior feels like the inside of an old pirate ship with its portholes and hewn wood surfaces. The atmosphere is definitely casual and beer is available by the bottle, on draft or by the pitcher.

LIGHTHOUSE CAFE

Sanibel's popular breakfast and lunch restaurant on the east end also serves dinner from December 15 until the end of April. Owner Mike Billheimer, Sanibel native and member of a family operating one of Sanibel's first restaurants back in the 1950s, took over this legendary cafe in 1988 and has been mentioned in Gourmet, Bon Appetit, Country Living, Southern Living magazines for their outstanding food quality and service. Try one of the selections of eggs Benedict, homemade wholewheat granola hotcakes or one of the three-egg omelets.

The French toast is made with a rich custard batter and real French bread. Breakfast is served until 3 p.m. The most popular lunch item is the fresh, local grouper sandwich served crunchy fried, chargrilled, blackened, sautéed or broiled. Open 7 days. Call ahead seating for breakfast and lunch, and reservations accepted for dinner.

MUCKY DUCK

The Mucky Duck may well be the most famous restaurant on Captiva due to its longevity and quirky name. Then there's the fabulous sunsets. Patrons gladly wait on the beach for tables. This place draws crowds – sipping cocktails and beverages until they can take their seats. Reservations are not accepted.

The Duck is open for lunch and dinner, serving fresh seafood, pub-style food, sandwiches, steaks and other items

Executive Chef Jason Miller prepares New Florida island favorites, tropical seafoods, classic meats and daily fresh-baked breads and pastries, served with an extensive selection of wines, liquors and coffees.

First built as a one-room school for children of Captiva's pioneer settlers, the Old Captiva House still reflects much of its original charm – from white French doors to hardwood floors to the Gulf of Mexico sunset that streams through the western windows. Its collection of famed cartoonist JN "Ding" Darling's 1930s whimsical vacation illustrations has led to its designation as a landmark in Southwest Florida.

Try the Black Betty, a warm, dark chocolate cupcake filled with liquid dark chocolate, sprinkled with sea salt flakes and confectioners sugar.

In addition to the regular menu, specials are offered daily. There's an attractive bar and lounge area that also serves food and an extensive wine and cocktail list. Dining begins at 5 p.m. and continues until late. Reservations are suggested.

School Smart

by Shelley M. Greggs, NCSP

Shelley, My fifth grade son, who is gifted, is not at all challenged at school. He does not have to study and finishes all his work without any effort. I know this does not sound like a problem but it is because he is not enjoying school, not learning how to study, nor how to apply himself to complete difficult tasks. I don't know how to help him with this situation. What can be done?

Jennifer P., Estero, Floirda Jennifer,

This is not an unusual situation for a gifted student. Many students who are gifted already know the information presented to them at school. While many people do not think that gifted students need guidance, in fact they do. The needs of many gifted children are largely overlooked, some educational experts say. There is a pervasive myth that gifted kids will be fine on their own," said Jane Clarenbach, director of public education at the National Association for Gifted Children (NAGC).

The NAGC estimates that there are about three million academically gifted students in the United States and most of these children spend at least 80 percent of their time in regular education class-rooms. Many of these students already know as much as half of the material being covered at school, and the majority of their teachers have no specialized training in education for the gifted, according

"The most common problem is that they don't learn to work," said Maureen Neihart, a clinical child psychologist and coauthor of the book The Social and Emotional Development of Gifted Children. Children who earn good grades and high praise with relative ease may not learn how to try hard and to persevere when things are difficult. They begin to link their academic success with innate intelligence and fail to understand the role that consistent work and effort plays in achievement. When schoolwork finally becomes demanding, usually in high school or college, they are often in for a shock and may lack the determi-nation and self-confidence to succeed, Neihart said.

This places them at risk for underachievement that can become a significant problem for these children. Some refuse to do the work that is asked of them; others rebel against school. Boys are two to three times more likely to underachieve than girls. Some students act out to make things more interesting, including becoming hostile toward their teachers and peers. Others melt into the woodwork in an attempt not to be noticed. In the most severe cases, children can develop school phobias, anxiety, or depression.

"The best learning takes place when you have to reach - and have the supports to make the grab. We improve when we work at the edge of our competence, not when we stay in our comfort zone," Neihart said.

Parents who suspect that their child is gifted should trust their judgment about their child's abilities and approach the school to determine specifically what the child's needs are and how they can be met. It is best to start by talking to the child's teachers and move on to the principal if necessary. You may also want to provide challenging opportunities outside of school as well to help develop motivation and skills for achievement.

For more information on underachieving gifted students visit http://www.nagc.

Will Power

Don't Major in 'Pre-Law'

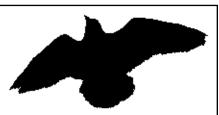

by Craig R. Hersch, Florida Bar Board Certified Wills, Trusts & Estates Attorney; CPA

The Dartmouth college newspaper recently reported that in 2014, 120,000 students matriculated into law schools, which is the smallest class since 1987 and a seven percent decline from 2013. This is likely a reflection of the oversupply of lawyers throughout the country. Yet there are many who still aspire to the degree.

Since I now have two college-aged daughters, I am often asked by their friends (who one day hope to become lawyers) whether they should, as an undergraduate in college, major in pre-

Barrier Island Title Services, Inc. (239) 472-3688 "You'll Appreciate the Difference"

sis & esidies Alloine law.

I always tell them "No!"

Before being accepted into and attending law school in the United States, one must first earn an undergraduate degree. The degree can be in anything, so long as it is earned at an accredited institution. Many colleges and universities now offer a "pre-law" curriculum designed to attract undergraduate students who plan to attend law school.

I advise against an undergraduate degree in pre-law because I believe that it doesn't provide a solid foundation in a base knowledge that is necessary to become a better practicing lawyer. Further, I believe that a pre-law degree doesn't give the student any more than what he or she will learn during their first year of law school. A pre-law major, for example, will likely take courses in introductory research, writing and reasoning classes, philosophy of law and courses covering the makeup of our government and constitutional systems.

First year law students get all of that and more as they are required to complete courses in contracts, torts, jurisprudence (history of the law), research and writing, constitutional, criminal, civil procedure, and property law. The second and third year of law school allow the student to take "electives" where they can learn certain specialty areas, which is very important today, since law, like most occupations is highly specialized.

You don't find many "general practitioners" any more, as most attorneys concentrate their practices in one field or another such as estate planning, tax, real estate, business organizations, civil litigation, intellectual property, and family practice.

If one wants to become a tax or estate planning attorney, for example, it would be far better as an undergraduate to major in accounting or business so that the student will have a frame of reference for the complex income, gift, estate, business, and trust laws that they will encounter in practice. Many attorneys who practice intellectual property law (patents, trademarks and copyrights) have an engineering degree which helps them understand the complexities of their clients' inventions. One of my law school classmates was a physician who went into medical malpractice law.

Other undergraduate majors that aren't occupational specific serve better than pre-law in the lead in to law school. English and literature majors, for example, become proficient in reading, analyzing and expressing thoughts through superior written communication skills. Some of my classmates who were tapped to write for the prestigious Florida Law Review were English majors as undergrads.

The problem with what I am recommending is that it asks an 18- or 19-year-old not only to commit to a path that leads to law school, but also to commit to a specific type of law. Most young people coming out of high school have no idea where their career interests may lie.

GORGEOUS BAY FRONT HOME

One good way to look at obtaining an undergraduate degree that provides certain definable skills is that if the individual changes their mind about going to law school, at least they will have a solid undergraduate degree in something worthwhile. Where is a pre-law degree going to take you if you either can't get into law school or don't want to go after your undergraduate years? Perhaps it would be a good background to work as a paralegal or in law enforcement, so if that's your fall back, then that could work.

A varied undergraduate degree will also help the student land their first job. As an estate planning lawyer, when I am looking to add an associate lawyer in my office, I'll likely look for a candidate who has an accounting or business background. In my field of work, I feel that a candidate with such a background will likely hit the ground running faster than someone with a pre-law undergraduate degree.

Equally important to the undergraduate degree is the course work that the student selects in their second and third years of law school. Most law schools offer a wide variety of electives for the second and third years, allowing students to specialize their education into a given field.

There are many choices out there. If one is crazy enough to want to earn a law degree and then go out and practice law, I hope that I have provided some valuable insight.

FSW Dedicates Community Room

he Florida SouthWestern State College Foundation dedicated The Carl and Diana Grissom Community Room on the Thomas Edison (Lee) Campus on Tuesday, March 17. The College dedicated AA-177, a multi-purpose room, in honor of Sanibel Island residents Carl and Diana Grissom after the couple made a generous gift to the FSW Foundation.

"The foundation was very proud to accept the gift from the Grissoms to benefit the FSW Faculty Development Center, a place where our faculty can meet and share new ideas," said Dr. Louis Traina, vice president of institutional advancement at FSW.

"This gift will go a long way towards the FSW President Jeff Allbritten, FSW Foundation Board Chair Tammy Surratt, Carl Grissom, Diana Grissom, daughter Carly Schwartzel, and Vice President of Institutional Advancement Louis Traina continued education and development of our faculty. Everybody who comes here will be able to realize how much Carl means to this institution and how his generosity will go a long way," said FSW President Jeff Allbritten.

Grissom, a financial representative with Northwestern Mutual Financial Network, first moved to Lee County in 1979. Besides having served on the FSW Foundation Board of

"I have always believed in education," said Grissom. "When you see progress and hear about the needs, you want to give because you know how it helps our community.

Habitat Marks Anniversary Of Women Búild

or the fifth year in a row, hundreds of women in Lee County will kick off their stilettos for steel-toed shoes and help rehab two homes, for two families, in two weeks. This year will mark 10 families who have been given a hand up through the Women Build program of Habitat for Humanity of Lee and Hendry counties. Women Build is an initiative to encourage women to take action against poverty housing conditions by recruiting, educating and inspiring women to build and advocate for - simple, decent and affordable homes in their communities.

Over the last five years, 1,263 Women Build donors raised $425,320 for Habitat

for Humanity of Lee and Hendry counties and 737 volunteers contributed 2,878 hours to rehab eight homes for families

"I realized how important affordable housing was when I began to see the rental rates for a single family home increase to an average of $1,000 a month in my real estate career. The rising rates put home ownership out of the reach of families, especially single mothers. I knew I had to do something to make a difference, and Women Build has given me that platform. I continue to volunteer for Women Build every year to give back to hard-working moms in our community," says Jeannie Steidel, Women Build 2015 captain for the Dream Team, and a realtor with ReMax Realty Group. "The impact it has on the children is worth it alone, we are creating a place where they can feel safe and call home," she adds.

In Lee County, over 17,000 families spend more than 40 percent of their income for rent. Many are forced to move often, requiring children to change schools and lose academic momentum. Habitat provides decent homes for qualified low-income families with zero percent mortgages. Mortgage payments are set at 30 percent or less of family income, keeping the home affordable.

The women of Women Build have changed my family's life. My son and I now live in a safe, welcoming neighborhood, thanks to the hard work of many women through the course of the Women Build process. My son now has a yard where he can play freely without me worrying about his safety. I am so grateful to Habitat for Humanity of Lee and Hendry Counties and the Women Build program for giving us this opportunity. I have been so inspired by the work of the volunteers who came together to make aylor Maze, the chief climber for Blades Tree Service, hangs upside down from a complex web of climbing ropes. With a grin, he flips himself upright grabs one of the ropes and zips down to the ground. Taylor will be quick to tell anyone who asks, "I love my job!"

Blades Tree is an island-owned and operated business that's only been around for a couple of years. But they're looking to do things differently. While Blades prunes and removes trees of all types and sizes, they have a special fondness for palms. And if pressed to tell you what tree he likes to climb the most, Taylor will say it's the tall coconut palms.

Blades is the only tree service on Sanibel-Captiva using a unique "spikeless" pruning method. Blades climbers Taylor and Cory Wilson make their way up the tallest of palms without using spikes on their boots. Jim Ballinger, who runs Blades, explains, "Spikes cause irreparable damage to the palm tree. Because palms aren't actually trees, they can't heal damage to their trunks. So every hole left from climbing spikes remains for the life of the palm, making it more vulnerable to insects and disease." In addition, Jim notes, 'Spike holes are just really ugly."

Instead of spikes, Taylor and Cory use ropes and tree stands. This allows them to literally stand next to the tree - 40 to 80 feet in the air - with both hands free for pruning. Once they finish pruning, they use ropes to zip to the ground (along with the stand) in mere seconds. It's a lot of fun to watch, and Taylor and Cory will tell you it's one reason they have the best job in the world. In addition, this method allows Blades to access the tallest palms, including those in tight spaces that bucket trucks can't reach.

Blades Tree believes it's important to stay informed on the latest climbing and pruning techniques. The Blades team dedicates at least a week every year to hands-on training sessions held around the country. They'll be the first to admit they're new to the business, but Jim Ballinger adds, "We're always looking to do things better, to learn the best pruning techniques for the health of the trees. This is particularly important for palms, because if you prune one the wrong way or too aggressively, it can affect its health and lifespan.

Blades also believes in giving back to the islands, committing time each month to provide services to those in need.

If you're interested in meeting the Blades team, or getting a free demonstration of their spikeless pruning method, call 472-9999. To learn about spikeless trimming, and see some pictures of

Bank Donates $1,200 To BIG ARTS

Bank of the Islands recently made its latest non-profit donation through its We Love Our Islands program. The winners choosing the beneficiary organization was bank customers Nancy and James Goodwin. They were spotted with a We Love Our Islands decal on their car. That won the Goodwins the right to select which local non-profit group would receive a charitable contribution from the bank.

The Goodwins chose BIG ARTS as the recipient of the bank's $1,200 donation. This gift marks a total of $62, 300 Bank of the Islands has contributed to island organizations to date through the We Love Our Islands program.

"It is amazing the sophisticated artistic programs and cultural offerings BIG ARTS produces for our relatively small barrier island community," said Bank of the Islands Sanibel-Captiva office manager Willy Ocasio. "The bank has been a proud sponsor of the BIG ARTS Film

A Little Wisdom About Our Smart Devices

by Ross Hauser, MD and Marion Hauser, MS, RD

Te all love our cell phones, tab-lets and mobile devices. From children to teenagers, middleaged adults to seniors, all of us enjoy the benefits, fun and conveniences these mobile devices offer. The problem is that we don't want to put them down.

The information overload from our devices has actually been linked to depression and anxiety, especially when overly attached or using multiple devices at once. Give your brain a break and power off the device. Consider putting it away in a drawer for a few hours, or choose to not look at it after a certain time in the evening or for a few hours in the morning.

There's more. Next time you're out, notice all the heads down, necks and shoulders hunched over cell phones. This forward and curved posture actually causes health issues such as headaches, neck pain, shoulder pain and more. Dr. Dean Fishman, a chiropractor in Plantation, Florida, coined the phrase "text neck" to describe this condition.

Texting isn't the only culprit. We also spend hours hunched in front of our computers, tablets, readers, media players and games. Here's what happens: As the head moves forward from the shoulders, the center of gravity changes, causing an increase in pressure on the musculature over the head and shoulders due to the downward angle and weight of the head. Can you believe the head weighs about 10 pounds? The more the head shifts forward, the greater the pressure around the neck area. This pressure also increases when in this head forward posture for prolonged periods of time. The frequent and prolonged flexion of the neck causes changes in the cervical spine, the curve of the neck and the structures that support the neck. This can cause neck pain and can eventually lead to arthritic degeneration of the cervical spine.

Prevention is key. Try holding your phone at eye level. Take breaks from your digital devices, along with practicing good ergonomics at home and at the office. For those who use a computer throughout the day, investing in a standing unit can help keep the spine in better alignment and relieve unnecessary pressure on the body.

our dream come true," says Vanessa our dream come true," says Vanessa Saez, 2014 Women Build homeowner.

The local initiative coincides with Mother's Day for its significance as families with children make up a staggering number of those in need of adequate housing. Work on the homes is scheduled to begin April 25 and continue through May 8, pending the fundraising goal of $100,000 is achieved. Rehab work will be completed in time for dedication of the homes on Saturday, May 9, when keys are turned over to the new owners.

During Women Build 2015, homes will be rehabbed in San Carlos Park and Cape Coral

During National Women Build Week May 2 to 9, Habitat affiliates across the nation join with women from all walks of life to address the housing crisis that has resulted in more than 12 million children living in poverty conditions in the United States.

Local women are needed to help raise $100,000 to fund the rehab of the two homes and to provide womanpower (men are welcome, too) for the construction.

Lee Memorial Named Among Best

Healthgrades representative Christopher Lee, left, presents Donna Giannuzzi, chief administrative officer of HealthPark Medical Center, Lisa Sgarlata, chief administrative officer of Lee Memorial Hospital, and Jim Nathan, president of Lee Memorial Health System, with the Healthgrades 2015 America's 50 Best Hospitals Award

ee Memorial Hospital and HealthPark Medical Center have received the Healthgrades 2015 America's 50 Best Hospitals Award, a distinction that places them in the top one percent of hospitals nationwide. This is the second consecutive year that Lee Memorial Hospital and HealthPark Medical Center have received this prestigious recognition.

Healthgrades, a leading online resource for comprehensive information about physicians and hospitals, evaluates nearly every hospital in the nation (over 4,500 hospitals), and no hospital can opt in or opt out, nor can they pay to be evaluated.

"We are proud to be recognized among the best in the nation for consistently providing safe, quality care," said Jim Nathan, president and CEO of Lee Memorial Health System. "This achievement is a testament to the extraordinary care that our team of physicians, employees and volunteers provide and the lasting contribution they are having on the community's health through achieving excellent outcomes.'

Being in the top one percent means patients of Lee Memorial Hospital and HealthPark Medical Center are less likely to experience medical or surgical complications, and have the best chances for survival during and after hospitalization.

Healthgrades America's 50 Best designation recognizes hospitals for consistent clinical excellence and exhibiting consistent superior performance in clinical outcomes for patients across a broad spectrum of care. Hospitals that have achieved this distinction set a clear and formal framework for improving quality which allows teams to evaluate and build on success, and quality is embedded in their culture.

Other hospitals in the top one percent include the Mayo Clinic and New York

Dear Mom & Me,

I am fed up with cell phones or the poor manners of their users. Everywhere I go, people have them at their ear: grocery shopping, offices, churches, restaurants and, of course, driving on the interstate at 75 miles an hour.

My bridge club is also fed up and they penalize players when their phones ring.

The other day I was at a small business meeting. Their phones were constantly ringing. Others just had their signal on vibrate but would leave the meeting and go and return the call. There was a five- or 10-minute delay in which nothing could be accomplished in their absence.

Verna

Dear Verna.

I think it will only get worse if that is possible.

Yesterday, a friend told me her husband decided for a special treat to take their two sons to a very posh golf course for a day of fun and relaxation.

As the first son went to tee off on the first hole, his phone rang. He stopped, answered the phone and went over to the side. His father went over and when the call was finished he told him "turn that damned thing off – we're here to relax." As they approached the hole, he saw his other son in the rough talking on his phone, so the father went over and told him the same thing. The father was furious, and the day was not as he had planned.

When four-year-olds arrive at day care with their phones in their pockets to call mummy at their break, I can't see it ever ending, but we won't be here to be annoyed!

Dear Verna,

I agree there are a lot of cell phone users with poor manners... myself included. I have recently noticed businesses are fighting back. Some fast food restaurants are refusing to take orders unless one is off the phone. The clerk at the post office refused to wait on me because I was listening to voicemail. She served the person behind me. My friends' kids are driving them nuts with their constant texting. The one that gets me is texting and talking on the cell phone at the same time. I do not think cell phones will be going away any time soon, but maybe cell phone manners will improve... including my own.

A Few Thoughts On Outdoor Decorating

by Marcia Feeney

Your outdoor space should accommodate all your needs throughout the year. Do you entertain outdoors? Make sure that there will be enough seating for your larger parties.

Do you spend time outdoors in the evenings and at night? Make sure that you have adequate lighting and bug control included in your plan. Is the outdoor grill seasonal for you or all year-round? Where you place the grill and whether it has a protective roof will make a difference, depending on how you use it. Do you plan to have your family meals outdoors often? If so, make sure that your dining area comfortably accommodates your family and then some.

Outdoor furniture has greatly evolved from the folding, vinyl strap versions of the past, to beautiful pieces made of teak, steel, rattan and wicker. Many pieces look just like indoor furniture but are constructed and designed to stand up to the outdoor elements.

Fabrics are being manufactured to resist fading from ultraviolet rays, to resist mildewing from damp conditions and to resist odor absorption. These types of fabrics are a must for any upholstery or drapery that will be used outdoors or in a screened-in location.

Lighting is also a very important aspect in creating an inviting outdoor space. Be sure you incorporate various types of lighting in your outdoor space just as you would in your indoor spaces. Landscape lighting, overhead lighting, ceiling fans or decorative side lighting are good ideas. Developing a creative lighting plan can help you create a space with increased ambiance and functionality.

Remember to create a space that is perfect for you and your needs. This is a space where memories will be made so consider it an important investment. I like to call an investment like this an emotional anchor: a space where your family gathers, shares and remembers forever.

Got A Problem? Dr. Connie Is In

by Constance Clancy

Q: We are in a debate with our college age son about drinking alcohol and how much is too much. Are there any guidelines we can give him?

A: Alcohol is a big part of many people's lives socially and in cultural family traditions. But when does alcohol become too much that it leads to dependency?

One is at risk and should get help or talk with a doctor or therapist if these criteria are met:

- 1. A female who has more than three drinks at a time or more than seven drinks in one week. A standard drink is one beer, one glass of wine or one mixed drink.
- 2. A male who has more than four drinks at one time or more than 14 drinks per week.

Certain behaviors may mean that you're having trouble with alcohol. These include:

- Drinking in the morning, often being drunk for long periods of time, or drinking alone.
- Changing what you drink, such as switching from beer to wine because you think it will help you drink less or keep you from getting drunk.

Feeling guilty after drinking.

- Making excuses for your drinking or doing things to hide your drinking, such as buying alcohol at different stores.
- Not remembering what you did while you were drinking (blackouts).
- Worrying that you won't get enough alcohol for an evening or weekend.

H. Pylori, Probiotics And Autoimmune Disease

by Suzy Cohen, RPh

Readers: A lot of you suffer from disturbing problems such as diarrhea, constipation, gas, belching, bloating, nausea, reflux, esophagitis, stomach ulcers and fatigue related to anemia. These symptoms might be tied to H. pylori, the ulcer bug. Complications of untreated Helicobacter pylori (H. pylori) lead to severe reflux, dysphagia, peptic ulcer disease, stomach cancer and gastric lymphoma.

Without a pill to fix you, this leaves little hope for relief, even if you're restricting yourself to chicken soup and a glass of water! It's clear to me we need something other than conventional treatments and pharmaceuticals which have limited effectiveness and adverse reactions.

H. pylori can easily survive stomach acid, in fact it thrives in it. People often look surprised when I tell them that H. pylori can infect you all over, and plays a role in the pathogenesis of rheumatoid arthritis, ITP (idiopathic thrombocytopenic purpura), Hashimoto's thyroiditis and iron deficiency anemia.

Treating H. pylori is tough. Today, the standard of treatment is dubbed "triple therapy" and includes two antibiotics (usually amoxicillin and clarithromycin) along with a PPI (proton pump inhibitor like omeprazole). Unfortunately, there's a high rate of relapse. You can improve your odds of beating this infection if you take probiotics. More on that soon, but first, I want you to really wrap your head around this destructive pathogen.

H. pylori causes mineral malabsorption and vitamin B12 deficiency which contributes to dementia, irritability, memory loss, arrhythmias and hypothyroidism. The mere presence of H. pylori activates your immune system causing it to stay on guard 24/7 and that pours a cytokine waterfall of inflammatory compounds all over your body. Then you become flooded with antibodies. The immune system activation appears to stir up bad superantigens and molecular mimicry which confuse your body. It will cause you to lose "tolerance of self" so you attack yourself. You develop an autoimmune disorder which can be different for everyone. Lupus for you, rheumatoid for her, Crohn's for him, and so forth. Infections combined with genetic SNPs are often the root cause of an autoimmune disorder.

Recently, researchers evaluated 33 different trials that involved 4,459 participants with H. pylori. They wanted to know whether probiotics had any beneficial effect. They compiled statistics on three groups: People who took a dud pill (placebo), people who took antibiotics (triple therapy), and people who took probiotics with their antibiotics.

Individuals who had taken probiotics with the triple therapy had a much higher success rate in treating the H. pylori overgrowth and experienced fewer adverse events. In fact, it helped people who had already done the antibiotic course unsuccessfully. Four probiotic strains stood out: Lactobacillus acidophilus, Lactobacillus casei, Lactobacillus gasseri, and Bifidobacterium infantis. This is so awesome and it's simple. Taking a probiotic supplement with these strains (about four to six hours after your antibiotic) may ultimately beat this infection. I've posted a longer version of this article at my website if you'd like to learn more about soothing symptoms while treating the infection.

Business Presentation? Enhance Focus

by Karen L. Semmelman, Certified EEM. JD, AAML (03-12)

he audience was primed for an engaging presentation by a national speaker, but within several minutes, many began yawning, fidgeting and pulling snacks from their bags. Sound familiar? From an energy view, this person's energies were scrambled deep in the brain and thus he was energetically scrambling the entire audience, so they couldn't focus on the words even though they wanted to. At workshops, I frequently demonstrate this effect by having a person read several words forwards (they will "test" weak energetically) and then read backwards (they test strong). Of course we want to be strong when reading forwards, not backwards. I also test three others to show how they are strong energetically before reading begins but after the words are spoken, their energies

So, before a presentation or task that requires focus, i.e., to a group, teaching a course, talking to your boss, preparing for an exam, beginning a new painting, or learning to windsurf, try this exercise and the one next week - Wayne Cook. The Crown Pull brings cerebral fluid into the head so you may think more clearly, focus your attention. As a comment, my husband, a law professor, does this exercise before each class.

• Place thumbs at temples, fingers in middle forehead. Stretch fingers across forehead to meet fingers at temples.

 Place fingers of both hands at the hairline on the suture that runs from the forehead over top and back of head. With pressure, pull fingers apart from the midline of head toward outside of head, about two inches on each side.

• Continue moving fingers on the suture line over top head, back head, neck and then back of shoulders.

• Dig fingers into back shoulders while inhaling deeply. Pull fingers across shoulders with pressure.

You will feel a slight buzzing on and in your head — your energies are now set to engage the audience. Deep focus is further enhanced by the exercise you will learn next week.

FOR WEEK OF APRIL 6, 2015

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You might be upset about having to deal with problems that are no fault of your own. But you can turn the annoyance into an asset by showing how quickly and how well you can resolve them.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) The Bovine's fondness for tidiness pays off when you untangle a situation that seems hopelessly snarled. You might later be surprised to learn who will be expressing his or her gratitude.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Although you can tackle your assignment the way you prefer, it might be a good idea to at least ask for suggestions. Who knows? One or two might even turn out to be helpful.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Make all the changes in your plans or proposals that you feel are necessary before -- repeat, before -- you submit them to your colleagues. You'll come off looking more decisive that way.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) You might feel a mite intimidated in a new environment, be it a job, a classroom or meeting the future in-laws. But enter with a big smile, and everyone will see you as a real take-charge Cat.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) This could be a romantic time for you if you can set aside your cynicism and let yourself believe that someone really cares. If you're already in a relationship, expect your partner to be extra-loving.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) It's a good time to shed any doubts about your abilities. You've proved yourself in the past, so why not accept that you'll do just as well, or better, in dealing with the new challenge

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21)

Your suspicions might be on the mark, but unless you can prove what you assume, you need to exercise that Scorpion discretion and let events unfold without your assistance.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Be careful not to go over the top this week. Avoid overeating (especially of the wrong foods), or drinking too much, or working too hard. You can do it all, but in moderation.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) A family matter is given to you to resolve because you have the gift for bringing quarrelsome kinfolk together. But while you're playing Dr. Phil, don't neglect your career obligations.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Someone of importance shares your goals but disagrees with your plan to achieve them. Never mind. Defending your methods with logic and facts earns you admiration and respect.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Consider getting away, perhaps for the weekend, despite all the demands made on your time and energies. You'll return refreshed and ready to tackle it all with your usual finesse.

- A pregnant goldfish is called a twit.
- If you're planning a summer vacation in Maine this year, you might want to keep in mind that in that state, it's against the law to tickle a woman under the chin with a feather duster.
- Despite the fact that 95 percent of the world uses the metric system of measurement, we in the United States still stubbornly cling to the archaic units of measurement derived from the old British Imperial system. This hodgepodge ranges from the mile (originally the distance a Roman soldier could march in 1,000 double steps) to the foot (originally the length of Emperor Charlemagne's foot, later "standardized" to the length of 35 barleycorns laid end to end) to a yard (the distance between King Henry I's nose to his extended fingertips) to an inch (the length from the tip to the first joint of a man's thumb).
- Brazil nuts do come from Brazil, but they're not technically nuts; they're seeds.
- When you think of the band ZZ Top, you probably think of long beards -- that's become a sort of signature for them. The drummer, though, is beardless -- and his name is Frank Beard.
- A ground squirrel typically has a heartbeat of around 300 beats per minute. During hibernation, though, that drops dramatically -- to only three or four beats per minute.

NOW HERE'S A TIP

- Quinoa is becoming really popular as a grain alternative. It's very small and requires rinsing before cooking to remove potentially bitter residue. Here's a great trick to rinse your quinoa without losing half of it to the holes in your colander: Use a French press coffeemaker. The fine mesh and pouring spout make rinsing a breeze. Đ JoAnn
- To halve a lot of cherry tomatoes, try sandwiching them between two plastic lids. Press down lightly and slice through the

- opening to make short work of them.
- Keep your crisper drawer clean by lining with fresh newspaper. It will absorb smells and liquid, and can be easily replaced.
- "Candle nubs, that little bit left when the candle has burned down all the way, can be removed from a candleholder by setting the whole thing in the freezer for 10-15 minutes. The wax surface hardens and shrinks, making it easier to chip out. The same goes for linens that have wax drips: freeze and chip away, then use a degreasing spot cleaner." -- Y.G. in Arkansas
- Easily thread a needle with hairspray. Spritz the end of the thread with a little high-hold hairspray and pull taut. It will be much easier to thread.
- Fun get-together project for kids: Have everyone doodle on a large posterboard. At the end of the night, trace a puzzle pattern and cut it up, making a large floor puzzle. You can bring it out at the next play date. The smaller the children, the larger the pieces! -- A.L. in Florida

Shore Fishing:

Don't Harm The Fish by Capt. Matt Mitchell

anding a big fish from the beach can be hard on the fish. Dragging a fish up onto the sand if you're going to release it is not an option as it usually damages or kills the fish.

- Hold the fish in the water while you unhook it if you're going to release it.
- The less you can touch a fish before release the better for the fish.
- If you want a picture with the fish, support it as you lift it out of the water – and do it quickly.
- Before releasing, revive the fish while holding it in the water; moving it slowly back and forth so water goes over its gills. The fish will let you know when it's ready to swim off.
- Florida just recently changed the regulations on fishing from shore. Florida residents as well as out of state visitors need a fishing license to fish from shore.

Pets Of The Week

y name is Britta and if you believe in love at first sight, you may fall head over heels in love with me. I'm young, gentle, balanced and smooth. I'm "teddy bear" huggable and cute. My tongue always seems to be hanging out, which adds to my unique charm. I enjoy the company of other dogs and love participating in doggie playgroups. My adoption fee is $40 (regularly $75) during Animal Services' Catch Spring Fever adoption promotion for dogs 40 pounds and over.

They call me Priscilla and I'm a long haired beauty with big eyes but that's not the only reason you'll want to adopt me. I have a sweet and loving personality too. Why settle when you can have the whole package? My adoption fee is $50 (get $20 off during Animal Services' adoption promotion when you donate an item for Animal Services' Kitten Shower throughout April).

For information about this week's pets, call 533-7387 (LEE-PETS) or log on to Animal Services' website at www. LeeLostPets.com. When calling, refer to the animal's ID number. The website updates every hour so you will be able to see if these or any other pets are still available.

The shelter is open for adoptions from 11:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday. The shelter is located at 5600 Banner Drive, Fort Myers, next to the Lee County Sheriff's Office, off Six Mile Cypress Parkway.

All adoptions include spay/ neuter surgery, age-appropriate vaccinations, rabies vaccination and county license if three months or older, flea treatment, worming, heartworm test for dogs six months and over, feline AIDS and leukemia test for cats, training DVD, 10-day health guarantee, and a bag of Science Diet pet food.

The adoption package is valued at $500.☆

PAWS Of Sanibel

dog named CJ, an 11-year-old border collie mix, and his little Agirlfriend named Maggie, a tuxedo cat who is about three years old, are both in need of a home - hopefully together. According to PAWS, their "mom" passed away a month ago. They are both current on shots and neutered.

CJ loves Maggie, he cleans her and sleeps with her. Both are great pets caught in a bad situation.

Contact PAWS volunteer Melanie at 239-908-1550 if you can help CJ and Maggie.☆
