Season Of Praise Concert At Shell Point Village Church

The Village Church at Shell Point has announced the lineup for its 2015-16 Season of Praise Concert Series, an annual collection of sacred music and inspirational worship celebrations.

Five performances will bring a mix of singers, actors, solo and ensemble instrumentalists, pianists, organists, a brass band and a choir to the newly-renovated Village Church stage at Shell Point. The artist roster and dates are as follows:

• Christmas with CS Lewis – Sunday,

• Christmas with CS Lewis – Sunday, December 6 at 6:15 p.m. British actor David Payne will bring novelist CS Lewis to life in this 90-minute, one-man Christmas drama that follows the life and beliefs of this Chronicles of Narnia author.

• Tim Zimmerman & The King's Brass – Sunday, January 10 at 6:15 p.m. The King's Brass adds contemporary flair to classic hymns by uniting three trumpets, three trombones, a tuba, percussion and keyboard for a full, rich sound.

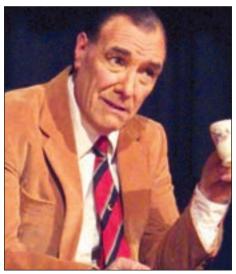

• Indiana Wesleyan University Concert Choir – Wednesday, March 9 at 7:15 p.m. This competitive choir combines youthful energy with sacred favorites at the highest level of performance and chorale ministry.

• Rachel Park, pianist – Easter Sunday, March 27 at 6:15 p.m. International pianist Rachel Park, of The King's Brass, returns to celebrate Easter Sunday with a variety of sacred piano songs.

• Tenore, Men's Trio – Sunday, April 17 at 6:15 p.m. Award-winning men's trio Tenore will engage audiences with powerhouse vocals, creating a memorable concert experience.

All concerts require the purchase of a non-refundable $10 ticket. Additional information continued on page 24

25th Annual Christmas Carol Sing To Help Feed The Hungry

veryone is invited to celebrate the holidays and help feed the hungry by singing at the 25th annual Christmas Carol Sing sponsored by the Galloway Family of Dealerships.

The Christmas Carol Sing will be Tuesday, December 8, at First Presbyterian Church, 2438 Second Street, downtown Fort Myers, between Lee Street and Royal Palm Avenue. Admission is free, although organizers request voluntary donations of at least two cans of non-perishable food for The Soup Kitchen, operated by Community Cooperative, and a voluntary cash donation, if you can.

Because of the overwhelming popularity of the event, three sing-alongs are planned, at 1 p.m., 4 p.m. and 7 p.m. The doors will open 30 minutes prior to show time. Community Cooperative provided food and other services to 10,250 people last year with the help of partner agencies, including the Harry Chapin Food Bank and United Way.

Community Cooperative was started by First Presbyterian Church in 1984 to help alleviate hunger and suffering in Lee County. The church has continued to support its ministry there by providing volunteers in The Soup Kitchen, Community Markets, and

Historic Downtown Fort Myers, Then And Now:

Courthouse Centennial

by Gerri Reaves, PhD

ne of downtown's architectural treasures is turning 100 years old. If you haven't taken the time to explore the Lee County Courthouse on Main Street, now's the time. Not only the building but even the grounds - dotted with monuments, plagues, and unusual horticultural specimens - provide entertaining local history lessons and culture lessons.

Just a few of the things you'll see: gorgeous tile floors painstakingly installed by Italian craftsmen; impressive woodwork and Georgia marble; the contents of the 1915 time capsule; historic photos; the former courtroom and current commission chamber seen in the Sean Connery film, Just Cause; and the only known remnant of the 1894 (first) courthouse.

The story of the 1915 courthouse really starts years before the Neoclassical Revival structure was built, restored and eventually listed on the National Register of Historic

It was the second county courthouse and was a long time coming.

Lee County was formed in 1887 and, for several years, county government occupied rented quarters. For example, the five-member county commission met on the second floor of the Towles & Hendry Store on the southwest corner of First and Jackson streets.

Fort Myers was represented by Capt. William H. "Wild Bill" Towles, an important official, since he would be instrumental years later in the construction of the extant courthouse.

In 1889, the new cash-strapped county bought today's Courthouse Square from Charles W. and Jane L. Hendry for $2,250.

But it was not until 1894 that the first permanent courthouse, a modest woodframe church-like structure, opened in the square bordered by Main, Broadway, Monroe and Second.

It took only two months to construct and cost a mere $3,640. An office building, jail, a small sheriff's quarters and a building to house equipment, mules and wagons soon were built on the square too.

Fast forward to 1914....The forward-thinking and audacious Capt. Towles had become head of the county commission. He had always envisioned a grander courthouse for the county he helped found, and his actions that year have become one of the most colorful and oft-told stories of old Fort Myers - one too complicated to detail

However, the basics are this: Until 1914, a frugal and practical mindset prevailed in Lee County. After all, a county couldn't tear down a perfectly good courthouse just to build a fancier one, could it? The commission was split and contentious.

In brief, Towles capitalized on his position as head of the commission to push for the demolition of the existing courthouse. He also ingeniously out-thought the more financially conservative commissioners, who had gone to Arcadia for a court injunction to stop the demolition. Harvie E. Heitman was one of them.

Legend has it that Towles then led and "supervised" - with a shotgun! - the demolition during the night his opponents were in Arcadia. (One consolation for those who opposed the demolition was that some of the lumber was recycled to build the county's first hospital.)

Subsequently built on the site, by necessity, one might say, was today's Neo-classical Revival style courthouse of stone and buff-brick, featuring Doric-order fluted columns.

It cost $100,000 and opened in December 1915.

Additions were constructed in 1925 and 1961 (administrative office building), with two floors being added to the second addition in 1972.

From 1984 to 1988, the county courthouse was vacant and fell into disrepair. In 1989, it underwent a $5.1-million restoration and was listed on the National Register. During the renovation, the time capsule placed in the cornerstone in April 1915

Walk down to the Lee County Courthouse, say "happy birthday," and ask the receptionist for a self-guided tour brochure.

Then stroll over to the Southwest Florida Museum of History at 2031 Jackson Street to find out more about those dynamic and controversial early commissioners. Call 321-7430 for information, or go to museumofhistory.org. Hours are 10 a.m.

Fort Myers Art:

Alliance Hosting Special Visiting Artist Workshops

by Tom Hall

Pour visiting instructors will lead special workshops at the Alliance for the Arts during January, February and March that provide local artists unparalleled opportunities to work with, learn from, and be inspired by experts in their mediums. All four artists regularly teach in their home towns, as well as travel to teach whenever possible.

Winston-Salem painter David Kessler will teach a workshop on January 14 to 16. His three-day Abstracts: Fresh & Loose workshop seeks to get student artists to loosen up their style and paint with more freedom and spontaneity. He says his workshop is not only about painting abstract compositions, but also learning to paint more freely. Tuition is $350 for Alliance members and $435 for non-members. More information about Kessler is at available at www.davidmkessler.com.

World-renowned mosaic artist Susan Wechsler is based in Denver, Colorado. She returns to the Alliance for a second season to present her 1- or 2-day Mosaic Workshop on January 23 to 24. She creates mosaics on items she finds at flea markets and antique shops using broken pieces of china, stained glass and gemstones. Attendees will learn to cut, glue and grout for non-members. More information about Kessler is at available at www.davidmkessler.com.

fine china, art glass and found objects to create their own beautiful keepsake mirror. Her one-day workshop on January 23 is $85 for members or $120 for non-members, plus a $55 supply fee. Her two-day workshop is $245 for members and $310 for non-members plus an $85 supply fee. To learn more about Wechsler and her work, go to www.mosaicsbysusan.com.

On February 26 and 27 lifelong artist Ginnie Peterson from St. Paul, Minnesota, will present her Paint with Molten Beeswax-Encaustic Workshop. She says this medium is perfect for painters, sculptors and photographers of all levels. Learn to paint with beeswax that is melted and saturated with pigments like those used in oil paints. Most students leave with three finished pieces per day. The workshop is $250 for members and $315 for non-members. A single-day option is available. Learn more about Peterson and her work at www.ginniepeterson.com.

Finally on March 1-3, San Francisco-based painter Elio Camacho will lead his Plein Air with Elio workshop. Although Camacho came to painting later in life, he has been a highly-regarded artist and instructor for nearly two decades. He says his goal is to help students capture the particular mood of a moment and to express themselves in bold and colorful ways, all while capturing the beauty and spontaneity of nature. His workshop is $375 for members and $475 for non-members. Learn more about Camacho at www.colorrelations.com.

These workshops have pre-registration deadlines, so don't hesitate to sign up if interested. The Alliance offers year-round classes for people of all ages and experience levels. Members receive 20 percent off all classes and workshops, among many other member benefits. Visit ArtInLee.org to learn more about the visiting artist workshops, or all of the fun and inspiring things happening at the Alliance all year long.

Information Meeting On McGregor Reconstruction

The City of Fort Myers, in conjunction with the Florida Department of Transportation (FDOT) invites the community to a public information meeting about a Flexible Pavement Reconstruction (asphalt) project on McGregor Boulevard (CR 867) from Colonial Boulevard to Poinciana Avenue in Lee County.

This informal public information meeting will be held from 5 to 7 p.m. on Thursday, December 3 at the Edison Banquet Center, located at 3583 McGregor Boulevard in Fort Myers. City of Fort Myers and FDOT project staff will be available during the meeting to discuss the proposed improvements and answer questions. No formal presentation will occur.

Improvements along this two-mile stretch of McGregor Boulevard include repaving and restriping the roadway, removal and replacement of mailboxes, four landscape median islands between Walden Drive and Vesper Drive, Sunbury Drive and Wales Drive, and Grave Avenue and Moreno Avenue, removal and replacement of storm sewer and Royal Palm trees, landscaping, reconstruction of existing sidewalks, concrete driveways, and replacement of brick pavers at various crosswalks.

FDOT will be providing funding for this Local Agency Program (LAP) project, and the City of Fort Myers will be performing the proposed improvements. The estimated project cost is $6 million. Funds are currently programmed in Fiscal Year 2015-2016, and the City of Fort Myers will determine the start date for this project.

FDOT solicits public participation without regard to race, color, national origin, age, sex, religion, disability, or family status. Lee County Farmers Markets

Lee county has two farmers markets that are open year-round and several more that are now open for the winter tourist season armers markets provide access to fresh, locally grown fruits and vegetables at the peak of the growing season. That means produce is at its ripest and tastes the best and is typically grown near where you live, not thousands of miles away or even in another country. In Southwest Florida, it also means fabulous fresh seafood, chemical-free and organic produce, fresh baked goods, native plants, local raw honey and all-natural products.

If access to healthy and delicious food isn't enough to draw you there, what about organic gardening classes, live entertainment, culinary demonstrations, art exhibits and kids' activities? The most important aspect of shopping at farmers markets is that it's fun for the entire family.

For example, every Saturday at GreenMarket at Lee County Alliance for the Arts, you may join registered yoga teacher Anna Withrow, owner of Yoga Bird, for free yoga sessions beneath the shade trees from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. The sessions are suitable for all levels and beginners are welcome. Supervised children are also encouraged to join in. Bring a yoga mat, sunscreen and water. Registration is not required.

Here is a list of Lee county's weekly farmers markets:

Wednesday: Health Park Farmers Market, Village Shoppes at Health Park, 16200 Summerlin Road at the intersection of Bass Road, 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. (rain or shine). Local produce and citrus along with baked good and other eatables. It is open year-round. Call 470-9007 or email healthparkfarmersmarket@gmail.com.

Fenway South Farmers Market, 11500 Fenway South Drive, Fort Myers in front of JetBlue Park, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Fresh local produce, cheeses, fresh pastas, seafood, baked breads, meats, herbs, organic vegetables, ready-to-eat meals, plants, flowers, crafts, soaps, candles and other items. Parking is free. It is open to March 30. Call Thursday: River District Farmers Market, under the U.S. 41 Caloosahatchee bridge, 7 a.m. to 1 p.m. Fruit, vegetables, local honey, bread, seafood, barbecue, flowers and plants. It is open year-round. Call 321-7100 or go to www.cityftmyers.com.

Friday: Lakes Park, 7330 Gladiolus Drive, Fort Myers, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Fruits, vegetables, breads, honey, soaps, jams and seafood. It is open through April 29. Call 533-7275 or go to www.buylocallee.com.

Fort Myers Beach Farmers Market, under the Matanzas Bridge between Second and Third streets, 7:30 to 11:30 a.m., rain or shine. Fruits and vegetables, flowers, seafood, baked goods, snack foods and plants. It is open to April 29. Call 765-0202 or go to www.fortmyersbeachfl.gov.

Saturday: GreenMarket at Alliance of the Arts, 10091 McGregor Boulevard near the Colonial intersection, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. An exclusive selection of locally grown, caught and cultivated foods and other products is available to sample and purchase. Live entertainment by local musicians and fun activities for kids. It is open year-round.

Call 939-2787 or go to www.artinlee.org. Florida SouthWestern State College, 8099 College Parkway, Fort Myers, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Fresh organic foods and baked goods, barbecued ribs and smoked chicken, healthy smoothies, locally caught seafood, international and domestic cheeses, glutenfree treats, meals to go, handcrafted jewelry, pottery, wood products, soaps, essential oils and glass-fused art. It is open to April 30. Call 489-9061 or go to www.buylocalee.com.

Cape Coral Farmers Market in Club Square, downtown Cape Coral, 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. Locally grown produce, native plants, fresh Gulf seafood, live music/entertainment and informative community presentations. It is open to May 14. Call 549-6900 or go to www.capecoralfarmersmarket.com. Sunday: Sanibel Island Farmers Market, 800 Dunlop Road (City Hall, next to the

Empty Bowls Pottery Sale

Glenn Whitehouse, Marilu Gallegos and Deida Valladares

n Friday, December 4, the Bower School of Music & the Arts at Florida Gulf Coast University hosts the annual Pottery Sale and Empty Bowls Soup Lunch events for pottery enthusiasts, holiday gift buyers, and community supporters at the Arts Complex courtyard on the FGCU campus. The sale will be held from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., and the soup lunch from 11:30 a.m. until the soup and bowls run out.

For 15 years, the FGCU Art Program has partnered with the United Arts Council of Collier County (UAC) to produce an annual pottery sale featuring artists from across the Southwest Florida region. The event provides visitors with an opportunity to purchase beautiful, functional, handmade pottery while also benefiting the UAC's art education programs. A portion of the proceeds from every sale will go toward the purchase of art supplies and equipment, and contribute to funding for teachers in afterschool art programs.

This year's sale will feature pottery by Angela Aradia, Alex Chung, Barbara Darling, Patricia Fay, Martha Grattan, David Hammel, Annabelle Johnson, Diane Roberts, Mary Etta Rokusek, Rinny Ryan, and current and former FGCU Art Program students.

Empty Bowls is an extraordinary national phenomenon that unites potters, students, restaurants, and food banks to address the needs of the hungry in our local communities. Potters and students make bowls, area restaurants donate soup and bread, and hunger assistance organizations provide education and outreach. For a $15 donation, visitors to the event will pick out the bowl they like best and fill it with one or more soups of their choice. After enjoying a "soup kitchen" style meal, the bowl is washed and taken home for use with the knowledge of having assisted needy members of the immediate community. One hundred percent of the donations will be given to partner organization Interfaith Charities of South Lee in Estero for their community food pantry.

A wide range of delicious soups for this event are provided by local restaurant partners: Hyatt Regency Coconut Point, Ted's Montana Grill, Olive Garden, BJ's Restaurant and Brewhouse, Applebee's, Carrabba's Italian Grill, Cheddar's and Duffy's Sports Grill. To complement the soups, rustic ciabatta bread will be donated The Artisan Bread Company of Fort Myers.

In addition, the FGCU Science of Cooking class will be contributing a vegan soup developed as a class project, and FGCU's Certified Executive Chef James Fraser will demonstrate his expertise in the creation of Tom Kha Gai, a classic coconut curry soup from Thailand, served with or without chicken.

Hope Hospice President Now A Published Author

To ensure that people across all cultures and communities benefit from hospice care, Hope HealthCare Services President and CEO Samira K. Beckwith has published an article in the November issue of the American Journal of Hospice & Palliative Medicine with co-author Dona J. Reese, PhD.

The article, Organizational Barriers to Cultural Competence in Hospice, was based on results from a national mixed-method study with directors of 207 hospices. The study was undertaken to identify major barriers to cultural competence, seek input on strategies to address those barriers, and make progress toward increasing access and utilization of hospice for diverse cultural groups.

"Across cultures, patients and their families approach the end of their journey in unique ways," said Beckwith. "Hope's professionals are experts in reaching out and sharing spiritual and emotional support to ease that journey. The comfort and care Hope Hospice provides connects all communities."

The American Journal of Hospice and Palliative Medicine is a peer-reviewed journal that highlights a multidisciplinary team approach to hospice and palliative medicine related to the care of the patient and family.

Paradise Coastmen Choru

St. Peter Lutheran Christmas Concert

The Paradise Coastmen Chorus will present their annual Christmas Concert on Tuesday, December 1 beginning at 7 p.m. at St. Peter Lutheran Church. The program by the 20-voice ensemble is a festive evening of holiday favorites in their wonderful four-part barbershop harmonies. The popular group has been entertaining Southwest Florida audiences for over 40 years. Doors open at 6:30 p.m. Admission is free; donations will be accepted. St. Peter Lutheran Church is located at 3751 Estero Boulevard in Fort Myers Beach. Call 463-4251 for more information.

Holiday Concert At Chapel By The Sea December 10

hapel by the Sea is hosting the Voices of Naples under the direction of Dr. Douglas Renfroe on Thursday, December 10 at 7 p.m. This holiday feast of choral music is sure to enrich this advent season.

This talented chorus was formed in 2002 to provide an opportunity for singers in and around Naples to study and perform choral music. Beyond this mission, the organization provides scholarship opportunities for student vocalists.

Artistic director Renfroe is a nationally acclaimed bass-baritone who has performed throughout the United States and Europe. Well known for his own musical performances, he also coaches singers to be part of this ensemble. (Dr. Renfroe will also be presenting a concert for Chapel by the Sea in March).

Chapel by the Sea Presbyterian Church is located at the corner of Estero Boulevard and Chapel Street on Fort Myers Beach. The concert is free to the public (free will offering).

Edison & Ford Holiday Nights begins Friday with a tree lighting ceremony hanksgiving Day is Thursday, November 26. In 1863, President Abraham Lincoln issued a proclamation which invited Americans to "observe the last Thursday of November as a day of Thanksgiving and praise to our beneficent Father who dwelleth in the Heavens." In 1939, President Franklin Roosevelt changed the date to the fourth Thursday in November to help merchants by lengthening the Christmas shopping season. The day is a great time to reflect on one's blessings and to enjoy quality time with family and friends.

Local events this week:

The 21st annual Sanibel Masters Art Festival is on Friday and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at The Community House.

The festival has been a Sanibel Island Thanksgiving weekend tradition for 21 years. It showcases paintings in oil, acrylic and watercolor, drawings and pastels, 2-D and 3-D mixed media and collages, photography and digital art, woodworking, sculpture, wildlife including bobcats and alligators.

Visitors are advised to wear sturdy, closed-toed shoes. Long pants and long sleeves, hats, sunscreen, bug spray, cameras, binoculars and water are recommended.. There are restrooms and a picnic shelter on site. Dogs are not permitted on this walk.

A complete schedule of this year's guided walks can be found at http://www.conservation2020.org. No reservations are required. For additional information or questions, call $822-7942.\mathbb{\%}$ ceramics, glass, handmade Tiffany-style lamps, fiber art and jewelry produced by 80 artists and artisans from around the country. Visitors have the opportunity to interact with the artists, learn a little about their inspiration, find out how they made their artworks and purchase fine works directly from the artists (or commission a specific work of art if they do not find precisely what they want). In addition to fine art and crafts, the festival is renowned for its gourmet food booths and live entertainment.

The Sanibel Masters Arts Festival is a boutique festival, meaning that participation is restricted to a small number of artists in order to avoid duplication and repetition. The limit in size and the intimate setting for the festival gives participating artists and festival goers a reasonable opportunity to converse about the art on display in the show.

The Community House is located at 2173 Periwinkle Way, Sanibel. Call 472-2155 or go to www.sanibelcommunityhouse.net.

The 40th annual Edison Ford Holiday Nights opens November 27 and is open through January 3. It has become a "must see" holiday tradition in Southwest Florida.

During the holidays the homes and gardens of the Édison and Ford families are seasonally decorated with millions of lights and historic decorations. Visitors will experience nightly entertainment, holiday tradition tours and, on select nights, Santa visits (dates are to be determined). There is also food service, evening river cruises and the Edison Ford Museum and Lab are open nightly.

Holiday Nights is closed December 24 and 25.

Guided tours run nightly at 6 and 7 p.m. Prices are $25 for adults, $8 for children (age 6 to 12), $12 for students (ages 13 through college with ID), and $5 for Edison Ford members.

General admission tickets are $20 for adults, $2 for children (age six to 12), $10 for students (ages 13 through college with ID), and free for Edison Ford Members.

The Edison & Ford Winter Estates is located at 2350 McGregor Boulevard, Fort Myers. Call 334-7419 or go to www.edisonfordwinterestates.org.

On Saturday night, Downtown Car Cruise-In returns to Fort Myers' historic River District.

From classic to cool, downtown streets are lined with show cars on the fourth Saturday of the month from 4 to 8 p.m. Music, food, drinks, and more. Free to the public with many venues featuring additional specials.

For more information, go to www.myriverdistrict.com or call 1-855-RDA-EVENTS (732-3836).

Don't forget about Fort Myers Beach's weekly Sunset Celebration concert series. Local bands play every Friday and Saturday from 5 to 10 p.m., weather permitting, and there is no charge to attend.

On Friday night, high-energy band High Tide will entertain the crowd with rock, reggae and R&B. On Saturday, Troublemakerz will take the stage.

For more information about this weekend's Sunset Celebration, call 463-5900.

On Wednesdays, the Ostego Bay Foundation's Marine Science Center offers tours of San Carlos Island's commercial fishing fleet. The three-hour guided tour starts at 9 a.m.

It includes a one-and-a-half hour guided visit at the museum which contains a touch continued on page 19

DOC FORD'S RUM BAR & GRILLE

Doc Ford's Rum Bar & Grille is named for the Doc Ford character in local author Randy Wayne White's bestselling mystery novels.

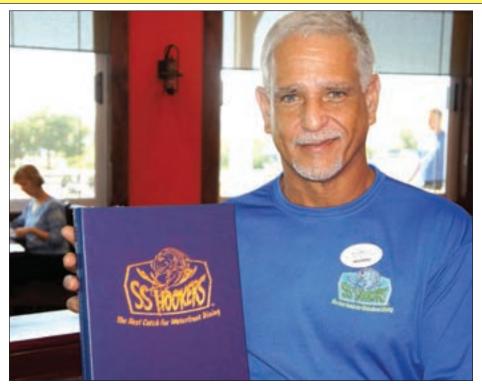

It's a well known gathering place with indoor and outdoor patio seating. The combined menu offers all the lunch and dinner items from 11 a.m. until closing. It includes cedar plank salmon topped with a mango chipotle glaze or a marinated grilled chicken sandwich and there's a well provisioned raw bar. Tropical drinks are a specialty, notably the signature rum drink, Island Mojito.

Reading Cold Front Patterns

by Capt. Matt Mitchell

ur first real cold front of winter arrived over the weekend. This not only dropped our water temperatures but brought windy conditions for a few days. As usual the first day after the passing of the cold front. conditions on the water were a little tough then gradually improved.

This cooling water is a good thing and will finally put our resident fish into the usual winter haunts. It will also give us another good push of bonita and Spanish mackerel moving south down the beaches and hopefully bring in the much-awaited sheepshead of winter.

Although I'm am certainly not a fan of cold weather, this was a much needed event after more than a month of unseasonably warm weather making our fishing more of a guessing game than it should be this time of year.

Fishing this annual cycle of winter cold fronts is now all part of the game and to be successful at it you have to adapt to the days conditions.

High pressure on the back side of a cold front is usually the enemy of snook anglers but is a plus for those targeting sheepshead.

Fishing right before the arrival of a strong cold front on the other hand can be the most wide-open snook action of the year. No matter what winter throws at us there are always a species of fish to catch it's all about picking the right fish for the conditions and learning how cold fronts affect the bite.

One of the things I really enjoy about our winter fishing is the close proximity of the action. Anglers don't have to travel far to get into the sheltered mangrove creeks, bays and channel systems that load up with fish during the winter months and prolonged periods of cooler temperatures. Slowly bouncing the bottom with live shrimp on a jig will soon become the method of choice and basically catches everything that swims.

Despite reports of a red tide fish kill and the dead fish washing up along the beaches, I've yet to see any effects of this in the sound. According to FWC's red tide reports, this bloom is still out in the gulf a few miles offshore and the dead fish are being pushed in by the wind and tides. A few days of strong winds will hopefully help to break it up if or push it offshore and to the south. Let's keep our fingers crossed that we don't have to deal with this red tide for

CROW Case Of The Week:

Raccoons And Friends Need Your Help

by Patricia Molloy

't's that time of year, again. Staff, students and a limited number of volunteers are working around the clock to feed the orphaned, injured and abducted youngsters like raccoons, opossums, baby birds, and dozens of little squirrels.

The raccoon (Procyon lotor) room contains a number of little bandits that chatter day and night. They are generally orphaned and must be tube-fed and/ or bottle-fed a milk supplement until they transition to solid meals similar to those fed to the opossums. Incidents of rabies and distemper are extremely low in baby raccoons; however, one is required to be up-to-date on certain shots in order to work with baby raccoons.

The baby squirrel room is full of incubators to keep the youngsters warm and comfortable. They are tube-fed three to four times per day Fox Valley formula, a milk replacer specifically designed for baby squirrels, eastern cottontails and opossums. Once the healthy squirrels are weened and can eat soaked monkey biscuits, vegetables and fruit, they will be transferred outside. CROW hopes to release them within three months of their arrival.

If you love the islands' diverse and exotic wildlife, please donate your time to feed and care for helpless baby birds, energetic little squirrels and injured gopher tortoises. Starry Rosinweed

by Gerri Reaves

howy starry rosinweed (Silphium asteriscus) is a perennial wildflower native to the pine flatwoods of Florida. It is also found in habitats such as moist roadsides and open woodlands.

It is one of only two Florida native wildflowers in the genus Silphium, or rosinweed. The other, kidneyleaf rosinweed (Silphium compositum), grows in more northern counties.

This member of the aster family has bright yellow ray flowers and green to yellow disk flowers at the center. In South Florida, it blooms almost year round.

The nectar in the daisy-like flowers attracts many pollinators, so it's an excellent plant for a butterfly or wild garden, where the vivid yellow contrasts with other natives like gaillardia or milkweed.

This plant is hardy and low-maintenance. Once it establishes a good root system, it will grow fairly fast and produce plenty of blooms.

It reaches three to five feet tall, forming semi-woody stems. The dark-green leaves are coarse textured with toothed edges.

Give it well-drained soil in full sun to partial shade.

Deep roots and rhizomes, root-like horizontal stems beneath the soil, help to make it drought tolerant, but it is not very salt tolerant.

The only maintenance required is occasional cutting back and/or removing old stems and flowers.

It readily self-seeds and spreads via the rhizomes.

Propagate it with seeds collected from dry flowerheads or obtain cuttings from the

"Keith EDMIER: Edison Impluvium" opens December 5 at the Bob Rauschenberg Gallery

New York Artist To Display Edison Death Mask A't FSW

he Bob Rauschenberg Gallery at Florida SouthWestern State College will display Thomas Edison's full-head "Death Mask" in a new exhibition by New York artist Keith Edmier.

Exhibition dates for "Keith Edmier: Edison Impluvium" on the Thomas Edison (Lee) Campus are from December 5 to February 6, 2016, while an opening lecture/reception will be held December 5, from 6 to 9 p.m.

Before Edison's death in 1931, close friend Henry Ford commissioned James Earle Fraser, a distinguished American sculptor, to produce a bronze statue of his hero. Fraser took the original mold of Edison's head, but his project's completion was delayed until 1949 due to a bronze shortage and the Second World War.

Edison's very rare "Death Mask," a product of Fraser's mold, is on loan from a private collector in California and has never been previously exhibited.

Edmier's gallery exhibition will include a full scale re-creation of Edison's concrete swimming pool, currently located at the Edison & Ford Winter Estates. Along the walls of the pool will be Edison's "Death Mask" and 50 additional plaster masks created by Edmier as a historical record of family and friends.

Besides self-portraits of himself, Edmier memorialized his parents, Tom and Beverly, and a "who's who" of famous friends, including Farrah Fawcett, Michael J. Fox, Charlie Sheen, David Bowie, former studio-mate Matthew Barney and many others.

Edmier explained that Ancient Roman society inspired much of the exhibition. 'Edison's Fort Myers pool is reimagined as an ancient ruin and references both the Roman Republic-era idea of life casts as ancestral masks and the water basins (known as impluviums) in the atriums of houses like those found in Pompeii," he said

The event is open to the public, free of charge. The first-come, first-served seating for the 6 p.m. lecture is limited.

Gallery hours are Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Saturday from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. The gallery is closed Sundays and holidays (including FSW's winter break from December 20 to January 3).

For more information, go to www.RauschenbergGallery.com or call 489-9313. Visit the gallery on Facebook.

Edmier was born in 1967 on Chicago's South Side and grew up in the suburb of Tinley Park. At age 17, he moved to Los Angeles to pursue a career in the film industry, creating special make-up effects. His first job was working for Rick Baker on Michael Jackson's Caption EO (which was directed by Francis Ford Coppola). He then worked for Chris Walas on David Cronenberg's remake of The Fly, which won an Academy Award for best make-up in 1986. Edmier briefly attended The California Institute of the Arts/CalArts (studying under the influential artist Mike Kelley), then continued to work in the film business throughout the rest of the 1980s, supervising effects for films, including Bride of Re-Animator, Barton Fink for Joel and Ethan Coen and the television series Freddy's Nightmares.

In the beginning of 1991, Edmier moved to New York City to work as a fine artist. He had his first solo show in 1993 at the Friedrich Petzel Gallery. He has exhibited extensively since - including solo exhibitions at the USF Contemporary Art Museum/ Tampa (curated by Bob Rauschenberg Gallery Director Jade Dellinger), the Los Angeles County Museum of Art, the Andy Warhol Museum, and major mid-career surveys at the CCS Bard Hessel Museum of Art, New York and De Hallen Haarlem/ the Frans Hals Museum, the Netherlands. His work is in numerous private and public collections, including the Walker Art Center, Minneapolis; Hessel Museum of Art/

The Bob Rauschenberg Gallery was founded as The Gallery of Fine Art in 1979 on the Lee County campus of Florida SouthWestern State College/FSW (then Edison Community College). On June 4, 2004, the Gallery of Fine Art was renamed the Bob Rauschenberg Gallery, to honor and commemorate a long-time association and friendship with the artist. Over more than three decades until his death, the gallery worked closely with Rauschenberg to present world premiere exhibitions including multiple installations of the ½ Mile or Two Furlong Piece. The artist insisted on naming the space the Bob Rauschenberg Gallery (versus the "Robert Rauschenberg Gallery") as it was consistent with the intimate, informal relationship he maintained with both the local Southwest Florida community and FSW.

The Estates Celebrates 40 Years Of Holiday Nights

The Edison Home decked out for the holidays

n November 27, Edison Ford Winter Estates will kick off its 40th anniversary celebration of Holiday Nights. The winter homes, gardens and historic buildings of Thomas Edison and Henry Ford are decorated with thousands of lights and decorations. This event has become a tradition in Southwest Florida and a top destination for visitors around the globe.

USA Today named Edison Ford as one of the 10 best historic homes for the holidays, and The American Bus Association (ABA) designated Edison Ford's Holiday Nights as one of the Top 100 Events in North America for 2016.

'The attractiveness of Edison Ford's Holiday Nights as a don't-miss entertainment value is only part of why its selection this year is such a distinction for Edison & Ford Winter Estates," said Peter J. Pantuso, ABA's president and CEO

Opening Night festivities will start officially at 6 p.m. when the Edison and Ford family officiate the annual Tree Lighting at the Edison Caretaker's House. Thomas Edison created the first Christmas lights about a century ago and Christmas was Henry Ford's favorite holiday, so Holiday Nights is very appropriate at their winter homes.

For opening night there will be other activities, such as carolers, food and beverages at the Ford Cottage Shoppe along with some of the artists and authors who work and hold classes yearround at the estates. They'll be set up under tents near the Ford Cottage Shoppe with a variety of paintings, photographs and books for purchase. Additional gift ideas are available in the Ford Cottage Shoppe.

For children, Doug MacGregor, is returning as Santa and will be cartooning with kids of all ages. Santa also will be visiting on December 18. There will be a Children's Tree Trail, a collection of trees decorated with handmade ornaments from Lee County School children.

The Edison Ford Museum and Laboratory, as well as the Ford Cottage Shoppe, Museum

Store and Garden Shoppe will be open every night. Nightly guided Holiday Tradition Tours are offered at 6 p.m. and 7 p.m., along with Inside the Homes Holiday Tours on December 1, 8 and 15 at 6:30 p.m. A sightseeing river cruise and sunset cruise are offered through Pure Florida at the Marina at Edison Ford.

Holiday Nights tickets for adults are $20 and children (6-12) are $2. Lee County residents will receive $5 off an adult ticket on select nights and students with college identification will receive a discounted rate. Guided tours are available for an additional fee. Coming Abstraction Show To Benefit Fund For The Arts oming Abstraction, a solo show by printmaker and painter Barbara J. Yeomans, will debut at the Southwest Florida Community Foundation on Thursday, December 1 and will be displayed until January 31.

The show will feature one-of-a-kind hand pulled prints and paintings by Yeomans. The artist will donate 35 percent of sales to The Fund for the Arts of Southwest Florida, a fund of the Southwest Florida Community Foundation.

The exhibit will be open in the Community Hub, the office of the Community Foundation, located at 8771 College Parkway, Suite 201 in Fort Myers. Public viewing is Mondays through Fridays from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Two artist receptions with Yeomans will take place at the Community Hub and are open to the public with advance reservations. The first will be held on Thursday, December 10 from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m., and the second the following morning, Friday, December 11 from 8 to 10 a.m. Refreshments will be served. Reservations are required by emailing rsvp@floridacom-

Yeomans was born in London, England in 1933. During World War II, her family home was bombed, and they had to relocate to the English countryside. Growing up during this turbulent time made an indelible mark on her, and she pursued arts and crafts at a young age. An arts scholarship allowed her to pursue a degree in fashion at Cheltenham College of Art. While at college, she won design awards and studied under the leading artists of the day. In the 1950s, her college career was put on hold when she met and married a young American man, Sherrill Yeomans, stationed in England. She immigrated to America and raised a family while continuing her interest in the arts as a volunteer arts teacher in Fort Myers. In the 1970s and 1980s, she created vibrant three-dimensional fabric wall hangings for various Southwest Florida interior decorators for homes and businesses throughout the region.

After her husband's death, Yeomans returned to school and enrolled in a printmaking class at a local college. There, she found a renewed passion for art making. For the past 30 years, she has honed her technique using experimental processes and materials, creating dynamic monotype prints, paintings and assemblages. During the years, she has had several one-woman shows in Florida, England, New Jersey and New York. Her work is sold exclusively in New York at the Broadfoot & Broadfoot Gallery and in England at Twenty-One B Gallery.

Those interested in seeing the show are asked to call the office in advance to assure that part of the exhibit located in meeting space is available for viewing. For more information about the Southwest Florida Community Foundation, call 274-5900 or

Harpeth Rising Performing In Fort Myers

Harpeth Rising will perform on December 5 at the Americana Community Music Association's Listening Room, located at the All Faiths Unitarian Congregation building or the past six years, Harpeth Rising has challenged the boundaries of folk music and created a sound that is both excitingly unique and surprisingly familiar. Their virtuosic instrumentals of banjo and violin mixed with cello and foot percussion create an exciting and unique blend of musical genres that include folk, rock, bluegrass, classical and roots music. Their original lyrics, conveyed through powerful three-part vocals, are both gritty and poignant.

The trio will be returning to Fort Myers on Saturday, December 5 to perform at the Americana Community Music Association Listening Room at 7 p.m. Bill Steel will be opening and the doors open at 6 p.m. The Listening Room is located at the All Faiths Unitarian Congregation building at 2756 McGregor Boulevard. There is a suggested donation of $15 ($10 for members) and reservations are encouraged

An all-female group, the members of Harpeth Rising met and were united by their eclectic musical interests while studying at the Indiana University Jacobs School of Music. Past performances include the Cambridge Folk Festival, Kerrville Folk Festival, Blissfest, Woodsongs Old-Time Radio Hour, The Bluebird, and ROMP Music Festival. The trio has recently relocated from Nashville, Tennessee to Louisville, Kentucky to be closer to their southern Indiana roots and join the growing eclectic musical and cultural landscape of the region.

Harpeth Rising's latest album, Shifted, debuted at number one on the Folk DJ Charts in August. The album's opening track, I Am Eve (I Am the Reason), also debuted as the number one song on the same chart. FATEA Magazine has called the album "truly resplendent" and Midwest Record has said the album is "taking back lyric writing as an form... this set is going to blow your mind." The album melds folk, classical music and rock with such ease that it creates a genre of its own. This constant innovation combining old and new genres of music, technical mastery, thought provoking lyrics, and heartfelt sensibility has earned Harpeth Rising the distinction of one of the most engaging and dynamic new groups in folk music today.₩

New Officers For Community Concert Board

he Fort Myers Community Concert Association Board of Directors announced Sunday that philanthropist Berne Davis has agreed to be the underwriter of the entire 2016 concert season.

Davis, who is 101 years old, has been a member of the Community Concert Association for 68 years and was the association's first sponsor in 1995 in honor of her late husband Sidney.

"Berne has been a program sponsor every year for the past 18 years," said association President Mary Lee Mann. "This gracious southern lady and patron of the arts has contributed substantially to our endowment fund to ensure the continuation of the association for many years to come and we are eternally grate-

The announcement was made at the association's fall meeting.

Mann also announced that Madeleine Taeni of Cape Coral will sponsor Aida to be performed February 10 by Teatro Lirico D'Europa; Pamela Templeton of Fort Myers will sponsor the Jerusalem Symphony Orchestra March 2; and Rob and Ruth Diefenbach of Fort Myers will sponsor the March 21 performance by classical pianist Emanuel Ax.

The association also elected officers for 2016. They are:

- Mary Lee Mann, president (Alva). community leader and long-time officer of the association;
- Ian Mann, vice president (Fort Myers), attorney
- Kay Higgins, secretary (Fort Myers), community volunteer; and
- David Hall, treasurer (East Lee County), Sanibel-Captiva Bank.

New board members are:

- Frank Mann Sr. (Alva), Lee County Commissioner;
 - lan Mann (Fort Myers), attorney;
- Wiley Parker (Fort Myers), architect with Parker/Mudgett/Smith Architects;
- Barbara Shafer (Fort Myers) whose late husband, Judge Robert Shafer, was a long-time board member.

Mary Lee Mann reported to the board that few tickets remain for this year's 67th series that begins in January with these five concerts:

- Sleeping Beauty, January 4. The Russian National Ballet captures the delight, the fantasy and the drama of the cherished story Sleeping Beauty through classical ballet and the timeless score by Tchaikovsky. The Russian National Ballet Theatre was founded with the support of the Ministry of Culture of the Russian Federation and invigorates the tradition of classical Russian ballet with developments in dance from around the world.
- Polish Baltic Philharmonic Orchestra, January 25. Richard Wagner's Overture to The Flying Dutchman and Nikolai Rimsky-Korsakov's Scheherazade Symphonic Suite will be included in this performance by the Polish Baltic Philharmonic Orchestra, which is the

The Simpsons Take Over

by Di Saggau

season with all female *playwrights continues at Theatre Conspiracy with a dark comedy written by Anne Washburn. Mr. Burns, a Post-Electric Play is definitely electrifying and entertaining. Mr. Burns tells the story of a group of survivors recalling and retelling an episode of the TV show The Simpsons shortly after a global catastrophe. Then it examines the way the story has changed seven years after that, and finally, 75 years later.

National reviews call it a new play so smart it makes your head spin. A brilliant play that will leave you dizzy with the scope and dazzle of its ideas. For a long time, Washburn had been exploring what it would be like "to take a TV show and push it past the apocalypse and see what happened to it."

Eight cast members play various roles. They are Miguel Cintron, Virginia Sisk, Anna McCullers, Thomas Marsh, Kathleen Moye, Lemec Bernard, Cantrella Canady and Shelley Sanders. Directed by Rachael Endrizzi, Mr Burns is an intoxicating and sobering vision of an American future.

The first act is set in the near future in a national park where survivors around a campfire attempt to recount the episode Cape Feare of The Simpsons show. Cintron is hysterical with his non-stop dialogue and the show ends with a musical salute to HMS Pinafore and The Mikado.

Act two, seven years later, finds the group formed into a theatrical troupe that specializes in performing Simpsons episodes, with commercials and all. It ends with a musical finale and gun shots.

Fast forward 75 years later to act three and the same episode of the TV show has been reworked into a musical pageant, reminiscent of a Gilbert & Sullivan operetta. The story, characters, and morals are repurposed to fit the artistic and dramatic needs of a culture still reeling from destruction of civilization and the near-extinction of humanity decades earlier. Thomas Marsh as Mr. Burns gives a stellar performance.

Since the world has been robbed of electricity, much of the play takes place amid shadows or in candlelight. It's not necessary, but it helps if you have some knowledge of The Simpsons and of that Cape Feare segment that is a comic take on the 1991 Martin Scorsese movie Cape Fear with Robert Mitchum. Mentions are also made of the later version starring Robert DeNiro.

The acting is really good in this play because it doesn't feel like acting, except when the characters are putting on a show. You are likely to feel exhausted and exhilarated at the end and you may also feel a strong urge to tell someone what you've just seen, even though you may not get the details right. You will remember it for a long, long time.

Treat yourself to one of the most imaginative plays to come our way. Mr. Burns, a Post-Electric Play runs through December 12 at Theatre Conspiracy, located in the Foulds Theatre at the Alliance for the Arts, 10091 McGregor Boulevard in Fort Myers. For tickets, call 936-3239.☆

City of Palms Classic Returns

by Ed Frank

The 43rd annual City of Palms Classic, the premier high school basketball tournament in the nation, returns to Fort Myers next month with 34 competing players already committed to Division I college basketball programs.

The December 18-23 tournament brings together 26 high school basketball powerhouses with teams as far away as Oregon, Missouri, Ohio, Ontario and several Florida schools.

This prestigious event has included more than 530 youngsters who advanced to NCAA Division I competition and more than 60 who went on to play professionally in the NBA.

This is the final year that the tournament will be held at Bishop Verot Catholic High School. To accommodate the growing following of the event, the tournament will move next year to the new 3,300-seat Suncoast Credit Union Arena currently under construction at Florida SouthWestern State College.

In addition to the top high school basketball talent that will compete here, many of the nation's top college coaches and scouts are certain to attend. Duke's Mike Krzyzewski has been a frequent attendee.

Here is just a sampling of the premier talent that will play here in a few weeks: Class of 2016 Hoop Scoop No. 1 player Thon Maker (The Athlete Institute); Class of 2016 ESPN No. 2 player Jayson Tatum (Chaminade, St. Louis) and the list goes

As a strong incentive to attract the top basketball talent in the nation, the tournament's foundation, Classic Basketball, Inc., covers all expenses for the 26 teams.

To purchase tickets to the six-day tournament, go to www.cityofpalmsclassic.com and click tickets.

If you attend this famous event, you will see the following athletes, their schools and the colleges they have committed to attend. Where a college is not named, the player has not publicly announced his decision.

ear Readers: As we celebrate Thanksgiving, you may want to take some extra time to reflect about your children and give thanks for them. Sometimes, though parents find it difficult to express their belief in and support for their children. Its vital for a child to know that its loved, understood and accepted but the usual well done, good boy/girl just doesnt express your feelings adequately.

I'd like to share a list of highly expressive and meaningful phrases that child psychologist Yekaterina Kes has put together to use with your child. All of them will help your child to understand the depth of your love and affection for them. What could be more important than that?

Expressing belief in your child:

- I trust you
- I believe in you
- I respect your decision
- It won't be easy, but I'm certain youll do it
 - You're doing everything right
 - You understand this perfectly
- How did you manage to do this so well?
 - Teach me how you do it, so I can succeed like you

- You can do it better than I can
- Youre better at this than me

Crediting their hard work:

- I can see how much work you put
 - I can see how hard you tried
- You worked so hard on this, and you achieved it perfectly!
 - You're making fantastic progress! - I can see you spent a lot of time on
- this
- I can imagine how much effort you had to put in to achieve this!
- You must have worked so hard to get this result!
 - All that hard work paid off!

Being thankful for the time you spend together:

- I really appreciate you spending time with me
- I cant wait to play with you tomorrow
- It's so interesting to do this with you
- I really enjoyed playing with you
- I'm so glad youre at home with me
- I'm having so much fun being with

Helping them evaluate their own performance:

- What do you think about this?
- You must be so proud!
- What's the thing you're most proud of?
 - What's your opinion on this?
- How would you evaluate your own
- And what do you think of the

- How do you wish it had gone? Being thankful for their help:

- Thank you so much for doing this - I'm so grateful that you helped me
- with this
 - You really helped me out
 - Thanks for understanding
- I don't know what I would have done without you
- Without your help, I wouldn't have succeeded
- You helped me to get through this quicker
- The house is so tidy thanks to you
 - Describing what you see: Your bedroom is so clean!
- Wow, you've made your bed!
- Fantastic!
- There are so many beautiful colors in this picture!
 - I can see that you really tried hard
- I noticed that you cleared the table yourself. Well done!

Describing how you feel:

- I just love spending time with you so much
 - I'm so happy when youre at home
 - I love being part of your team
- I love hearing your opinion I'm so incredibly grateful that I have
- It makes me so happy when you're around to help me

Autism Screening

olisano Children's Hospital of Southwest Florida, in partnership With Ronald McDonald House Charities of Southwest Florida, offers a free monthly autism spectrum disorder screening for toddlers 18 months to 5 years of age.

The next screening on the Ronald McDonald Care Mobile will be held on December 4 from 9:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Dunbar Jupiter Hammon Public Library, 3095 Blount Street, Fort Myers.

It is estimated that one in every 68 children is diagnosed with some form of autism spectrum disorder, making it more common than childhood cancer, juvenile diabetes and pediatric AIDS combined.

Medical consultants for the project stress that an early diagnosis can make a vast difference for toddlers and their families.

The ASD screening is conducted by the Golisano Children's Hospital of Southwest Florida and administered by an Advanced Registered Nurse Practitioner with extensive training and experience in typical child development and developmental disorders.

A physician referral is not required. To schedule a screening, call 343-6838.☼

Walk For Wishes 5K Walk/Run

he 6th annual Walk For Wishes 5K Walk/Run, to benefit Make-A-Wish Southern Florida, will be held on Saturday, February 27 at the Florida Gulf Coast University Recreation Field, located at 10501 FGCU Boulevard South in Fort Myers.

Rick and Barb Gallo, chairs of the 2014 and 2015 Walk/Run, are honored to be the chairs again this year serving alongside this year's Honorary Chair Greg Poss, Florida Everblades' head coach. The chairs encourage the community to help them reach this year's goal of raising enough money to grant 18 local wishes.

The hope is to have hundreds of people participate and raise money to grant the wishes of children with lifethreatening medical conditions. Wishes enrich the human experience with hope, strength and joy. Proceeds from the event will help ensure that every medically-eligible child receives a wish which offers a much-needed retreat from doctors and hospitals, helping them focus on just being a kid again.

The fundraiser is a certified timed 5K Walk/Run with registration beginning at 7:30 a.m. and walk/run beginning at 8:30 a.m. All ages are encouraged to participate in the event to help make wishes come true.

Pre-registration fees for the Walk

For Wishes are $25 for adults, $15 for students and $10 for children 13 years of age and younger. Event-day registration fees are $30 for adults, $20 for students and $15 for children 13 and younger.

Following the Walk/Run, participants are invited to enjoy a special Family Fun Day which includes food, face painting, a rock climbing wall, games, exhibits and more. This portion of the day will run from 9 to 11 a.m.

Making the day possible are sponsors Trusted Choice, Naples Concrete and Masonry, GL Homes, Scott Craven, Seminole Casino, Jackson Pools, and Pelican Landing Dental. Additional corporate and individual sponsorships are still available, ranging from $500 to $10,000. Contact Taylor Marini at 992-9474 ext. 23 or tmarini@ sflawish.org for additional information.

Registration for the 5K Walk/Run is available online at www.walkforwishes. net for individuals or to register a team. A team consists of a minimum of four people; each team member must register online and pay entry fee prior to the event. Team members receive a T-shirt if registered by February 2. Any team that raises $2,500 or more will be named a partner in sponsoring a child's wish, and any team that raises $5,000 or more will be named a wish sponsor.

For more information about Make-A-Wish, visit www.sfla.wish.org or call 992-9474 to get involved.☆

Financial Focus

How Can The Fed's Actions Affect You?

by Jennifer Basey

hen will the Federal Reserve raise interest rates? This question has been on the minds of economists and financial market prognosticators for quite some time now. But what does it mean to you, as an individual investor?

First of all, it's important to understand just what is meant by "raising rates." The Federal Reserve, or the "Fed," directly controls short-term interest rates, although, through various measures, it can also affect long-term rates. Typically, the Fed will lower short-term rates to stimulate the economy. Conversely, the Fed will raise rates to slow down the economy if it seems to be "overheating" and threatening to push inflation to excessive levels.

Since the end of 2008, when the financial crisis hit, the Fed has kept short-term rates close to zero. But now, following several years of reasonably strong economic growth, the Fed appears poised to raise rates. No one can really predict the exact timing of the rate hike, but statements from the Fed indicate that it seems to be a matter of "when," not "if."

Fed chairperson Janet Yellen has indicated that when the increase comes, it may be relatively small, and that further increases will be spaced out enough to avoid potential "shocks" to the economy. Still, as an investor, you need to be aware of the potential impact of any interest rate increase. So consider the following:

• Review your bond holdings. As short-term rates rise, shorter-term bonds, and even some "cash" instruments, may eventually become more attractive than longer-term bonds, which tend to be more volatile. A sell-off of longer-term bonds can push their prices downward, so make sure these bonds don't take up too large a percentage of your fixed-income portfolio.

• Build a bond ladder. A bond ladder may prove beneficial to you in all interest-rate environments. To construct this ladder, you need to own bonds and other fixed-rate vehicles, such as certificates of deposit (CDs) of varying maturities. Thus, when market interest rates are low, you'll still have your longer-term bonds, which typically pay higher rates than short-term bonds, working for you. And when interest rates rise, as may be the case soon, you can reinvest your maturing, short-term bonds and CDs at the higher rates. Be sure to evaluate whether the bonds or CDs held in the ladder are consistent with your investment objectives, risk tolerance and financial circumstances.

• Be prepared for volatility. Certain segments of the financial markets don't like interest rate increases – after all, higher rates mean higher borrowing costs, which make it harder for businesses to expand their operations. Therefore, depending on the composition of your portfolio, be prepared for some volatility when rates start moving up. However, since the Fed has already indicated it is likely to raise rates fairly soon, such a hike may already be largely "priced in" to the market, so any turbulence may be somewhat muted.

By taking these steps, you can help contain the effects of rising interest rates on your own investment outlook. Ultimately, as an investor, you need to concentrate on those things you can control, no matter what the Federal Reserve decides to do. And that means you need to build a diversified portfolio that reflects your goals, risk tolerance and time horizon. Maintaining this type of focus can help you – no matter where interest rates are headed.

Why Your Hair Is Falling Out And How To Fix It

by Suzy Cohen, RPh

ear Readers: I went to my favorite make up store Sephora and took note of several women buying expensive hair serums and shampoos to deal with hair loss. I didn't want to be off-putting and approach them with better suggestions, so I am writing today's article instead.

Save your money good grief! Most of those ingredients listed on the label, some of which are completely made up words, do not regrow hair, although they might make it shinier and softer. I'm all about "the fix" not the fancy label!

Correcting a hormonal imbalance in your body makes regrowing hair easy. Restoring a nutrient that is insufficient due to the 'drug mugging' effect also works. There are dozens of reasons for hair loss, this is why Minoxidil (for as good as it is) doesn't work for every individual. The root cause of hair loss varies from person to person. Let's go over some possibilities.

You may assume that lab work is expensive, but if it teases out the underlying cause, it's still cheaper than useless

First, the hormonal imbalances associated with hair loss:

- Elevated estrogen or Estrogen dominance - This is sometimes referred to as "testosterone deficiency" in the scientific literature. When this imbalance is corrected, hair grows back; the goal is more testosterone, less estrogen.
- Hypothyroidism or Hashimoto's This is a thyroid hormone imbalance and it's a biggie. When you're "thyroid sick" instead of "thyroid healthy," the outer edges of your eyebrows begin to thin, or fall out. You may completely lose your eyebrows and eyelashes. They become brittle and dry. Restoring thyroid hormone is the fix; learn how in my Thyroid Healthy book.
- Iron deficiency Iron is measured usually as "ferritin" and when it is deficient, your hair falls out faster. Low iron goes hand in hand with thyroid disease and the ulcer bug Helicobacter pylori (H. pylori).
- SHBG This stands for Sex Hormone Binding Globulin and low levels lead to hair loss. FYI, green tea raises

Now the medications that cause hair

Chemotherapy – It causes hair to fall out. It usually grows back after your treatment series. The best way to offset chemo is to take supplements and eat foods that support mitochondrial health.

Anticonvulsants - Carbamazepine is one example. Antibiotics crush biotin levels too. When biotin is tanked, your hair can fall out. Restoring probiotics and biotin can improve hair regrowth.

Acid blockers for reflux and heartburn - What do gut drugs have to do with your head? I know this one is a real head scratcher but this category of medications is a strong drug mugger of zinc, and zinc is needed for healthy hair growth. Zinc is also needed for superoxide dismutase, a natural enzyme in your body that captures microscopic fireballs (free radicals) and escorts them out. Corticosteroids like prednisone also smash zinc.

Estrogen or menopausal drugs - These drugs are used for birth control and hormone replacement. The reason is "estrogen dominance," but for the final nail in the coffin, these drugs deplete almost all your B vitamins. Taking a B complex can certainly offset the drug-induced nutrient depletion, but it only does so much. Improving estrogen metabolism and breakdown (or discontinuing the estrogenderived medicine) is your fastest path to luscious locks.

The Health Benefits Of Being Grateful

by Ross Hauser, MD and Marion Hauser, MS, RD

hankfulness and gratitude are connected with better health. Throughout history, physicians, philosophers and religious leaders have emphasized the health virtues of being thankful. Some of the health benefits include improved immune systems, feelings of connectedness and belonging, optimism and a higher team or work morale. Gratitude is even linked to positive changes in heart rate variability and blood pressure.

Grateful folks tend to engage in healthy behaviors such as regular exercise and healthy eating. We know that stress is harmful to our health, but fortunately, gratefulness improves our ability to manage stress, and thankfulness augments our coping skills. Optimism boosts immune-boosting blood cells, pessimism does the opposite. In addition to boosting the immune system, the optimism gained from gratitude has also been shown to have a positive impact on those with compromised health.

What are you most grateful for? Expressing it may boost your well-being. Talk to yourself and to others in a creative, optimistic and appreciate manner. Remember to be thankful for the little or big things your friends and family members do, to have a beneficial effect on the relationship

Instead of focusing on the hassles you face, write down the things you are thankful for. Besides giving you a brighter outlook, it also may help you fall asleep and stay asleep, another health benefit of thankfulness.

Lend support to others, as volunteering can give you a happy glow. And, of course, exercise to release the brain chemicals that create joy and content-

Counting your blessings encourages happiness. Thanksgiving is a joyful day shared with friends and family, when we make a special effort to give thanks. Let's keep the tradition of giving thanks, typically celebrated just once a year during the holiday season, going throughout the entire year.

Mom And Me

izzie and Pryce answer your guestions and give advice about aging concerns from a two-generational perspective. A mother and daughter team, Lizzie is a retired RN and health educator, and Pryce is a licensed psychotherapist in private practice who specializes in the care of elders and people with chronic illnesses

Dear Mom & Me,

Fifty years ago, we saw a lot of my cousin and his wife. They adopted two infants and were transferred 2,000 miles away. We kept in touch but did not see them too often. The children became adults and we were surprised to hear that they did not know that they were adopted.

Their mother died seven years ago and their father six months ago. Out of the blue, their son called me recently and was very upset and said he and his sister are very concerned that they might have inherited the dreadful diseases that caused their parents death. He was asking me questions because I am the only living blood relative of his father.

I tried to evade answering directly. What do you think I should do if he should call again?

Rodney

Dear Rodney, I find it hard to believe that in 50 years, the adult children didn't get some clues - but I guess some people can keep secrets for a lifetime.

If the parents did not want the adult children to know that they were adopted, I certainly would not tell them regardless of how many questions they asked me.

I would suggest that you and your sister go to the best specialist in the field of genetics and find out if there are tests that could relieve you of unnecessary concern or be the basis for medical treatment.

Lizzie

Dear Rodney,

Times have changed and professionals have long thought that adoptees should be told early by the parents before potential problems could develop. However, these parents are the ones who decided what they felt was the best plan. I would not in any way interfere with mom's plan and it is what I would advise.

FOR WEEK OF NOVEMBER 30, 2015

My Stars ★★★

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Don't feel sheepish about looking to spend more time with that special person during the upcoming holidays. Do it because it's the right thing to do.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Never mind letting misunderstandings repair themselves. Consider speaking up while the healing process can be shorter and sweeter and leave fewer scars.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Romance is easily awakened in the Geminian heart, especially around the happy holiday season. So go ahead and make those plans with that special someone.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Moon Children can glow with their own inner light as the holiday season magic takes hold. It's a very special time for Cancers and Libras together. Enjoy.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) It's a good time for you fabulous Felines to take pleasure in your special gift for, well, taking pleasure! Look for this holiday season to give you every reason to purr.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) This is a good time to let others who are in your life get a little closer to you. You'll both find out what you've been missing for far too long.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) Open up your eyes and see some welcome surprises you've missed or overlooked for too long. What you find can lead to other favorable changes.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) What you expect to be potentially troublesome might simply be especially challenging and well worth your efforts to check out. Good luck!

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) A friendship might not seem as trustworthy as you'd like. OK. Ask your questions, get your answers and settle the matter once and for all.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) A family situation moves into a new area because of (or, maybe, thanks to) some decisions you might have felt you could not AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) You could be cutting it very close if you time to avoid problems. Get a friend or family member to help.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Friends show how important you are to them. Keep these precious relationships thriving. They affect much that will happen to the fabulous Fish in the new year.

BORN THIS WEEK: Time spent at home alone nurtures your mystic self. Spending your time with others nurtures them.

THIS WEEK IN HISTORY

- On Dec. 2, 1859, in Charles Town, Virginia, abolitionist John Brown is executed on charges of treason, murder and insurrection. Brown became militant during the mid-1850s, when he fought pro-slavery settlers in the sharply divided Kansas Free State territory.
- On Dec. 6, 1917, a Belgian steamer and French freighter, both loaded with ammunition, explode in Canada's Halifax Harbor, leveling part of the town and killing nearly 1,600 people and injuring some 8,000. The ships carried 8 million tons of TNT intended for use in World War I.
- On Dec. 5, 1945, five U.S. Navy torpedo-bombers take off from Florida on a routine training mission over the Atlantic Ocean. The squadron leader later reported that his compass had failed and his position was unknown, and a rescue aircraft was dispatched with a 13-man crew. No trace of the 27 crewmen or six aircraft was ever found.
- On Dec. 4, 1956, the "Million Dollar Quartet" convenes at Sun Studios in Memphis, Tennessee, in an historic impromptu jam session. Present were Carl Perkins, Johnny Cash, Jerry Lee Lewis and Elvis Presley. A tape recorded that day was not discovered until 1981.
- On Nov. 30, 1965, lawyer Ralph Nader publishes the muckraking book "Unsafe at Any Speed." It became a bestseller and prompted the passage of seat-belt laws in 49 states (all but New Hampshire).
- On Dec. 3, 1979, eleven people are killed in a stampede outside a Who concert in Cincinnati when a crowd of generaladmission ticket-holders surged forward in an attempt to secure prime unreserved seats inside, known as festival seating.
 - On Dec. 1, 1990, 132 feet below the

STRANGE BUT TRUE

- It was Scottish novelist and politician John Buchan who made the following sage observation: "We can pay our debt to the past by putting the future in debt to ourselves.
- The general board of the prestigious University of Cambridge has recommended that the institution hire a Professor of Lego. Yep. The lucky academic will head up the Research Centre on Play in Education, Development and Learning. On a related note, Cambridge recently received a donation of more than $6 million from the Lego Foundation.
- If you happen to have 40 billion Lego bricks lying around, you could, theoretically, build a tower to the moon.
- Single-shot coffee makers like Keurig are increasingly popular, but the inventor of the K-Cup coffee pods doesn't actually use them himself. John Sylvan says, "I don't have one. They're kind of expensive to use." He added, "It's not like drip coffee is tough to make.
- Beloved British author Charles Dickens was forced to go to work at the age of 11, pasting labels on bottles of shoe polish in a boot-blacking factory. Soon after, his father was put in debtors' prison, and when his mother and siblings went to live with him there; young Charles was left to live on the streets and fend for himself. It's not surprising, then, that after Dickens achieved the great success he enjoyed as a writer, he was an ardent campaigner for children's rights.
- If you plan to become a patriotic citizen of Greece, I hope you have a good memory: The Greek national anthem has a whopping 158 verses.

 Hold the fish in the water while you unhook it if you're going to release it.

 The less you can touch a fish before release the better for the fish.

 If you want a picture with the fish, support it as you lift it out of the water and do it quickly.

· Before releasing, revive the fish while holding it in the water; moving it slowly back and forth so water goes over its gills. The fish will let you know when it's ready to swim off.

 Florida just recently changed the regulations on fishing from shore. Florida residents as well as out of state visitors need a fishing license to fish from shore.

Pets Of The Week

i, my name is Vienna, and I am a five-year-old spayed female red Chihuahua. don't know if I was named after the city in Austria or the sausage. Nevertheless, I'm a charming, elegant, lovable but slightly plump little Chihuahua. The volunteers and staff at the shelter adore me and can't say enough good things about me. I'd make the perfect little companion and lifetime friend for you. I know you'll love me!

Adoption fee: $50 (regularly $75) during Animal Services' Pet'acular Thanksgiving

Adoption Promotion

My name is Sophie, and I am a seven-month-old black domestic short hair female. Wow! I've been at the shelter since July 31. I've basically grown up here. I am really sweet and obviously cute. I really want to find my forever home soon. Since I've grown up around other cats, I would fit right in with your family cats.

Adoption fee: $20 (regularly $75) during

Animal Services' "Pet'acular Thanksgiving" Adoption promo. On Black Saturday, November 28, all predominantly black pets may be adopted Vienna ID# 643906 for just $5! Cats & kittens are also two for one adoption fee!

For information about this week's pets, call 533-7387 (LEE-PETS) or log on to Animal Services' website at www.LeeLostPets.com. When calling, refer to the animal's ID number. The website updates every hour so you will be able to see if these or any other pets are still

The shelter is open for adoptions from 10:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday. The shelter is located at 5600 Banner Drive in Fort Myers, next to the Lee County Sheriff's Office off Six Mile Cypress

All adoptions include spay/neuter surgery, age-appropriate vaccinations, rabies vaccination and county license if three months or older, flea treatment, worming, heartworm test for dogs six months and over, feline AIDS and leukemia test for cats, training DVD, 10-day health guarantee, and a bag of Science Diet pet food.

The adoption package is valued at $500.☆
