Pure Florida Offers Marine Science Field Trips For Students

Science cruises are fun and educational

Pure Florida now offers marine science cruises for school groups and other organizations to provide students with hands-on learning aboard the Naples-based M/V Double Sunshine and the Fort Myers-based M/V Explorer. The cruises offer activities that encourage teamwork and critical thinking as students experience continued on page 7

Jennifer "Golden Note" Gilmore will provide live music for the sunset cruise

Sunset Music Cruise August 21

Pure Florida's Naples location is offering a Sunset Music Cruise on Friday, August 21 from 7 to 8:30 p.m. The cruise will drift along the Gordon River and the Naples coastline as the sun begins to set over the Gulf of Mexico. Aboard the M/V Double Sunshine, guests can take in the breathtaking scenery while listening to live music by Jennifer "Golden Note" Gilmore.

Aboard the vessel, guests are invited to relax, have a drink and enjoy the beauty of Naples. The cruise will coast by the luxurious mansions along the Naples Bay and will showcase the unique wildlife native to Southwest Florida. Once out to sea, the captain will stop the vessel as the sun begins to set.

Once the sun has dropped below the horizon, the boat will return to Tin City, where guest can explore the local shops and restaurants.

Registration is $35 per person. The M/V Double Sunshine departs from the historic Tin City, located at 1200 Fifth Avenue South in Naples. Reservations are required. For more information or to book your ticket, call 239-494-5595 or visit www.PureNaples.com.

Uncommon Friends Foundation To Unveil New Waterfront Event Venue

Exterior of the Gale McBride Pavilion

The public is invited to celebrate the grand opening of the new Gale McBride Pavilion for Character Education and Business Ethics at the historic Burroughs Home & Gardens, located at 2505 First Street in downtown Fort Myers. The Uncommon Friends Foundation is hosting the event on Thursday, September 10 at 10 a.m. to showcase its stunning new event venue that overlooks the breathtaking Caloosahatchee. Parking is across the street at the Langford Kingston Home.

Join Fort Myers Mayor Randy Henderson, City council member Michael Flanders, other local dignitaries and supporters as the Uncommon Friends Foundation unveils its new open-air Gale McBride Pavilion.

The pavilion can accommodate up to 300 guests and offers a commanding view of the water like no other event venue in downtown Fort Myers. This one-of-a-kind venue is expected to be utilized for years to come to host weddings and a wide variety of public and private events for businesses and the public, including the upcoming Uncommon Evening to be held on Tuesday, October 27.

Rental reservations are now open and arrangements can be made through the Uncommon Friends Foundation. For more information, visit www.burroughshome.com or www.uncommonfriends.org or contact Executive Director Angela Melvin at 337-9503 or angela@uncommonfriends.org.

THE RIVER - AUGUST 14, 2015 Historic Downtown Fort Myers, Then And Now: Hunter's, Mainstay In The Bradford

or four decades, the drug store pictured here was located in a Bradford Building storefront on the northeast corner of First and Hendry. Pharmacist Nathaniel H. Hunter opened his drug store there right after the first phase of the Bradford was built in 1905.

Harvie E. Heitman and financial backer, "Tootie" (Mrs. Ambrose M.) McGregor, built the three-story Bradford (the upper floors were an hotel) and named it for her recently deceased son. Hunter's was a family business. Nathaniel's brother, Dr. AP Hunter, came to Fort Myers soon after Nathaniel opened his pharmacy and worked there. (When Lee Memorial Hospital was founded several years later, the physician also served on the hospital staff.) The brothers' nephew, pharmacist Charles Hunter Brown, also worked at the drug store.

The employees' smart outfits and the attractive storefront are what one would expect in downtown's oh-so-modern second brick structure that had helped establish a new look for downtown just after the turn of the 20th century.

The reflections of wood-frame buildings in the store windows, as well as the street number (which changed frequently in early Fort Myers) help to date the historic photo, suggesting that it was taken just before construction of the granite First National Bank and the brick Earnhardt Building began across First Street.

The bank would be constructed early in 1914 and the Earnhardt all but completed by the end of that year.

Whether you needed a pick-me-up tonic, a box of candy, shaving soap or an ice cream soda, Hunter's had it.

The storefront's plentiful advertising gives an idea of the typical products and services customers could expect to find in an up-to-date pharmacy of the era.

A bank occupies the former Hunter's space

Hunter's was "the Rexall store," part of a manufacturing cooperative formed circa 1902 for franchised drugstores at the turn of the 20th century.

Rexall stores could sell a variety of products, from patent medicines to candy, and benefit from national advertising.

For example, note the sign in the right window advertising Rexall Orderlies "for the bowels," a product described in company advertising as the "delicious laxative."

The baby-doll cutouts in the left window decorate a display of various tonics, including Nervine.

A sign over that display advertises the Southern Express Company, a sort of early 20th century UPS or FedEx that delivered mainly by rail.

Two types of chocolates are advertised, Liggett's, in the window (right) and Nunnally's, on a sign over the entryway.

The free-standing "Current Events of the World" poster with baseball photos is advertising "Piedmont, the cigarette of quality." That company also published baseball cards in that time period.

In another sign of modernity, the store's ads urged customers to "phone your drug wants to us" as early as 1915.

Even after Hunter's long run, the location continued as a drug store, Frey's Pharmacy. Today, a bank occupies the space once known for tonics, candies and a superb soda fountain.

Walk down to the Bradford Block to visit the site of one of downtown's longest lived and most remembered drugstores.

Then, travel a few more blocks to the Southwest Florida Museum of History at 2031 Jackson Street, where you can see exhibits about the business district of early Fort Myers.

Call 321-7430 for information, or go to museumofhistory.org. Hours are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Tuesday through Saturday.

If you love local history, be sure to visit the Southwest Florida Historical Society's research center at 10091 McGregor Boulevard on the campus of the Lee County Alliance for the Arts.

The all-volunteer non-profit organization is open Wednesday and Saturday between 9 a.m. and noon and Wednesday 4 to 7 p.m. Call 939-4044 or visit swflhistoricalsociety. org for more information.

The Bluest Eye

by Tom Hall Reeping with Theatre Conspiracy's latest initiative to produce work that is geared towards minority artists, Theatre Conspiracy will open The Bluest Eye by Lydia Diamond based on the Pulitzer Prize winning book by Toni Morrison. This show will open February 5.

This critically-acclaimed adaptation follows three girls in post-depression Ohio. Eleven- year-old Pecola Breedlove despises her dark skin and prays for blue eyes, sure that love will follow. Claudia and Frieda McTeer are sisters who try to care for Pecola when the rest of the community fails to do so. With rich language and bold vision, this story examines standards of beauty, a young girl's coming of age and the devastating events she endures. Performances are February 5, 6, 11, 12, 13, 18, 19 and 20 at 8 p.m., with a 2 p.m. matinee on February 14.

Diamond is a nationally-recognized playwright and an assistant professor at Boston University's School of Theatre. Her award-winning plays, including Harriet Jacobs, The Bluest Eye, and Voyeurs de Venus, have been produced across the country. Most recently,

Acclaimed playwright Lydia Diamond

Diamond's play, Stick Fly, was produced on Broadway at the Cort Theatre, where it enjoyed a three-month run.

Diamond is currently working on her next show about a neurobiologist who studies race through brain imaging. She will also research and complete a first draft of a new play, Victoria's Sarah, a historical fiction based on the life of a West African princess raised in Queen Victoria's court in the early 1800s.

Diamond's work has won the African American Arts Alliance of Chicago Black Excellence Award, an American Alliance for Theatre and Education Award, a Back Stage Garland Award, a Black Theatre Alliance's Negro Ensemble Company Award for Best Play and Lorraine Hansberry Award for Best Writing, an Independent Reviewers of New England (IRNE) Award, an LA Weekly Theater Award, and a Los Angeles Drama Critics Circle Award. She received an Illinois Arts Council Grant and has been in residence at the Steppenwolf Theatre in Chicago through the NEA/ TCG Theatre Residency Program for Playwrights. Diamond has been a WEB DuBois Institute fellow and a Huntington Playwrighting fellow and is currently a member of the Theatre Communications Group board and the Huntington Theatre Company's Council of Overseers. She graduated from Northwestern University.

Tom Hall is both an amateur artist and aspiring novelist who writes art quest thrillers. He is in the final stages of completing his debut novel titled Art Detective. A former tax attorney, he lives in Estero with his fiancé and their four cats.³

Last year's Tux & Trees Gala, a benefit for the Southwest Florida Goodwill Foundation

The Southwest Florida Goodwill Foundation will host the 9th annual Festival of Trees on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, December 2 to 4. The Tux & Trees Gala will be held on Saturday, December 5 while Santa's Block Party and Festival takes place on Sunday, December 6.

This year, participants have the opportunity to take home a tree. In addition to the trees that will be auctioned at their Gala, a limited number of lavishly decorated trees will be raffled to the general public during the Festival. More details will be announced soon.

Embrace the spirit of giving by being a sponsor of Goodwill's Festival of Trees. Just like gifts under the tree, opportunities abound in all shapes and sizes.

Tux & Trees Gala Sponsorships

Each sponsorship includes tickets, signage, recognition in the program, on Goodwill's website and during the Tux & Trees Gala. Presenting Sponsor – $10,000

Presenting Sponsor – $10,000 Starlight Sponsor – $5,000 Twinklelight Sponsor – $2,500 Candlelight Sponsor – $1,500

Festival of Trees entry from last year

Goodwill is also seeking vendors for Santa's Block Party. The event is a day of fun consisting of arts and crafts, entertainment, a brunch with Santa and more. Santa himself kicks off the whole celebration by arriving by fire truck and marching band.

Vendor tables are just $50. Additional vendor and sponsorship information is available at www.tuxandtrees.com.

Volunteer opportunities are also available. Visit www.tuxandtrees.com/volunteer to see how you can help. For other questions, email MadisonMitchell@goodwillswfl.org or call 995-2106 ext. 2213.

The Festival of Trees and the Tux & Trees Gala are the signature events of The Southwest Florida Goodwill Foundation. All events will be held at the Sidney & Berne Davis Art Center, 2301 First Street in the Fort Myers River District. Scarecrows In The Park Contest

Lakes Park Enrichment Foundation is inviting local businesses, organizations, elementary and middle schools and community members to participate in its 6th annual Scarecrows in the Park contest by fashioning unique, personalized scarecrows. The custom-made scarecrows will be on display at Lee County's Lakes Regional Park during the Fall and Halloween Festival, October 16 to 31. In addition to the Scarecrows in the Park contest, the festival will feature a pumpkin patch, bounce houses, hayrides, the Halloween Express train, and other activities for the community to enjoy.

The Scarecrows in the Park festivities will begin on opening night, October 16, with a kick-off party for the participants. Celebrity judges will select the winning scarecrow displays, and awards will be posted on winning displays throughout the event. The public will also view and vote for their favorites from October 16 through October 26. The winners chosen by the public will be acknowledged and awarded prizes during the following days of the festival. Volunteer opportunities are available by emailing lakes-volunteers@leegov.com.

"This event provides local businesses, organizations and community members with a low-cost promotional opportunity while enjoying creating a personalized display that is humorous or that reflects the theme of a business or service and includes company signage," said Bettie Zima, chairperson for the Lakes Park Enrichment Foundation. "This is a great team building project and is a fun way for schools, youth groups and families to celebrate the fall season while supporting Lakes Park. We anticipate a competitive contest this year, so we encourage the community to get updated on all of the information now and start working on their project."

Republican Women September Lunch Meeting

The next Lee Republication Women Federated meeting will be held on Monday, September 14 at Pinchers at The Marina at Edison Ford, 2360 West 1st Street in the Downtown Fort Myers River District. There will be social time beginning at 11:15 a.m., followed by lunch and program featuring Linda Doggett, Lee County clerk of circuit court and comptroller. The cost to attend is $22. RSVP at http://www. leerepublicanwomen.com/event or rmh738@aol.com or call 432-9389.

Lee County voters elected Doggett to serve as clerk of the circuit court and comptroller for Lee County in November 2012. She was sworn in to office on January 8, 2013 for a four-year term. She holds a bachelor's degree in management information systems (MIS) from Hodges University and is a long-time veteran of the Lee County Clerk's Office. Doggett held various leadership positions including information technology director, courts department director, and chief operating officer. As clerk, she oversees a staff of 340 employees serving a local Lee County population of approximately 661,115 citizens as clerk of the circuit court, clerk to the board of county commissioners, auditor, county recorder and comptroller. Over the years, Doggett has served the citizens of Lee County by leading the office to better technology and efficiencies. Her goal has been to keep costs down and, at the same time, provide better services and conveniences to community.³

and learn about marine biology, environmental science, local history and the importance of preserving Southwest Florida's waterways.

The 1.5-hour marine science cruises navigate local waterways and the Gulf of Mexico, showcasing the Southwest Florida ecosystem and native wildlife. Aboard the narrated cruises, children explore the Southwest Florida environment and participate in STEM-based science experiments including water testing for salinity levels, pH, nitrate, ammonia and phosphate levels. Engineering challenges are also available including "float your boat" and "submersibles" that allow students to apply scientific principles to their engineering designs and builds.

In addition, schools and groups may choose to have a Pure Florida educator visit the classroom in advance of the field trip to review the scientific method and best practices in preparation for the cruise. Pure Florida recently hosted its inaugural marine science cruise on July 18, featuring a narrated tour, sightseeing scavenger hunt and a science show. Aboard Pure Florida's Naples-based M/V Double Sunshine, children had the opportunity to explore the waters and hear a special presentation by Glen Beitmen, the "Science Guy," on The Wonders of Water. During the presentation, Beitmen showed the audience how to make polymer slime and educated the children about the properties of water. The humorous performance shared information about the waters and helped children connect the information to their tour cruise experience.

"Educating children about our ecosystem is essential and it is an important part of what we do here at Pure Florida," said Capt. Harry Julian, co-founder of Pure Florida. "We are grateful for the opportunity to reach out to future generations and play a role in helping children establish an appreciation for the beautiful Southwest Florida environment."

For pricing and more information on the science cruises or other Pure Florida experiences, call 793-7529 or visit www. PureFL.com.

On Saturday evening, All Faiths Unitarian Church presents ACMA (Americana Community Music Association Services) - Singer Songwriter Circle On Stage. Doors open at 6:30 p.m. and the show starts at 7 p.m.

A core group of musicians meets weekly, with many local and visiting artists joining in as they have time or are in town. The primary purpose is of course to network and support fellow singer/songwriters through sharing of songs, critique (when requested) and discussion.

Members have also been known to throw out challenges, from which several well written songs have been created and have since achieved a fair amount of local fame.

This Saturday's Singer Songwriter Circle On Stage is led Bill Metts and benefits Guitars For Kids. A donation of $10 to $15 is requested.

All Faiths Unitarian Church is located at 2756 McGregor Boulevard in Fort Myers. Call 691-4069 or go to www.americanacma.org.

On Thursdays throughout August, the Fort Myers Regional Library features Jazz Lunch from noon to 1 p.m. in its outdoor Cornog Plaza. Some of Fort Myers' most exciting jazz composers/musicians perform during the weekly event.

Born in Brooklyn, New York in 1958, composer and guitarist Sandy Prager has been playing guitar since the age of 12. He is a seventh-generation musician which includes his father, jazz trombonist Bert Prager, who was also his first teacher and his grandmother, a klezmer singer of note. Add growing up in Latin-flavored Miami and you have a good idea of the rich varieties of musics which go into Prager's compositional melting pot. Prager and bassist Ted Myerson's long history of performing together comes out in the music.

Serving a diverse and ever-changing downtown population, the Fort Myers Library maintains a broad collection of adult fiction and nonfiction as well as children's materials for every reading level. The library is equipped with over 80 Internet terminals and features free Wi-Fi access for library patrons. Meeting rooms and study rooms are available for public use. The library offers a wide variety of free programs each month for adults, children and teens. These programs include book discussions, computer courses, children's storytimes, arts and crafts for adults and children, genealogy and small business seminars.

The Fort Myers Regional Library is located at 2450 First Street in downtown Fort Myers. For more information, call 479-4636 or go to www.leegov.com/library/events.‡

by Capt. Matt Mitchell

Boaters and fishermen alike were happy to finally have a week almost rain free and, with calm waters, these near perfect conditions were a perfect set-up to spend some time out on the water. The sweltering summer time heat, though, quickly brought the rain cooled water temperatures of 81degrees back to the bath-like poaching temperatures of summer. For anyone out on the water fishing mid afternoon this week, you know keeping bait alive was almost impossible as it basically cooked in your bait well as surface water temperatures climbed into the mid 90s.

Anglers found some great action out on the open flats with trout, jacks, ladyfish, mangrove snapper and small blacktip sharks all crashing the party. Sandholes around and out from the oyster bars up in the middle to northern sound flats areas were all productive places to pop your cork with a live shiner. The amount of life in the large deep water sand holes was just crazy, with schools of jacks exploding all over the surface. Water temperatures within a few miles of the big passes just stay cooler when the air temperature is so hot as these places just get a better push of cooler water from the gulf.

If you can take the heat and lack of breeze, deep mangrove creeks with fast moving current were a good place to catch snook and mangrove snapper. Despite the fact that these dark water creeks where sauna-like hot, the fish came out of the woodwork to eat live shiners. When the bite got a little tough in the late afternoons, I headed deep inside of the "Ding" Darling Refuge to catch limits of mangrove snapper and lots of under-the-slot catch and release snook. How these fish are still this active in water this hot does not make a lot of sense to me, but why fight it?

A typical size five-foot shark comes boat side before being cut free

Send Us Your Fish Tales

The River Weekly would like to hear from anglers about their catches. Send us details including tackle, bait and weather conditions, date of catch, species and weight, and include photographs with identification. Drop them at the River Weekly, 1609 Hendry Street, Suite 15, Fort Myers, Florida 33901, or email to press@riverweekly.com.

One option to beat the heat was to head out late afternoon and fish until just after dark as things cool off, and we did not have to deal with the typical summertime afternoon thunderstorms. Sharks where the main target on these late day trips. A cooler full of fresh mullet made things easy with the shark bite peaking right around sunset time. This is a relaxing way to fish and also a great way to enjoy a spectacular sunset. Anchor up with a couple of big fresh cut chunks of mullet on circle hooks, putting the rods in the rod holders until a drag screams. Most of my shark fishing this week I did in the southern sound, setting up close to home in the deeper water around Redlight Shoal, Chino Island and the powerlines.

Blacktips, lemons and bulls were the most common species of sharks caught, with a few real giants hooked up and not landed. Average size of these sunset sharks was four to six feet. Use a float buoy on your anchor rod so you can be quick on the chase as some of these fast running giants can dump your spool of line. Catching a big shark in the dark just adds to the excitement level of this. Heavy 300-pound mono leader with crimps will get lots more bites than steel leader, although, you will have some cutoffs.

Capt. Matt Mitchell has been fishing local waters since he moved to Sanibel in 1980. He now lives in St. James City and works as a back country fishing guide. If you have comments or questions email captmattmitchell@aol.com.

CROW Case Of The Week: Who Cooks For You?

by Patricia Molloy

t 20 inches tall, with a fourfoot wingspan, the barred owl (Strix varia) is an imposing hunter. During the day, these owls hide in dense foliage – their brown and gray plumage makes them masters of camouflage - and emerge at night to feed a wide variety of prey, which they hunt from a favorite perch. Despite their impressive size, one must be alert to catch a glimpse of these owls; they can go completely unnoticed as they fly noiselessly through the dense canopy of the woods or snooze in the cavity of a tree.

To hear a barred owl is a more easily attainable endeavor, as they are highly vocal and known for making many calls: the begging calls of nestlings, ascending hoots and caterwauling. The most recognizable one is the nine syllable call "hoo, hoo, too-HOO; hoo, hoo, too-HOO, ooo" which is often phrased as "Who cooks for you? Who cooks for you, all?"

In late June, a barred owl was found on the ground in front of a tractor supply store in Alva. The good samaritan who found the raptor called CROW to report the rescue and arrange for delivery. Upon presenta-tion, the female owl – patient #15-1923 – was severely depressed, dehydrated, malnourished and had labored breathing. Additionally, an injury was palpated in its left wing, so the bird was anesthetized to allow for radiographs to be taken. The result: a fractured right clavicle and sternum (part of the shoulder girdle) and a fractured fibula in the left leg.

'She's really good at force feeding, so we had to continue with that (for awhile). Now she's eating on her own. Her weight is better than it was at admission with good body condition," explained Dr. Molly. "She's sedated for physical therapy every three days, and she seems to be doing fairly well. We took radiographs (again) and the wing seems to be healing pretty well. She does have a little bit of stiffness in that wing, which is to be expected, so we're just going to focus on PT for now and reassess her wing wrap when we know more about how she's doing," she concluded.

After approximately one month of care inside the clinic's ICU ward, the owl's wing injury had improved enough that the wrap was removed. The patient was relocated to an outdoor flight enclosure on CROW's secluded property where she has enough space to practice flying. When Dr. Heather is convinced that it is strong enough to survive on its own, the owl will be transported back to its home in Alva and released.

CROW (Clinic for the Rehabilitation of Wildlife, Inc.) is a non-profit wildlife hospital providing veterinary care for native and migratory wildlife from our local area. The hospital accepts patients seven days a week from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Mail donations to PO Box 150, Sanibel, FL 33957. Call 472-3644 or visit: www.crowclinic.org.

Fisherman's Paradise: Truculent Tripletails

by Cynthia A. Williams

erry C. Williams (1915 to 1976) was something of a legend as a fisherman in the waters off Fort Myers in the 1950s and early 1960s.

Reproduced for you here are chapters from his unfinished Fisherman's Paradise, an account of his fishing adventures that are often hilarious and always instructional. It is presented by Williams' daughter, Cynthia Williams, a freelance writer and editor living in Bokeelia on Pine Island. Chapter XII Part IV

One evening, "after the blood-dripping sun had sunk beneath the darkening horizon," Berry is fishing with his friend, Ronnie Long, under the "new" Sanibel Bridge (completed in 1963).

I was using a large wire leader, big hook and a fat, juicy pinfish, hoping to get a big cobia. We hadn't done too well that day, and I was about to suggest going in, when something pulled at my pinfish. I left my line there, only to feel a second tug a few seconds later. After four more tugs, I disgustedly figured it was an old gaff top sail cat, too small to get any large bait. I started reeling my line in, suggesting to Ronnie that we go.

Whatever was down there had a different notion. The fifth time he lunged, I thought I had a big cobia. But from the way he plowed, I knew it wasn't a cobia, for they make a wide, sideways sweep.

I didn't know what in the heck I had, but after putting shoulder and back to my rod, I soon came up with the goshdarndest tripletail I'd ever seen. Ronnie and I weighed him out at a mite over 10 pounds. From then on, all Ronnie wanted to do was fish for tripletail.

On subsequent trips, we tried under the causeway, at various markers, and at McIntyre's Creek - all without luck. Then one day I suggested that we go up to the pilings at Blind Pass. Charter boat skipper, Buck Fernandez, had told me he'd been getting big snook and reds there.

Ronnie usually fishes cautiously, not too close to the pilings, but since we weren't catching anything, I told him to throw his line up against the piling.

"Throw your own line up there. I don't wanta have to go rigging up lines."

Okay. I'd rather lose a few lines and have a chance of catching something than fish in safe water and get nothing."

I plunked one down, shrimp-baited, right against the piling. Two minutes later, I was tugging at one end and something was tugging at the other. By sheer luck, I won out, coming in with a six-pound tripletail.

At this, Ronnie threw all caution to the wind and, with his monstrous spinning outfit, cast a small pinfish next to the piling. He was soon reeling in a burrowing tripletail. In rapid succession, he caught two more, while I couldn't get a bite. He, of course, commenced lecturing me about the superiority of spinning gear over my Penn Peerless #9 free-spool reel.

"Who caught the first one, Ronnie?"

"Who caught the most, Berry Boy?

"Who brought you to this spot? And another thing, you haven't caught any-thing the last three trips you've been on with me.

And so on it went, mouthing back and forth, all the way in.

To be continued next week.... 袋

Swamp lily is the only crinum lily native to Florida photos by Gerri Reaves

Crinum Lilies

by Gerri Reaves

The extravagant beauty and easy cultivation of crinum lilies have long made them a favorite in the American South.

There are approximately 130 species in the genus Crinum, called crinums or sometimes spider lilies. Despite their lily-like flowers, however, they are members of the amaryllis – not lily – family.

Generally, the base of these plants is a rosette of whorled smooth strap-like leaves that can be as long as five feet.

Large fragrant funnel-shaped flowers with six arching petals cluster atop the stalks that are three to five feet tall.

The popular native swamp lily, or string lily (Crinum

Orange River lily, a native of South Africa, is especially hardy americanum), is the only crinum species native to the state, indeed, to North America.

As its common name suggests, it grows wild in swamps, marshes, ditches and wet hammocks. It is pollinated by the sphinx moth.

Two to six white flowers cluster on the stalks. They bloom throughout the year in South Florida.

Orange River lily (Crinum bulbispermum) is one of many non-native crinums common in Florida. This native of South Africa is also called hardy swamplily because it is cold hardy and tough.

Other species common in Florida include grand crinum lily (Crinum asiaticum) and Ceylon swamplily (Crinum zeylanicum).

Crinum flowers come in shades of white, pink, red, or rose. Some cultivars are striped, like the festive "Stars and Stripes" Cape Coast lily.

Left to themselves, the bulbs form large clumps that can be divided if desired.

They will grow in sun or shade or in dry of moist spots but need full sun and regular moisture to bloom well.

Crinums are reputed to "never die." Specimens planted decades – even a century – ago at cemeteries and home sites still thrive unattended. The onion-like bulbs of these old specimens can become enormous – as heavy as 40 pounds – and difficult to transplant.

A bed of crinums will provide lovely cut flowers for little gardening effort. They also make good container plants.

But be cautious: all parts of the crinum lilies are poisonous if ingested and the sap can irritate the skin.

Students Build Class Gardens

When students at Florida SouthWestern Collegiate-HS (FSWC) Charlotte return to class this August, they will a find new addition to their campus. This summer, FSWC Charlotte faculty and students built 10 gardens that will be incorporated into their instruction beginning this fall.

"We had some free space where two portable classroom used to sit," said Matt Catanzarite, principal, FSWC Charlotte. "We wanted to use the space for something positive both for our students and our community."

"The gardens will be tended to by students in the Personal, Social and Career Development Skills class," said FSWC Charlotte chemistry teacher Blake Schmidt. "Our plan is to grow different crops including flowers, which we can then deliver to people living in nursing homes, and vegetables, which we can use in our cafeteria school lunches."

The four-by-36-foot gardens were con-

"I was excited to work with this project because it is eco-friendly and all of the students will get to be involved," said FSWC dual-enrolled student Haley Saine. "They will get to be hands-on, and they will get to see how their efforts benefit not only their school but their community as well."

SFCA Leadership Students Travel To France, England

This summer, nine Southwest Florida Christian Academy (SFCA) students traveled to France and England to experience history and leadership lessons from noted speakers, politicians and industry leaders against the backdrop of Paris, Normandy, Oxford and London. They earned the privilege to attend this trip after investing over 125 hours in intentional leadership training with Student Leadership University based out of Orlando, and Student Leadership Academy, SFCA's leadership training program.

History was brought to life as the students visited Pointe du Hoc, Omaha Beach, Rodin's Sculpture Garden, Winston Churchill's Cabinet War Rooms, and the burial place of John Bunyan and John Wesley. They also viewed the Magna Carta and the Rosetta Stone.

Additionally, the students visited the Eiffel Tower, the Louvre, Notre Dame Cathedral, Buckingham Palace, St. Paul's Cathedral, Westminster Cathedral, Houses of Parliament and Windsor Castle.

The culmination of the week was the graduation ceremony held at Oxford University, where the students were celebrated for their completion of the Student Leadership University program, led by Dr. Jay Strack and Dr. Brent Crowe, president and vice president of SLU, respectively.

Assistant Softball Coach Named

Florida SouthWestern State College (FSW) Head Softball Coach Robert Iamurri has named Chelsea Wildey the team's assistant softball coach.

"Chelsea has been honored not only for her play and a batting average above .300, but also her academic achievements," said Iamurri. "She knows what it takes to be a team leader, along with firsthand experience as a former student-athlete. She can easily relate to our players."

"This is an incredible opportunity to take what I learned as a student-athlete and share that with the team," said Wildey. "Being part of a new program is exciting. It's not often you get the chance to help shape a program from the start."

Wildey began her college softball career at State College of Florida. She led the team to a 52-8 record and a sixth place finish as nationals during her freshman year. As a sophomore, she carried a .368 batting average with 48 hits, including 11 doubles. She was also named a NJCAA Athlete of Distinction for maintaining a 3.76 GPA. She also had 45 RBIs in two seasons. The team won back-to had 45 RBIs in two seasons. The team won back-to-back conference championships. Her junior and senior years were at the University of Akron, where she was a starter for all games both years. As a junior, she batted .312 with 39 hits and 10 stolen bases. She led the team with 94 assists in the field and a fielding percentage of .942. As a senior for Zips, she played shortstop and batted .300. She was also recognized with All-American Academic Honors and named to the Dean's List.

Florida SouthWestern State College (FSW) is bringing back a longstanding tradition of athletics. Baseball and softball will begin in the fall 2015 at the City of Palms Park in Fort Myers. Located on the Thomas Edison (Lee) Campus in Fort Myers will be the Suncoast Credit Union Arena, where FSW's men's and women's basketball teams will play in the fall 2016. FSW will compete in the National Junior College Athletic Association (NJCAA). For more information, visit www.FSWBUCS.com.

FGCU Awarded $2.3 Million In Federal Grants

Florida Gulf Coast University (FGCU) has been awarded two federal grants totaling $2.3 million to help ensure academic success for students who are the first in their families to attend college, who come from low-income households or who have a disability.

Funds help Student Support Services (SSS) provide critical assistance.

The awards were part of more than $270 million the U.S. Education Department distributed to 968 highereducation institutions to provide thousands of students with academic and other support services they need to have an equal opportunity to earn a college degree.

Student Support Services will receive $247,584 a year for the next five years, which will enable the office to help about 160 disadvantaged FGCU students. The other grant provides $213,180 a year over five years and will assist 120 disadvantaged students majoring in science, technology, engineering or mathematics (STEM). FGCU was one of only 33 SSS programs in the United States to be awarded both grants.

"We are extremely grateful to be receiving these two grants so we can continue the excellent SSS and STEM programs that we have," said Dolores Kiesler, director for the Office of Student Support Services and Outreach Programs at FGCU.

The university was lauded for having ambitious and attainable goals for retention, good academic standing and graduation, and for having "a good grasp

Mini Trade Show In Fort Myers

The Bonita Springs Area Chamber of Commerce will host its Business Before Business: Mini Trade Show on Thursday, September 24 from 8 to 9:15 a.m. at Holiday Inn Fort Myers Airport at Town Center, 9931 Interstate Commerce Drive in Fort Myers. Thirtyfive chamber members will showcase their products and services to fellow members and guests. The networking event is held on the fourth Thursday of every month with five of the events being mini trade shows that promote businessto-business networking and referrals.

The Five-Star Nationally Accredited Bonita Springs Area Chamber of Commerce was designated as the 2014 Chamber of Commerce of the Year by the Florida Association of Chamber Professionals. The chamber operates a fully-staffed 2,000-square-foot visitor's and business center at 25071 Chamber of Commerce Drive in Bonita Springs. It is open Monday through Friday from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. For more information, call 239-992-2943 or visit www. BonitaSpringsChamber.com.‡ on multiple ways to support students" through these two grant proposals.

"We are honored that FGCU is one of only 38 colleges and universities in the United States to receive the SSS STEM grant and one of only three awarded in Florida," said Michele Yovanovich, dean of students. "This is in part due to the success of our graduation and retention rates."

FGCU helps all students succeed by providing academic tutoring, course selection guidance, financial aid information and other support services. The federal grants enable the university to offer additional individualized counseling, career guidance and mentoring to disadvantaged students as well as to provide housing assistance during school breaks for students who are homeless or in foster care.

SSS is one of seven Federal TRIO Programs that provide outreach to help students progress through the academic system from middle school to post baccalaureate programs.

"Every student has the right to an equal opportunity to learn and succeed in college," U.S. Secretary of Education Arne Duncan said. "These grants provide critical support to students who can benefit from extra help and encouragement along their college journey, enabling them to reach their personal goals and contribute to the economic vitality of our nation."

All-Female Playwright Season Featured At Theatre Conspiracy

Theatre Conspiracy announce it's 2015-16 season of plays at the Foulds Theatre, Lee County Alliance for the Arts in Fort Myers.

▲ "If you were to look at the past few season of theatre in Southwest Florida you will see that less than 20 percent of the plays produced were written by female playwrights" says Producing Artistic Director Bill Taylor. "It is not only Southwest Florida. It is the entire country. The 2013-14 Broadway season did not have any new plays written by women. Surveys and studies regularly find that plays by women make up a fraction of theaters' productions across the country. This year we will do our part to highlight some amazing plays by women both classic and new. Oh and by the way, this is definitely not a chick-flick season. There are some ground breaking awardwinning shows."

The first play of the year, opening October 2, will be the classic Toys In The Attic by Lillian Hellman. Set in New Orleans following the Great Depression, the play focuses on the Berniers sisters, two middle-aged spinsters who have sacrificed their own ambitions to look after their ne'er-do-well younger brother Julian, whose grandiose dreams repeatedly lead to financial disasters. When he unexpectedly returns home accompanied by his emotionally unstable, childlike young bride Lily, her aloof, aristocratic mother Albertine, and an unexplained large sum of money, Carrie and Anna suddenly find that the position of power they have always held has become unbalanced, leaving their lives in chaos. This show plays October 2, 3, 8, 9, 10, 15, 16 and 17 at 8 p.m. as well as October 18 at 2 p.m.

In November, audiences are in for a real treat with Mr. Burns: The Post Electric Play. Anne Washburn's imaginative dark comedy propels us forward nearly a century, following a new civilization stumbling into its future. After the collapse of civilization, a group of survivors share a campfire and begin to piece together the plot of The Simpsons episode Cape Feare entirely from memory. Seven years later, this and other snippets of pop culture (sitcom plots, commercials, jingles and pop songs) have become the live entertainment of a post-apocalyptic society, sincerely trying to hold onto its past. 75 years later, these are the myths and legends from which new forms of performance are created. This show will open November 20 and play November 20, 21, 27 and 28. December 3, 4, 5, 10, 11 and 12 at 8 p.m. as well as December 6 at 2 p.m.

Opening January 7, 2016 is Kayak by Jordan Hall. Winner of the 2010 Samuel French Canadian Playwrights Contest. Alone on a vast stretch of water, Annie Iversen recounts the strange chain of events that left her stranded in her son's old kayak. A doting suburban mother, Annie is blindsided when her son, Peter, falls in love with Julie, a passionate environmental activist. Unable to reconcile herself to Julie's radical worldview, Annie struggles desperately to keep Peter from falling further into the young woman's dangerous world. Climate change, s'mores, SUVs and Noah's Ark are all onstage as Annie sets out to save her son, and unwittingly throws herself into the path of events larger than she ever could have imagined. This show will star Lauren Drexler. Performances are January 7, 8, 9, 14, 15, 16, 21, 22 and 23 at 8 p.m. and January 17 at 2 p.m.

Keeping with Theatre Conspiracy's latest initiative to produce work that is geared towards minority artists, Theatre Conspiracy will open The Bluest Eyes by Lydia Diamond based on the Pulitzer Prize winning book by Toni Morrison. This show will open on February 5.

This critically-acclaimed adaptation follows three girls in post-depression Ohio. Eleven-year-old Pecola Breedlove despises her dark skin and prays for blue eyes, sure that love will follow. Claudia and Frieda McTeer are sisters who try to care for Pecola when the rest of the community fails to do so. With rich language and bold vision, this story examines standards of beauty, a young girl's coming of age and the devastating events she endures. Performances are February 5, 6, 11, 12, 13, 18, 19 and 20 at 8 p.m. as well as February 14 at 2 p.m.

What are the boundaries of reality? On March 4, The Nether opens, It's a daring examination of moral responsibility in virtual worlds by Jennifer Haley. It begins with a familiar interrogation scene given a technological twist. As Detective Morris, an online investigator, questions Mr. Sims about his activities in a role-playing realm so realistic it could be life, she finds herself on slippery ethical ground. Their clash of wills leads to a consequence neither could have imagined. Suspenseful, ingeniously constructed, and fiercely intelligent, The Nether is chock full of twists and turns and surprises. Performances are March 4, 5, 10, 11, 12, 17, 18 and 19 at 8 p.m. as well as March 13 at 2 p.m.

Closing out the season will be the winner of our 17th Annual New Play Contest. The winning play will be announced in November. Once again, we received over 600 entries to the contest from all over the United States, Canada, England, France and Australia. Due to fairness, we cannot guarantee the winner will be a female playwright. This show will play May 6, 7, 12, 13, 14, 19, 20 and 21 at 8 p.m. as well as May 15 at 2 p.m.

Individual tickets are $24. Season subscription packages: six shows for $114 ($19 a ticket) or five shows for $100 ($20 per ticket) or 4 shows for $88 ($22 per ticket). Flex passes also available for $2 extra per person. For more information, call Theatre Conspiracy's box office at 936-3239 or visit www.theatreconspiracy.org.

McIllroy, Spieth, Dustin Johnson Headline Final Major Of The Year

by Ed Frank

n every major sporting event, there are numerous story lines, but this weekend's PGA Golf Championship, the fourth and I final major tournament of the year, carries an exceptional number of fascinating anecdotes worth following over the four days of competition at the extremely difficult Whistling Straits in Sheboygan, Wisconsin.

First and foremost is the health of defending champion Rory McIllroy, the world's No. 1 ranked player. He ruptured a ligament in his left ankle on July 4 while playing a pick-up soccer game in Ireland, and hasn't played a competitive round of golf since June's U.S. Open.

On Monday of this week, however, McIlroy said he is "100 percent ready to go," after playing three practice rounds at the course. "The game is good. I've been practicing for the last week and a half. It's coming together pretty well," he was quoted in the Milwaukee Journal Sentinel.

The second story line that will be chronicled involves 21-year-old Jordan Spieth, winner of this year's Masters and U.S. Open. Should he capture his third major, he would join only three other golfing legends who won three majors in a single year -Bobby Jones in 1930, Ben Hogan in 1953 and Tiger Woods in 2000.

The personable Spieth is ranked No. 2 in the world.

The PGA is returning to Whistling Straits for the second time and perhaps you will recall the controversy in 2010 that might have cost Dustin Johnson the championship.

On the 18th hole of the final day, Johnson grounded his club in a bunker right of the fairway which he had figured was just a patch of dirt given that spectators had walked through it.

FSW Names Assistant Softball Coach

Norida SouthWestern State College (FSW) Head Softball Coach Robert Iamurri has named Karla Powell the team's assistant softball coach.

"Karla brings valuable experience as a top Big Ten softball player and the experience of coaching to our team," said Iamurri. "She will make an immediate impact on this team.

"I am very excited to start this new journey at Florida SouthWestern. It's not every day that you get the opportunity to be part of a brand new program and to be able to say that you were the first assistant coach in school history," said Powell, a former Wisconsin standout. "I come to work getting to do what I am passionate about, meaning that I get to teach young girls the sport I love, assist them to grow not only as softball players, but as young ladies as well."

A two-time All-Big Ten selection, Powell finished her career on Wisconsin's all-time list second in walks (72), eighth in career home runs (15) and 10th in RBIs with 72. She earned first-team all-conference honors as a junior in 2011 when she batted .313 and led the Badgers in home runs (9), slugging percentage (.569) and doubles (10). Powell was also named Wisconsin's Most Inspirational Player in 2012. Powell graduated from the University of Wisconsin in 2013 with a bachelor's degree in sociology.

Before arriving at Florida Southwestern, Powell was the head assistant at St. Johns River State College (SJRSC) in Palatka, Florida. She was in charge of all hitting, defense and recruiting. She helped lead the Vikings to their program's best record in school history, 33-22, reaching the state tournament for the first time in five years. The Vikings also made an appearance in the top 25 in the country during their record breaking season in late March, along with ending the season 18th in the country in stolen bases (117).

Before Powell was an assistant at SJR State, she was the volunteer softball coach at George Washington University in Washington, DC during the 2013-14 seasons. In addition, Powell served as a student assistant coach at the University of Wisconsin from 2012 to 2013, when the Badgers won the Big Ten and advanced to the NCAA Regionals with a 44-13 overall record. Powell worked extensively with Wisconsin's hitters and infielders, helped develop practice plans and analyzed film.

Powell has also served as a camp instructor at Replay Hitting, the Diamond Elite Baseball & Softball Academy in Sterling, Virginia, as well as USA Preps Powered by Mizuno in Fresno, California, and Chicago. Illinois.

A native of Ashburn, Virginia, Powell was a three-time Washington Post All-Met first-team selection and an ESPN High School All-American out of Broad Run High School, the top high school team in the nation in 2008.

Florida SouthWestern State College (FSW) is bringing back a longstanding tradition of athletics. Baseball and softball will begin in the fall 2015 at the City of Palms Park in Fort Myers. Located on the Thomas Edison (Lee) Campus in Fort Myers will be the Suncoast Credit Union Arena, where FSW's men's and women's basketball teams will play in the fall 2016. FSW will compete in the National Junior College Athletic Association (NJCAA). For more information, visit www. FSWBUCS.com.举

It resulted in a two-stroke penalty and thus eliminated him from a playoff with Bubba Watson and Martin Kaymer, the eventual champion.

Johnson had no one to blame but himself, as tournament officials had distributed a local rules sheet and even posted it in the locker room. "I guess I should have looked at the local rules sheet a little harder," he said afterwards.

You can bet he will this week.

Fresh in our memory is Johnson's tough-luck finish in this year's U.S. Open when he three-putted the last hole to hand Spieth the title.

The tournament will get under way Thursday with McIllroy, who won two majors in 2014, paired with Spieth and Zach Johnson, winner of the British Open. It will be a fun threesome to watch.

But there will be many others to follow.

The PGA's power rankings that were released earlier this week also listed Jason Day, Justin Rose and Rickie Fowler along with Watson, Spieth and McIllroy.

The Pete Dye-designed Whistling Straits has 1,012 bunkers and all will play as true bunkers regardless of how they may appear.

As Dustin Johnson vies for his first major championship, you can be certain he will be wary of each and every one of them.

Time Running Out for Miracle to Defend League Title

If the Fort Myers Miracle baseball team wants to reach post-season play and defend their 2014 Florida State League Title, they have little more than three weeks to accomplish the task.

As the week began, the Miracle had a 24-21 second-half season record, trailing first-place Palm Beach by 6-1/2 games. Fort Myers must win the league's secondhalf South Division title to reach the playoffs as Charlotte captured the championship in the first-half.

Only the division winners in the first and second half qualify for the playoffs.

Fort Myers has the chance to close the gap on Palm Beach this weekend as the Cardinals come to Hammond Stadium for three games - Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights.

The Miracle travel to Charlotte Sunday and then host the Stone Crabs Monday and Tuesday.☆

Shell Point President Marks 30th Anniversary

Shell Point Retirement Community's president, Peter Dys, marked his 30th anniversary at Shell Point on August 1.

Dys assumed the role of president on August 1, 1985, at age 41, after serving for four years as a member of The Christian and Missionary Alliance Foundation board of directors for Shell Point. During this time, he provided much insight and assistance to Shell Point as it planned further expansion and development of its facilities and services. This experience provided for a natural transition to the position as president, and through his conservative management and wise fiscal policies, Dys has led Shell Point to its present-day position as an industry leader among continuing care retirement communities (CCRCs).

Dys has overseen many significant initiatives during his 30-year tenure, including expanding the community from one neighborhood to four, opening three assisted living facilities, and completing a $74 million healthcare "renaissance," which resulted in the expansion of skilled nursing care at Shell Point. After more than doubling the residency, today, Shell Point is fully occupied and financially strong, delivering "Lifestyle with Lifecare" to approximately 2,400 seniors with a wide range of socioeconomic backgrounds.

"Dys' pursuit of excellence for the welfare of the resident is modeled and seen at all levels of management," said Dr. Mark O'Farrell, board of directors chair. "As a CCRC, we have been blessed by his vision, sacrifice, and commitment to provide the services that enrich residents and employees alike."

Dys first entered the field of aging services as the founder and executive director of

he Dress for Success SW Florida organization is in need of computers, printers and office supplies to equip its new career center and open its doors to women seeking a better future. The Elizabeth K. Galeana Charitable Foundation Inc. has donated funding for a three-year lease at $30,000. The organization is now in need of at least eight new computers of the same type, eight matching tables, two printers and eight desk chairs. In lieu of furnishings, cash donations will be accepted and are preferred. Major donors will receive signage and other promotional recognition. The organization also needs financial assistance to pay for a new enhanced website to help it reach additional clients.

The mission of Dress for Success SW Florida is to promote the economic independence of disadvantaged women by providing professional attire, a network of support and the career development tools to help women in Lee and Collier counties thrive in work and in life.

The new career center will be located at 12995 S. Cleveland Avenue, Suite 152, Fort Myers in the Pinebrook Plaza, next to the Dress for Success SW Florida Boutique. At the career center, women will have the opportunity to perform job searches, prepare resumes, train in retail and soft skills, attend entrepreneurial seminars, receive instruction in word processing and spreadsheet programs, receive mentoring, network, and obtain job placement assistance.

Barbara Dell, CEO of Dress for Success SW Florida said, "We have served approximately 2,000 women in Southwest Florida since we opened our doors five years ago. We couldn't have done it without the amazing business and agency partners, private donors, event attendees and volunteers that we've been lucky to have along the way. Their support emboldens us to try to make an even bigger impact in the years ahead, and the career center represents a powerful way to do just that."

With the additional funding Dress for Success SW Florida needs to open the career center, it will be able to provide services for hundreds more women in the next year. For more information about how you can help, call Jen Diederich at 689-4992 or email Jen@dfsswflorida.org.

MDA Lock-Up Raises Over $44,000

n July 22, more than 50 business and civic leaders from throughout the South Fort Myers area were "arrested" and put "behind bars" for the Muscular Dystrophy Association's Lock-Up fundraiser held at Bahama Breeze.

Peter Dys, front, and the Shell Point management team break ground on a new rehabilitation center in 2010, part of a $74 million skilled nursing renovation photo courtesy of Shell Point Retirement Community the Lancaster County Office of Aging in Lancaster, Pennsylvania, from 1974 to 1985. In 2008, Dys received the Distinguished Service Award from the Florida Association of Homes and Services for the Aging for his outstanding achievements in the retirement and lifecare industry.

Today, Dys serves as chair of the Governor's Continuing Care Advisory Council, where he has provided advice, feedback and recommendations to the Office of Insurance Regulation regarding lifecare services provided by facilities throughout the state of Florida to ensure not only compliance with the law, but also quality services for residents who enjoy care and services in these facilities. He has served on the Governor's Continuing Care Advisory Council for more than 10 years during his career at Shell Point.

The "jailbirds" volunteered to spend one hour to raise "bail" by encouraging friends, family, co-workers and business contacts to make contributions to MDA that will directly benefit families in the greater Southwest Florida area living with progressive muscle diseases.

The event raised over $44,000 this year, which will help the MDA provide local families with flu shots, support group sessions, annual medical equipment repairs and clinic visits. The money will also help fund critical research in finding treatments and cures for muscle disease.

"Thanks to such a successful event, our families will continue to benefit from the services that MDA provides," said Desiree Lopez, health services coordinator of the MDA of Fort Myers. "As one of our biggest fundraising programs, we are thankful to be supported by the jailbirds with the biggest hearts."

The top fundraiser, Robert Burkett of Burkett Law Office, managed to surpass the bail of $3,500, raising $3,651. Guy Paparella of International Rental Services and Tom Foy of the Florida Department of Law Enforcement also raised impressive amounts, both surpassing $3,000.

Jailbirds are not the sole supporters of the Lock-Up. The Lee County Sherriff VOICE Officers, Firedog Entertainment, Broadway Palm Dinner Theatre, Culver's, Doherty Enterprise, Applebee's and Elite Limousine Services of Southwest Florida are among the other community members rallying behind this event.

"The Lock-Up brings together businesses, families and our generous jailbirds in a joint desire to help local men, women and children who are battling muscle disease," said Erin Randall, executive director. "It's amazing to be a part of an event that strengthens the entire community."

MDA is the nonprofit health agency dedicated to curing muscular dystrophy, ALS and related diseases by funding worldwide research. The association maintains a nationwide network of some 200 hospital-affiliated clinics – 38 of which are designed as MDA/ALS centers – that provide unparalleled medical and health care services to adults and children with neuromuscular diseases. Families in greater Southwest Florida area are encouraged to visit the MDA Clinic Sarasota Memorial.

School Smart

by Shelley M. Greggs, NCSP ear Shelley, We have been very laid back this summer and have not followed much of a schedule. Now with school soon approaching, I would like to get my kids into some routines for school. They are in second and third grades. Do you have any suggestions?

Isabel,

Isabel B., Cape Coral

You are very wise to implement routines for your children. Consistent daily routines provide security for children. When they know what is required, anxiety and stress are reduced and expectations are made clear. Routines allow young children and sometimes older children as well more confidence to go about their day.

There are many areas where routines are important to develop but here are some that relate to school success: healthy eating, exercise, sleep and TV/ computer/screen time usage, and homework.

Healthy Eating

• Provide well-balanced meals and limit caffeine and junk foods.

• Always make time for your child to have a good breakfast so he or she will be alert and able to pay attention and learn.

Exercise

• Involve your child in physical activity for a 30 minutes every day (i.e. walking, bicycling, playing sports, etc.). Sleep

 Maintain consistent bedtime and morning routines, including weekends.

• Young children need approximately 8 to 10 hours of sleep per night.

Television and Computer/Internet Usage

• Limit the amount of time your child watches television and uses the computer each day.

• Monitor the types of programs that your child watches and the websites he or she visits.

• Turn off scary or violent television (for example, programs with vicious animals, monsters, natural disasters, stories involving death of a parent, etc.). Young children have a difficult time telling what is fantasy and what is real.

Homework

• Setup a specific time and location in the house where you children will complete their homework daily. Even if they don't have homework, this could be their reading time. Make sure this location has the tools necessary to complete their work so they don't waste time hunting for paper, pencils, scissors, etc. every day. Allot a specific amount of time for them to do their work or reading. Schools typically suggest how much time, by grade level, they think is appropriate for homework. You will want to be close by to the homework area in case they need some help and for encouragement, but don't do their homework for them.

With these simple routines implemented consistently your children will be

Event To Benefit Kids Helping Kids

Teacher Appreciation celebration is set for Friday, August 21 to honor teachers as they head back to the classrooms while at the same time raising money for the Kids Helping Kids organization. It is the first of three events leading up to the big Kids Helping Kids Festival in November.

The event welcomes all teachers and students as well as the public to enjoy family entertainment from 6 to 8 p.m. on Friday, August 21 at Alico Family Golf, located at 16300 Lee Road (intersection of Lee and Alico roads) in Fort Myers. Admission to the celebration is free. There will be miniature golf, driving range, Bubble Soccer (6 to 7 p.m.), family entertainment, food, and more available for purchase. Donations will be accepted for the Kids Helping Kids organization.

Two other events will be held before the November festival. On September 25, there will be an appreciation event for firefighters, law enforcement and other emergency personnel and on October 16, there will be an event celebrating small business owners. Both events will be held from 6 to 8 p.m. at Alico Family Golf.

The 3rd annual Kids Helping Kids Festival will take place on Saturday, November 14 from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. at Alico Family Golf. Blood Centers And Wawa Have Teamed Up For August ee Memorial Blood Centers and Wawa, Inc. have teamed up for the entire month of August. All donors will receive coupons for a free Shorti Hoagie, a free 16-ounce hot beverage and a Wawa designed T-shirt.

Stop by one the purple blood mobiles or visit one of the blood centers to receive this offer.

The need for blood locally remains constant and donations are needed to offset summer blood shortages. People can donate a pint of blood every 56 days. Donors are encouraged to eat a meal prior to giving blood and drink plenty of water. Photo ID is required at donation time. Blood donation requirements include a minimum weight of 115 pounds and minimum age of 17. A 16-year-old may donate blood with written parental consent.

There is no upper age limit for donating blood. Many health conditions and medications do not prevent someone from donating blood. People taking insulin, blood pressure, thyroid, cholesterol medications, aspirin, antidepressants and hormone replacement can give blood. Tattoos are also OK as long as they are healed and have been done in a reputable tattoo facility.

Financial Focus Take Action To Leave The Legacy You Desire

by Jennifer Basey

A ugust is What Will Be Your Legacy Month. If you knew this, you have an unusual knowledge of obscure celebrations. But even if you weren't aware of this "month," you can see that the idea behind it – the importance of leaving a legacy – is an important one. What should you do to help ensure you'll leave the type of legacy you desire?

To begin with, identify those people whom you'd like to directly benefit from your legacy. What can you leave behind to your children, grandchildren, other family members or even close friends? Then, think about those charitable organizations you support – can you leave something behind to them?

Once you have decided what your legacy should look like, you can take steps to implement your ideas. Here are a few suggestions:

• Draw up your will. A will is probably the most essential legacy-related document. Essentially, you need a will to ensure that your assets and personal belongings will be distributed according to your wishes. If you die intestate (without a will), your belongings will be distributed to your "heirs" as defined by state laws – and these distributions may not be at all what you had in mind.

• Consider a living trust. Depending on your situation, you may need to go further than a will when creating the estate plans that help define your legacy. For example, you might want to create a living trust, which can allow your assets to go directly to your heirs, avoiding the public, time-consuming and potentially expensive process of probate. A living trust offers other benefits, too, so you may want to consult with a legal professional to learn more about this estateplanning tool.

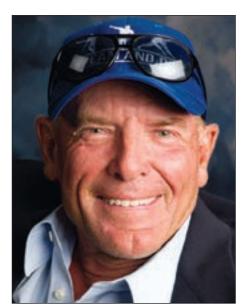

• Plan for your charitable gifts. To leave the legacy you have envisioned, you might want to do more than provide your loved ones with needed financial resources – you may also want to provide lasting support to those charitable or educational organizations whose work you admire. Toward this end, you might want to consult with your tax and legal advisors about charitable gifting strategies that can provide tax benefits, both now and in the future.

• Give your family the power to act on your behalf. Like everyone else, you want to be in charge of your own destiny. Unfortunately, however, you may someday become mentally or physically incapacitated for a while. If this were to happen, you'll want your family to be able to act on your behalf with regard to financial and health care decisions. To grant your loved ones this power, you may want to create a power of attorney and a health care directive.

• Communicate your wishes. You need to communicate to your loved ones the actions you have taken regarding your will, living trust and other estate-planning documents. By explaining your wishes in advance, you may be able to help your family members avoid disputes and unpleasant surprises – and that lack of "drama" can also be a key part of your legacy.

What Will Be Your Legacy Month will come and go. But by definition, your legacy will last beyond your lifetime – so make it a good one.

Clark To Speak At Community Business Awards

Dave Clark, former professional athlete and motivational speaker, has been selected as the keynote speaker for the 21st Annual Southwest Florida Blue Chip Community Awards luncheon. Sponsored by BB&T-Oswald Trippe and Company and BB&T Bank, the event will take place on November 5 at Harborside Event Center. The annual Blue Chip Award program recognizes successful, small business owners who have overcome adversity to achieve success.

Dave Clark has a powerful history of overcoming obstacles to reach his dreams. He suffered from polio as a child, but overcame the health challenges this presented to become a successful professional baseball pitcher. He is the only professional league pitcher to have pitched using crutches. As an author, motivational coach to athletes and the founder of the Dave Clark Foundation, he inspires people to overcome personal challenges and their perceived limitations in order to lead productive and satisfying lives.

Clark has received the National Heroes of Sports Award in 1999 and the Bo Jackson Courage Award in 2011. He was also honored at the White House by President Bill Clinton and has spoken before the U.S. Sports Conference, TedX Conference, National Baseball Hall of Fame and Siemens Energy.

For information on how to get an application for the Blue Chip Award or to attend the luncheon, contact Stacey Mercado at 433-7189 or SMercado@ BBandT.com.

AppleJuice Set Your Desktop, Use iPhoto Library As A Screensaver

by Carol Rooksby Weidlich, President, SWACKS

Tired of the same Background or Wallpaper on your monitor screen? Then let's look at the many options you have to change your Wallpaper and your Screensaver.

In OS X Yosemite, open System Preferences > Desktop & Screensaver. Under the Desktop tab to change your Background or Wallpaper on your monitor screen, click on your choice of Apple, iPhoto or Pictures (if you have a small arrow next to any of these it indicates you have multiple libraries. Click on the arrow and see what options you have.). Choose the photo your want to use. Check the box for Change Picture and set a time for your Wallpaper photos to change. Check Random order and you'll be surprised each time a photo appears on your monitor screen. Next to the image you'll see an option to resize your photo. By clicking on each option, you will automatically see how your photo(s) will look.

Now, open the Screensaver tab and decide which options you would like to use. Clicking on each icon will show you how the photos will appear on your screen when it is not in use. You can have your photos, digital designs, a word of the day and even your iTunes Artwork. Clicking on each photo option gives you a choice of Source or where your photos are stored. Use any of the built in photos or set your own by choosing a specific folder or your iPhoto Library. Under your options, you can set your screensaver to set after an allotted amount of time. You even have an option of have a clock show on the screen when your screensaver is in use.

This is a fun way to see photos you may have forgotten about! Workshops are held the second Tuesday of each month from 1 to 3 p.m., and meetings on the fourth Tuesday of each month from 7 to 9 p.m. (with the exception of July and August) at Zion Lutheran Church, 7401 Winkler Road in Fort Myers.

Yogurt Is Good For You, Right?

by Ross Hauser, MD and Marion Hauser, MS, RD

Y ogurt is a fermented food with healthy bacteria or probiotics that are beneficial for the digestive system. Simple yogurt is a low calorie, high nutrient food packed with protein and rich in calcium. However, the tables turn once manufacturers load their yogurts with sugar, artificial sweeteners and unrecognizable ingredients. Many yogurts have as much sugar as a can of soda. We continually find that yogurt is one of the most confusing foods to people.

Whether yogurt is a healthy choice depends on the variety selected. When purchasing yogurt, opt for yogurt that contains more grams of protein per serving than sugar. Greek yogurt is a high protein yogurt option. Keep in mind the straining process in making Greek yogurt decreases the calcium content.

Those with a milk allergy or sensitivity can find alternative yogurts made from coconut, soy or almond milk, but check the sugar level on those as well.

And then there are frozen yogurts. Heat-treatments kill the active cultures, so be sure live cultures are present. Many frozen yogurts have just as much sugar per serving as ice cream. Not to mention the added toppings you find in the frozen yogurt specialty stores.

Yogurt flavored and yogurt coated products, like those found in trail mixes, are most likely going to be high in sugar, heat-treated and lacking in beneficial bacteria.

Yogurt can be a healthy part of your diet when you choose plain, unsweetened yogurt. If you need a bit of sweetness, add a small amount of real fruit. Greek yogurt is a great alternative to sour cream to top your baked potatoes, with added protein to boot. For a healthy choice, look for yogurts high in protein, low in added sugar and free of unnecessary additives.

Mom And Me

by Lizzie and Pryce

Lizzie and Pryce answer your questions and give advice about aging concerns from a two-generational perspective. A mother and daughter team, Lizzie is a retired RN and health educator, and Pryce is a licensed psychotherapist in private practice who specializes in the care of elders and people with chronic illnesses.

Dear Mom & Me,

I retired recently and I just love it, except for one situation. My wife is constantly asking me to do things she wants done, and I want to do the things I have always dreamed of being able to do if only I had the time in my own home.

I wish she would have a more active woman's social life, get a job or something but get out of my hair. What do you suggest I do?

Merton

Dear Merton,

The retirement lifestyle takes adjustment for most couples. We usually hear women complaining about men invading their sacred space.

I would try and have a discussion in a non-threatening atmosphere and let her know how you feel. Encourage her to get some interest that will take her out of your home so you can have some alone time Your wife may also have some complaints – it is all part of the adjustment to the retired lifestyle. Lizzie

Dear Merton,

Welcome to the world of retirement. Women have complained about their newly retired husbands invading their lifestyle and the home for years.

The biggest problem seems to be that their husbands become very critical and feel they can run the home as they have run their offices, e.g. boxes for outgoing mail, alphabetizing the spice shelf and refusing to answer or take messages on the phone.

Sorry, no sympathy here. I recommend you discuss with your wife what your problems are and come to a decision as to how you can both be happy in your retirement.

Your father and grandfather probably never lived to have a retirement problem.

United Way Names Campaign Chair

David Fry of Vantage Construction Services and Dwell Florida, and a United Way board member, has been named 2015-2016 United Way campaign chair. As the campaign chair, Fry will lead the campaign with the assistance of thousands of volunteers working to meet the $9,385,330 fundraising goal.

"Being asked to chair the United Way campaign is both an honor and a challenge. It is a big responsibility to raise over $9 million for our community, but I will pursue the goal with passion and enthusiasm. I know what the United Way does to strengthen our community," said Fry.

Fry was born in Florida and has lived in Southwest Florida all of his life. He and his wife, Monique, have been married for 24 years and have four daughters. Fry has been involved with the United Way since 2005 when he participated with his family in a food packing event for Harry Chapin Food Bank at the United Way. "I initially got involved because I wanted my daughters to experience giving back to our community and helping others," Fry said. "Once I learned more about our United Way, how the money stays local, the variety of agencies, the fact that over 90 percent of the money raised goes directly to helping local people, I became more involved both personally and with my former company, WCI."

Fry's experience as president and chief executive officer with the developer WCI is an asset he brings to the campaign because of his knowledge of local business, marketing and the many community developments in the area. He was with WCI for 17 years.

"Being involved with the United Way is a great opportunity for employers. Local business can become involved not only to raise money for this worthy cause, but also to use the United Way as a common platform to introduce employees to fun activities such as volunteering as a team, benefitting the cause and increasing employee engagement. This is a win-win for the United Way, the company and the employees," Fry added.

"I anticipate a very successful campaign, but I need your help, both businesses and individuals. With your help, we can make the $9.3 million campaign goal. Every company campaign, every dollar given by an individual, together make a big difference. Your gift is an investment in our community. With your help, we can change lives and make this community an even better place to live," Fry said.

"Yes, the economy has improved in Southwest Florida, but many residents still suffer greatly because of slow employment growth, part-time jobs, fixed incomes, or because they were so devastated by the economic fall that they have never recovered. Eighty-four United Way Partner Agencies depend heavily on our funding, and hundreds of thousands of people, real people, your friends and neighbors, perhaps even you, need the Partner Agencies' programs. From Abuse Counseling and Treatment, to the Harry

David Fry with the United Way 2015-2016 Thermometer.

Chapin Food Bank, and The Salvation Army, all have programs vital to the health and well being of our Southwest Florida residents. I ask for your help in making this campaign successful," Fry said.

Matching Grant For Golisano Children's Hospital Exceeded

Jim Nathan, Elaine Hawkins, Dorothy Fitzgerald and Sharon MacDonald

United by a common goal of supporting a new, state-of-the art children's hospital in Southwest Florida, local businesses, community groups and individuals met the SWFL Children's Charities' match – exceeding the $1.2 million match and raising $1,329,516.60. SWFL Children's Charities, Inc. President Elaine Hawkins and Vice-President Dorothy Fitzgerald presented a check for $1.2 million to Lee Memorial Health System after learning that the community had exceeded the match challenge, bringing the total raised to more than $2.5 million. Gifts made through the matching challenge support construction of the new Golisano Children's Hospital of Southwest Florida, a 128-bed comprehensive pediatric health care facility on the grounds of HealthPark Medical Center in south Fort Myers.

"The excitement and response to the matching gift challenge has been overwhelming, and we are truly grateful to the community and SWFL Children's Charities for exceeding the goal and for their continued generosity," said Jim Nathan, president of Lee Memorial Health System, parent organization of Golisano Children's Hospital. "The match rallied the community and motivated so many people to give. Throughout the 90-day challenge, we heard from patient families, volunteers, local business leaders and community groups who were inspired by the match and took advantage of this generous offer to help us build a new children's hospital to serve our five-county region."

After recently fulfilling the final installment of their $10 million pledge to help fund the new Golisano Children's Hospital of Southwest Florida, SWFL Children's Charities, Inc. offered to match donations, dollar-for-dollar, up to $1.2 million.

"I'm so thrilled that the community stepped up to the challenge and met the match. Working with the trustees, we truly felt that the match was the spark that was needed to ignite the campaign and motivate a very generous community," said Joe Anderson, owner of Benovia Winery in Sonoma County, California and a long-time supporter of the Southwest Florida Wine & Food Festival. "As someone from outside the region, I want to impress how fortunate the Southwest Florida community is to have excellent hospital leadership and a very dedicated, active board of trustees with the Southwest Florida Wine & Food Festival. It's truly a convergence of like-minded people with a clear focus and goal of how to raise funds and where the money is needed."

SWFL Children's Charities sponsors the annual Southwest Florida Wine & Food Fest each year, donating proceeds to Golisano Children's Hospital of Southwest Florida, and programs benefitting children at Florida SouthWestern State College and Florida Gulf Coast University.

"It's amazing what we've accomplished as a community in just 90 days," said Dave and Pat Gibbons, trustees for the Southwest Florida Wine & Food Festival. "The fulfillment of this challenge over and above the goal truly demonstrates how much the community and our trustees care about the health and well-being of children in Southwest Florida. We are grateful for every dollar given, every dollar matched and everyone who gave."

Community groups, businesses, and individuals wishing to make a capital campaign gift to help Golisano Children's Hospital should visit www.childrenshospitalgoal.org or contact Lee Memorial Health System Foundation at 343-6950.

Scheduled for completion in early 2017, the new Golisano Children's Hospital of Southwest Florida will include 128 beds for the care of local children along with the latest medical equipment and a specialty trained team of medical care providers. The 292,000-square-foot facility, currently under construction on the HealthPark campus, will be completely dedicated to pediatric specialty care. Through the generous support of local residents and businesses, $91 million has been raised to help build the new Golisano Children's Hospital of Southwest Florida.

My Stars ★★★★

FOR WEEK OF AUGUST 17, 2015

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) A previous misunderstanding continues to taint the atmosphere to some extent in the early part of the week. But cooler heads prevail, and the situation eases by week's end.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) While the artistic aspect of the Divine Bovine is wellserved this week, that practical side is also getting the sort of recognition that could lead to a new and well-deserved opportunity.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) With home-related matters taking on more importance this week, now could be the time to make some long-deferred purchases. But shop carefully for the best quality at the best price.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Congratulations. While that family problem might still rankle, it should be easing thanks to your efforts to calm the waters. Also, a workplace situation seems to be moving in your favor.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) The Big Cat's energy levels should be rather high these days, and you might do well to tackle any tasks that still need doing. This will clear the way for those upcoming projects.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Someone's criticism might not be as negative as you perceive. Actually, it could be helpful. Discuss the matter with your critic, and you both could learn something valuable.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) A business matter could cause some friction among your colleagues. But once again, that logical mind of yours comes to the rescue. And the sooner it does, the better!

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) There might still be some heated temper flare-ups out there. But your sensible self should advise you to stay out of these situations until things cool down and calm is restored.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Changing your mind could be the right thing to do if you can't resolve your doubts. You might want to discuss the matter with someone whose advice you trust.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) The Sea Goat's merrier side dominates this week, and this means that, despite your usual busy schedule, you'll be able to squeeze in parties and all sorts of fabulous fun times.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) An educational opportunity could lead to something other than what you had planned. But keep an open mind, and before you decide to turn it down, check it out.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) The Piscean wit and wisdom helps you work through a situation that might have been accidentally or even deliberately obscured. What you unravel could prove to be very revealing.

BORN THIS WEEK: Loyalty is important to you. You demand it, but you also give it generously and lovingly.

• On Aug. 21, 1991, just three days after it began, a coup against Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev collapses. The Soviet Union would soon cease to exist as a nation and as a Cold War threat to the United States. Gorbachev resigned as leader of the Soviet Union in December 1991.

STRANGE BUT TRUE

• It was noted 20th-century British dystopian author George Orwell who made the following sage observation: "The nationalist not only does not disapprove of atrocities committed by his own side, he has a remarkable capacity for not even hearing about them."

• If you're like the average 75-year-old American man, you've spent a total of 37.5 days in the act of shaving.

• According to the World Health

Organization, the United States ranks 48th in the world in alcohol consumption per capita, with the average adult drinking the equivalent nearly 2.5 gallons of pure, undiluted alcohol per year. You might be surprised to learn that Russia didn't top the list; Moldova and Lithuania beat out the Russians, and Belarus scored the world's biggest drinkers, with the average adult consuming a whopping 4.6 gallons annually.

• Actors Kevin Spacey and Val Kilmer were classmates in high school.

• In a 2014 survey conducted by Nutrisystem, 32 percent of respondents said that they hadn't worn a bathing suit in public in the past five years, 20 percent said it had been 10 or more years, and 5 percent said they had never worn a swimsuit in public.

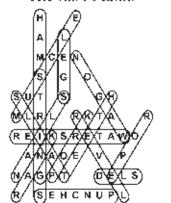

• In ancient Egypt, there was a ban on the export of cats, which, by the law of supply and demand, increased the value of the pets in the rest of the known world. This situation was an irresistible invitation to smugglers, of course; once Phoenician sailors managed to surreptitiously bring some felines to buyers around the Mediterranean, breeders took over and ruined the business.

• The vast nation of Canada got its name from the Iroquois word "Kanata," which means "village."

Grilled Swordfish with Mango Citrus Salsa

- 1 cup pink grapefruit sections
- 1 cup orange sections 1 cup papaya cubes
- 1 star fruit, diced
- 1 cup mango cubes
- 1 medium red onion, finely diced
- 1 tablespoon fresh cilantro, chopped
- 1 tablespoon mint, chopped
- 2 tablespoons orange liqueur (optional)
- 4 six-ounce swordfish steaks,
- $1^{1\!/_{2}}$ inch thick, skin removed
- 1 tablespoon olive oil
- Sea salt
- Black pepper
- Mint sprigs for garnish

Make the Mango Citrus Salsa by combining all ingredients except swordfish, oil, salt and pepper in a medium bowl. Mix well and set aside to let flavors blend. Brush swordfish steaks with olive oil then season with salt and pepper to taste. Grill steaks over medium-high heat for 4 minutes per side or until cooked through. To serve, spoon the Mango Citrus Salsa over the swordfish steaks and garnish with mint sprigs.

Yield four servings.

Pets Of The Week

'm Cabela and there are so many reasons why you should adopt me, I don't know where to begin. I'm mature, well adjusted, play well with other dogs and people, and I'm beautiful. I'd love to be your new companion so we can hike, go to the beach or just hang out at home. My adoption fee is $37.50 (regularly $75) during Animal Services' Endless Summer adoption promotion when you donate a new bag of dog or cat food or a case of canned cat food.

There are tons of kittens at the shelter to choose from but I'm the one you won't want to miss. My name is Onyx and I'm the perfect kitten because I'm perky and smart but cuddly and calm. I have a beautiful shiny black coat and I behave perfectly when I get my nails trimmed. My adoption fee is $25 (regularly $50) during Animal Services' adoption promotion when you donate a new bag of dog or cat food or a case of canned cat food.

For information about this week's pets, call 533-7387 (LEE-PETS) or log on to Animal Services' website at www. LeeLostPets.com. When calling, refer to the animal's ID number. The website updates every hour so you will be able to see if these or any other pets are still available.

The shelter is open for adoptions from 10:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday. The shelter is located at 5600 Banner Drive in Fort Myers, next to the Lee County Sheriff's Office off Six Mile Cypress Parkway.

All adoptions include spay/neuter surgery, age-appropriate vaccinations, rabies vaccination and county license if three months or older, flea treatment, worming, heartworm test for dogs six months and over, feline AIDS and leukemia test for cats, training DVD, 10-day health guarantee, and a bag of Science Diet pet food.

The adoption package is valued at $500.举
