

Reception For Family Of Artists

Arts for ACT Gallery will hold an opening reception and meet-the-artist session for a family of artists during Art Walk on Friday, June 4 from 6 to 10 p.m. The exhibition will feature abstract resin pours and realism from three generations of artists from one family; Pat Cleveland (posthumous), a donor to Arts for ACT for over 28 years; her daughter, Bonnie Turner; and her grandson, Brock Turner. New works from the gallery co-op artists will also be on display.

At age 3, Cleveland copied a painting on her mother's easel, and this started a lifelong passion to paint. She graduated from the Pratt Institute of Design in New York and was an interior designer until she retired. Upon retirement, Cleveland began to paint and was an award-winning artist. She had several solo exhibits across the United States, producing mostly realistic art.

As Cleveland aged, she was diagnosed with macular degeneration and soon became legally blind. Her love of painting continued, but her style changed to abstract realism, becoming a looser painter with more vivid colors. Seeing an ad in an art catalog for acrylic pour paints, she became inspired and, at age 85, explored the wonderful world of YouTube. While watching acrylic pour videos, she sent her daughter Bonnie to the store for supplies. This began the painting of a three-generation family.

With a construction background, Brock Turner soon began teaching the creative ways to produce an acrylic pour and to have fun as an artistic family until Cleveland passed away in December 2019. The Turners continue to paint. They began posting to Instagram and have taught acrylic pour classes. Brock has started his own YouTube Channel and posting on TikTok.

This exhibit will be on view through Monday, June 28.

Arts for ACT Gallery is located at 2265 First Street in downtown Fort Myers. For more information, visit www.artsforactgallery.com. ✨

A Country Music Weekend In Store

Popular country music star Chris Wallin will perform with Billy Dean at the Players Circle Theatre on Friday and Saturday, June 4 to 5. The Friday performance begins at 8 p.m.; Saturday's show is at 7 p.m. Ticket prices range from $35 to $75.

Wallin has established himself as one of

Billy Dean

Nashville's most sought-after songwriters. He began writing songs at age 12 and has worked hard to achieve his place on the "A List" of Nashville songwriters. He has topped the charts with classics in the making for the industry's biggest stars. Artists who have cut Wallin's songs include Kenny Chesney, Garth Brooks, Trace Adkins and Toby Keith.

Dean first gained national attention on TV's Star Search in 1990. The Grammy-winning artist has mastered the art of The Estero Island Garden Club is honoring veterans with a Blue Star Memorial Marker, which will be unveiled next to the entrance of the Fort Myers Beach Library on Saturday, May 22 at 10 a.m. Service members, veterans, family and friends are welcome to attend the ceremony.

The blue star was used on service flags to denote a service member fighting in the war. The program has since been expanded to include memorial markers and memorial by-ways. Since 1994, these markers have been used in national cemeteries,

Historic Downtown Fort Myers, Then And Now:

Lofton's Island Gets A Makeover

by Gerri Reaves, PhD

Just off the downtown riverfront lies an island with a new name, Legacy Island, and a newly defined future. But what is the legacy of that spoil island, which for decades has been the topic of redevelopment dreams – some of them a bit zany?

Jesse Lee “JL” Lofton created his namesake island while working on a federal dredging project to deepen the waters in the Caloosahatchee River from Punta Rassa to Fort Thompson from 1910 to 1912.

He deposited the “island” west off the downtown riverfront and declared squatter’s rights.

As his 1949 obituary summed up his career, Lofton built numerous bridges and seawalls in the area, including the bridges between Sanibel and Captiva and between the mainland and Fort Myers Beach.

In 1911, he built a three-bedroom house on the newly created island and he, his wife Florence and daughter, Zelma, moved there. Zelma rowed into downtown to attend school.

The circa-1920 photo shows the island during the family’s residence, when it was populated by numerous palms.

In 1948, Lofton sold the island for $4,000 to Tom Phillips, who quickly flipped it.

In 1949, it was marketed as a three-acre island with rights to fill up to 10 acres. (Note that the island’s acreage above water fluctuates, a warning sign to anyone wanting to develop it.)

That same year, a fire of undetermined origin swept the island, destroying the frame house and damaging most of the invasive Australian pines.

In 1950, Phillips sold the five-acre island to A. Lowell and Elinor Hunt for $7,500.

Lowell Hunt was a well-known author of the book Florida Today (which had just been published by Scribners) and articles in national magazines such as Collier’s, Pageant, American Weekly, Parade and Coronet.

Circa 1920, when JL Lofton’s family lived on the island, palm trees abounded. In the background is the Fort Myers waterfront photo courtesy Florida State Archives

The couple built a much larger house on the island and electrified it via an underwater cable. It was to be a home and writing retreat.

The Hunts planned to remove the exotic Australian pines and plant coconut palms, citrus trees and other tropical shrubs.

The circa-1950 aerial photo pictures the island the year of the sale. In the southward view, the Fort Myers Yacht Basin is visible in the upper left.

One might say that the zany development dreams really began in 1950, because Hunt also considered exercising his right to fill the island to 10 acres, erecting a retaining wall and building a road to connect the island to the Edison Bridge.

The road-to-the-bridge idea was quashed in December 1950, however, when the State Road Department revoked and canceled the permission it had granted in 1930, the year the bridge was completed.

Twenty years later, traffic had grown exponentially, making such a project unthinkable.

Through the decades, the island has changed ownership several times, and there

Students Help Homeless Families With Care Kits

Fort Myers Christian School (FMCS) National Junior Honor Society (NJHS) students created a GoFundMe page and built care kits to help people experiencing homelessness in Lee County.

Earlier in the school year, NJHS students discussed the best way to help the community during the COVID-19 pandemic. Students were passionate about helping the homeless and met with Janet Bartos, executive director of the Lee County Homeless Coalition, who shared over a Zoom call what homelessness looked like in Lee County and suggested different ways they could help.

NJHS students raised $604 to build care kits. They decided the kits needed to include three necessities: food, toiletries and a bible for spiritual support. Students created a list of items on Amazon to purchase these items along with reusable drawstring bags.

After budgeting, students were able to create homeless kits that included a toothbrush and two tubes of toothpaste, waterless shower kits, deodorant, a bible, bug spray, a first aid kit, a $25 Publix gift card and a personal note of encouragement. NJHS students hand-delivered the kits to Bartos at the Lee County Homeless Coalition.

"This has been a great experience for our students to go through the process of budgeting, choosing items and putting together homeless kits," said Jeff Broome, NJHS coordinator for Fort Myers Christian School. "Our students learned more about what is happening in their community and how they could help others in their time of need."

"We are proud of the way NJHS students raised funds and care kits for families facing hardship in Lee County," said Bartos. "Our community is facing challenges we've not experienced before, and every young person who got involved through this effort has impacted the future of our community. The actions of NJHS students at FMCS give me hope for our future in Fort Myers."

Bonita Film Festival Screens This Weekend

by Tom Hall

The Bonita International Film Festival (BIFF) opens at the Hinman & Moe Auditoriums of the Center for Performing Arts on Friday, May 21 with a 5 p.m. cocktail party, movie and a concert by the Stevie Nicks concert band NightBird. The film festival continues on Saturday and Sunday, May 22 and 23. On Sunday, it wraps up with a 5 p.m. cocktail party, movie, awards ceremony and concert featuring Meet Loaf Tribute, a Meatloaf cover band, .

Friday's cocktail reception will include heavy hors d'oeuvres at 5 p.m. It will be followed by the screening of Paint at 6 p.m., then NightBird takes the stage at 8 p.m. to regale participants with covers from Stevie Nicks ranging from her early career with Fleetwood Mac into anthology as a solo artist.

Paint is a dramedy about three friends from art school who are struggling to start their careers in the bizarre New York City art world while trying to figure themselves out and get by economically. Written and directed by Michael Walker, the film stars Josh Caras (The Highwaymen, The Glass Castle), Olivia Luccardi (Channel Zero: Butcher's Block, It Follows) and Paul Cooper (The Gifted, Westworld).

Premium tickets for the evening are $75. If you only want to catch the concert, tickets are $38 to $45.

Over Saturday and Sunday, BIFF will present more than 60 carefully curated narrative, documentary, animation and short films from around the world. Along with associated workshops, demonstrations and panel discussions with writers, directors, producers and actors, the festival offers a wealth of experiences for all ages – consistent with the Centers for the Arts' conviction that "through the art of cinema we foster a community that is more informed, more aware and more alive."

Among the screenings are two packages of short films. One of the films included in Shorts Package 2 is The Wild Divide, a documentary produced by Florida Wildlife Corridor about the importance of maintaining effective wildlife corridors along the Lake Wales Ridge, an ancient ribbon of sand dunes that is a hotspot for biodiversity found nowhere else in the world. Shorts Package 2 begins at 4:15 p.m. on Sunday in Hinman Auditorium. The Last Sermon, which begins at 6 p.m. on Sunday, is a documentary that highlights filmmakers traveling across Europe to uncover the truth about Islam and terrorism. Visiting refugee camps and mosques, they encounter dynamic characters, healing music and an unpredictable tragedy that changes and heightens their quest.

Cost for the closing night cocktail party, film, awards ceremony and concert is $65. For the full inclusive ticket, a festival badge costs $200, and includes opening and closing nights festivities and 10 additional films.

Now in its sixth year, BIFF is the culmination of a journey that began in 2008, when Centers for the Arts Bonita Springs (CFABS) launched its Film for Film Lovers series. In 2012, the center added its Foreign Film Series, which was followed in 2015 by the impressive Southern Circuit Tour of Independent Filmmakers and ultimately the exciting Bonita Springs International Film Festival in 2016.

As in years past, BIFF will screen films in both the 200-seat Moe Auditorium and Film Center and 400-seat Hinman Auditoriums at the Center for Performing Arts' facilities, located at 10150 Bonita Beach Boulevard in Bonita Springs.

BIFF sponsors include LaQuinta Inns & Suites, WGPU, Lee County Visitor & Convention Bureau and Culture Builds Florida.

For more information, full schedule and tickets, visit www.artcenterbonita.org/biff/index.html or call 495-8989.

has been no shortage of plans to develop – and even rename -- the island.

Projects ranged from making it a "tower of light" tourist attraction and memorial to Thomas A. Edison to making it a public park or restaurant, marina site, or a resort.

In the early 1960s, it was puzzlingly zoned for the first time in history – as a motel and apartment site – and in 1971 rezoned from residential to business.

In 2007, a The News-Press article touted it as "a piece of paradise" – nine acres for $9 million.

Now, three partners have bought the three-acre island, cleared the garbage and nonnative and invasive plants, and plan to develop it as a daytrip destination.

Walk to the downtown riverfront to see the latest developments on a 110-year-old spoil island, the stuff of many unfulfilled dreams.

OBITUARY

ALEXANDER SCOTT LOGAN

Alexander Scott Logan, 81, died on April 28, 2021 at his home in Fort Myers, Florida from complications of long-standing heart disease.

He was born on May 14, 1939 in Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, the son of Drs. Edward Bates and Louise (Reichenburg) Logan. He graduated from Susquehanna High School in 1956 and the U.S. Naval Academy in 1960. He furthered his education at the University of Pennsylvania Law School, the College of Financial Planning and Boston University School of Law, and was a litigation attorney before becoming involved in the world of finance.

As a graduate of the U.S. Naval Academy, Scott spent four years on active duty with the U.S. Navy, then transitioned to the Navy Reserves. He held positions on several destroyers including weapons officer, chief engineer, executive officer and commanding officer as well as commanding officer assignments on coastal and ocean-going minesweepers. He was especially proud of his assignments as commander of the Icelandic Defense Force, commander of the Maritime Prepositioning Force, and deputy commander of the Naval Surface Forces, Atlantic. After 37 years with the Navy, Scott retired in 1993 as a two-star rear admiral.

While he continued his career with the Navy Reserves, he began to simultaneously work in financial services, a career that spanned more than 40 years, with an emphasis on retirement plans, variable annuities and mutual funds. He started as in-house counsel and compliance attorney for J&W Seligman Co., and from there he went on to become a vice president of Massachusetts Financial Services (MFS), where he was responsible for financial plans and services. In 1986, Scott partnered with H. Douglas Wood to form Wood Logan Associates, Inc., an independent wholesale marketing and sales organization dedicated to the distribution of variable annuities.

As he left official work and proclaimed, "I'm going fishing and I'm not coming back," Scott really didn't retire, but instead became engaged in a number of endeavors involving the financial services industry, the U.S. Navy and personal business. One of his interests involved being a founding member of the National Association for Variable Annuities (NAVA), to which he was inducted into the NAVA Hall of Fame in 1999. Other new ventures involved acquiring a ranch in Florida to grow oranges and raise beef, and buying a mountain in North Carolina to develop. Scott's well-worn daily planner was still being actively used in his final days.

Scott rounded out his life by actively participating in the work of a number of charitable organizations. In addition to serving as a director on several nonprofit boards, his most notable collaboration was with the National Multiple Sclerosis Society. He was honored to be the recipient of the MS Society Hope Award in 1999 for his significant work and contributions toward the research and treatment of multiple sclerosis.

Scott is survived by his wife Susan (Thompson) Logan and his sons Dr. Kent Logan and his wife Kathleen and grandson Alexander of Portsmouth, New Hampshire, and Lance Logan and his wife Jennie and granddaughter Lauren of Fort Myers, Florida. He is also survived by his sister Diane de Terra and his nephew Luc Logan of Burlington, Vermont; and step-daughter Samantha Didio and her husband James and their children James and Gemma of Fort Myers, Florida.

Scott was predeceased by his first wife Shirley (Yontz) Logan in 1991, with whom he raised his two sons in Scituate, Massachusetts, and by his grandson, Brody Logan, who died in 2011.

In lieu of funeral services and to honor Scott, memorial donations may be made to The Little Red Wagon Fund at Golisano Children's Hospital of Southwest Florida in memory of Brody MacKnight Logan at www.leehealthfoundation.org.*

Forensic Medicine Partnership Marks Anniversary

The Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) Forensics Laboratory recently marked the one-year anniversary of its collaboration with the University of Florida (UF) Maples Center for Forensic Medicine. The FWC's Division of Law Enforcement has expanded its forensic science component with the ambition of becoming nationally recognized as a premier wildlife forensic sciences program.

In 2020, the FWC entered a collaborative agreement with UF, and together, they are developing the laboratory into a leading full-service wildlife forensics facility with access to analytical capabilities in the areas of DNA and molecular biology, entomology, botany, pathology, osteology and toxicology. The FWC plans to provide access to these forensic sciences services, as the unit expands, to outside agencies and states without wildlife forensics capabilities of their own.

"Our division first teamed up with UF in 1996 to develop DNA assays used in deer poaching cases. Making this long-standing relationship between FWC and the University of Florida an official partnership last year was very exciting," said Lt. Col. Gregg Eason of FWC Division of Law Enforcement. "The FWC is confident this unit will provide our officers and investigators with timely forensic capabilities that will augment our criminal case preparations. We must do all we can to stay one step ahead of those who choose to steal Florida's valued fish and wildlife resources."

A year into this collaboration, the UF/FWC forensic lab has already processed over 20 cases. Most have involved the genetic profiling and gender determination of poached deer, genetic profiling of turkey and species identification, and morphological analyses of fish remains.

"Both the FWC and the University of Florida are looking forward to the future possibilities of this new and expanding collaboration, and we are hopeful it can be a model for wildlife agencies and universities throughout the United States," said Associate Director Jason H. Byrd, PhD, of Maples Center for Forensic Medicine.

The UF project is managed by Byrd and Ginger Clark, MS. Each have more than 25 years of experience in the application of forensic sciences to wildlife crime. Newest to the team is Eileen Roy-Zokan, PhD, who began as a research scientist with FWC in April 2020. For more information regarding the program, visit <http://maples-center.ufl.edu/2021/01/08/fwc-maples-center-partnership-for-wildlife-forensic-sciences>.*

Foundation Commemorates Its Fifth Year

Jordan Ashley Gutheim, a 20-year-old Evangelical Christian School graduate and junior at Florida State University (FSU), and her boyfriend Benji Piechoczek, were killed in a car accident on May 12, 2016 by a careless truck driver.

The Jordan Ashley Gutheim Foundation was formed to spread “Jordan’s Blessings” which are presented annually every May to honor Jordan’s life. The foundation recently announced its fifth annual Jordan’s Blessings to total $60,000. The foundation funded and completed in advance its multi-year blessings to two non-profit organizations: $30,000 to Valerie’s House, which supports children who have lost a parent and the surviving spouses (The Fort Myers art room is named in Jordan’s memory); and $16,000 to the Cape Coral Animal Shelter, a no-kill shelter, whose construction was completed last year. The Cat Wing is named in Jordan’s memory.

Over the past five years, the foundation has supported a variety of non-profits including: MADD; Lee County Sheriffs Youth Activities League Teen Drivers Challenge; Dr. Piper Center for Social Services grandparents program (senior classroom mentors); Community Cooperative (soup kitchen); Valerie’s House, While We’re Waiting (Christian based organization for bereaved parents); the Gulf Coast Humane Society; the Cape Coral Animal Shelter; the annual FSU scholarship; three mission trips and provided food to frontline worker; and healthcare heroes in three departments at HealthPark Medical Center where Jordan was born.

Jordan Walker recently was the winner of the fifth annual Jordan Ashley Gutheim Four Year Scholarship totaling $8,000. Also, $1,000 was donated to Community Cooperative in honor of Sam Galloway Jr..

Jordan attended Evangelical Christian School from preschool through high school and loved the school. Jordan’s love of the school extended to its teachers, students, athletics (playing both varsity soccer and track) and student government. For the fourth year, $5,000 was presented to the Lee County Sheriffs Youth Activities League for the Teen Driver Challenge class. Seniors at ECS take the class and learn how to keep safe on the roads. The Jordan Ashley Gutheim Foundation donated the blessing in loving memory of three of her classmates Jordan Sadler, Jon Valentin and Joe Marcelek who died in a car crash in June 2014.

Over the last five years, Jordan’s foundation has donated $275,160. The fund supports the passions that Jordan shared: animal safety, the elderly, children and serving the needy in impoverished countries.

Jordan’s family is grateful to everyone who has donated to keep Jordan’s memory alive and helped support all that she loved. Their love for her is never ending and, as with all parents who lose children, their grief is immense to this day.

The fund is available for anyone who would like to contribute by visiting www.bit.ly/jordanashleygutheim or sending a check to the Southwest Florida Community Foundation, 2031 Jackson Street, Suite 100, Fort Myers, FL 33901.*

Partnership For Local Blood Drive

Midwest Food Bank of Florida will host a local blood drive with partner Lee Health on Tuesday, June 1 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

If interested, sign up by emailing Marketing and Development Manager Kelly Apfel at kapfel@midwestfoodbank.org or calling 690-1722, ext 105. Although sign-up is preferred, walk-ins are welcome and participation from family, friends, co-workers, local businesses and community supporters is encouraged. All blood donated at this event will remain within Lee County to help Lee County residents in need.

“This evolving partnership with Lee Health means we can follow our core values, while also taking action to be an effective resource to people and our community in need,” said Karl Steidinger, executive director of MFB Florida.

The volunteer-driven, faith-based charity is dedicated to alleviating hunger, malnutrition and providing disaster relief locally. It currently supports over 172 local nonprofit partner agencies (churches, veteran supports, schools, shelters, mobile pantries, soup kitchens) and provided food relief to over 2.4 million hungry individuals during the 2020 COVID-19 pandemic.

Midwest Food Bank Florida is located at 5601 Division Drive in Fort Myers. For more information, visit www.midwestfoodbank.org/florida.*

Yellow trumpetbush's showy clusters of flowers bloom mainly in spring and fall

by Gerri Reaves

Yellow trumpetbush (Tecoma stans) is a member of the begonia family and native to tropical and subtropical America.

Although it was first collected in Florida in 1838 in Key West, this species is nevertheless considered nonnative by the authoritative Atlas of Florida Vascular Plants.

In fact, it is somewhat invasive and is naturalized in the Keys and in much of South Florida.

Also called yellow elder, it takes the form of a shrub or small tree, growing 10 to 30 feet tall.

The light gray or brown bark is furrowed and spongy or porous when mature. The "corky" bark aids in the exchange of gases.

The leaves have one to four pairs of leaflets and sometimes a terminal one.

Generally oval or lance-shaped, they are bright green, sharply pointed, serrated and about two to five inches long.

Clusters of up to 20 bright yellow bell-shaped flowers attract hummingbirds. They bloom throughout the year, but mainly spring and fall.

Thin reddish vertical lines are found in the flower's inner throat.

Long slender pods can be up to eight inches long. After ripening from green to brown, they split open to reveal flat winged seeds.

If you include this fast-growing ornamental in you landscape, take care because of its invasive tendency.

It will also grow in a container, but also works well as a border or screen.

Give it a well-drained spot in full sun. It can adapt to a variety of soils, but in the wild grows in dry sites and rocklands.

It is highly drought tolerant and generally pest-resistant.

Propagate it with seeds and cuttings. It is used for various medicinal purposes, including the treatment of diabetes and contains compounds that have a catnip-like effect on cats.

Drone In Use To Document Water Quality Changes

Sanibel-Captiva Conservation Foundation (SCCF) Research and Policy Associate Leah Reidenbach collected the first images of water quality conditions in San Carlos Bay from a drone recently purchased with grant funding provided by the Coastal & Heartland National Estuary Partnership (CHNEP).

By documenting water quality and ecological conditions, SCCF scientists are now able to track water quality visually over time. Policy staff will be able to utilize the images to make a compelling argument for protection and restoration of our unique coastal ecosystems in Charlotte Harbor.

"Our new drone will provide high-resolution still and video images, which will be used by our scientists and policy staff to document water quality, inform the public about water conditions and support our advocacy efforts," said SCCF Environmental Policy Director James Evans.

Images collected with the drone will be incorporated into the Caloosahatchee & Estuary Conditions Report, a weekly report published in conjunction with JN "Ding" National Wildlife Refuge, City of Sanibel, City of Cape Coral and Lee County. The report provides updates on water quality and ecological conditions within the Caloosahatchee estuary and

Tarpon Tournament

by Capt. Matt Mitchell

This past week was “Ding” Darling and Doc Ford’s 9th annual Tarpon Tournament. With last year’s event canceled due to COVID-19, the big payout for the tournament had been doubled. This is the premier tarpon fishing tournament and always draws the best professional and amateur tarpon fishing teams. Competition is fierce as every captain wants to be the owner of a prized pink tarpon jacket and be part of that elite small club of winners. Prize money was $55,000 this year in the 100 percent payout tournament.

After several days of pre-fishing with my team “Chasin Poon,” I had a game plan going into the event. This year’s weather conditions were far from favorable with northeast winds blowing over 20 mph and a cool start. Tough weather days usually favor the teams that prefer to fish in the bay and also mean a much lower fish count for the tournament. Being able to chase fish out on the beach becomes almost impossible during windy conditions.

After the start, we opted to make the long, rough run up the sound as we headed for a sheltered channel by Cabbage Key. This area was somewhat protected from the gusty wind and had tarpon moving through it all week during the incoming tide. As we set up, it didn’t take long to hear that a fish had already been caught within 15 minutes of lines in. As we sat anchored even in the choppy conditions, we did see fish moving through on the surface roughly every 10 minutes so our hopes were high.

Right around 8 a.m., we hooked up on one of the live bait rods. This smaller estimated 50-pound tarpon made several jumps and short runs as we quickly got it under control and boatside. We managed a leader touch and got confirmation we were on the board. Over a three minute period, three fish were on the leader board with ours putting us in a precarious fifth place.

Over the rest of the day, score updates would be texted

as the number of releases slowly crept up. We did luckily manage to hold onto our fifth place spot, which was just enough to be in the money.

At the end of what was a nine-hour fishing day, only 15 tarpon were released by the 55 boats. “Tarpon Time” managed four releases and easily won the big prize. “Chasing Poon” scrapped out a 5th place finish, and Gary Biltgen, our “ace in the hole” won the senior division.

Tournaments like this are a real reality check of just how hard tarpon fishing can be. Conditions are the game changer as tarpon are simply finicky to say the least.

CROW Case Of The Week:

White-Tailed Deer

by Bob Petcher

While a white-tailed deer (Odocoileus virginianus) is brown or tan in the summer and grayish brown in the winter, fawns at birth are reddish-brown with white spots for camouflage. They can walk at birth and forage for food a couple of days later.

At CROW, an infant female white-tailed deer was admitted after being found on the side of the road in LaBelle. Upon examination, veterinarians found some small road rash abrasions. The fawn was standing well, but presented with a thin body composition score. Hospital staff was unsure if the fawn was actually hit by a car, but suspect its mother may have been hit, which left the fawn orphaned.

The patient received four to five feeds each day and, because of her young age, she still needed stimulation to go to the bathroom.

"The fawn was fed a milk replacer with similar nutrients to what she would be getting in the wild," said CROW Rehabilitation Manager Breanna Frankel. "The fawn only weighed five pounds when it was admitted to the clinic. By the time it was transferred, it was up to six pounds. Typically, this size indicates a very young fawn that was recently born within the past week or so, but we have to take into consideration that this fawn was quite thin and the weight was not entirely representative of the age. Therefore, this fawn was likely one to two weeks old."

The rehabilitation staff coordinated a transfer so she could grow with other fawns in an environment with limited human interaction. She was transferred on May 8 and will be released back to the wild once she is the appropriate age and size.

"The fawn was transferred to Creature Safe Place

Inc. in Fort Pierce. Their facility raises several fawns at a time and it is best for young fawns to be raised together to prevent habituation," said Frankel. "By the time the fawn left, she was down to four milk feeds a day. That weaning process will continue at Creature Safe Place Inc. until she begins to develop her teeth and can be weaned onto grasses, hay and other appropriate wild deer diet."

This is not the first time CROW has worked with this facility on the Florida east coast.

"Creature Safe Place has helped us twice so far this year – with this fawn and a great horned owl that needed to be raised among others. Last year, they took in five of our patients: one white-tailed deer, two sandhill cranes and two northern river otters," said Frankel. "They have excellent success with these species, and we are grateful for their help. In all situations, we transferred to them because they had several of the same species, and those particular species do better when they aren't raised alone."

Partnerships, such as this one, are extremely beneficial to all wildlife.

"We are grateful beyond belief for our partnership with Creature Safe Place Inc. and all the other facilities that work with us," said Frankel. "By being able to transfer this fawn, we can ensure it is getting the appropriate care and being raised with others. We always want to do what is best for the animal, and that doesn't always mean keeping them at CROW. We have to think about their development and what they need to learn – we are not always capable of teaching that."

CROW (Clinic for the Rehabilitation of Wildlife, Inc.) is a non-profit wildlife hospital providing veterinary care for native and migratory wildlife from our local area. The hospital accepts patients seven days a week from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Mail donations to P.O. Box 150, Sanibel, FL 33957. Call 472-3644 or visit www.crowclinic.org.

Vaccinations Now Open To Ages 12 To 15

With the recent approval of the Pfizer-BioNTech vaccine for 12-15 year-olds, Lee Health is now offering appointments to this age group. Schedule your appointment online only at www.leehealth.org. You do not need to be a Lee Health patient; the clinic is open to everyone in the community.

"It is so important to get our kids in to get the COVID-19 vaccine, so that we can get as many students vaccinated as possible before the next school year starts," said Dr. Larry Antonucci, president and chief executive officer of Lee Health. "We are urging all parents to please bring their children in to get this potentially life-saving vaccine."

A parent or authorized guardian must accompany a minor for vaccination. A mask is required to enter any Lee Health facility.

"As a pediatric infectious diseases physician, I really want to encourage parents to vaccinate their children for COVID-19 as soon as they're able," said Dr. Stephanie Stovall, interim chief of quality and patient safety for Lee Health. "We have years of research and data on this type of vaccine, and it is safe and effective."

Over $1 Million Awarded In Scholarships

The Southwest Florida Community Foundation recently granted $1,022,350 and 146 scholarships through a competitive process to local high school students and undergraduate and graduate students from Charlotte, Collier, Glades, Hendry and Lee counties. For the third year, the foundation awarded 25 of the scholarships as multi-year awards which will help the students each year until completion.

For the 2021 scholarship season, 648 eligible students applied and their applications were reviewed by 180 volunteer reviewers.

"Once again, we really focused on making our scholarship application and review process as accessible as possible," said Sarah Owen, president and CEO of the Community Foundation. "Outreach was key to ensure we received a pool of applicants from all over Southwest Florida. Through interactive presentations, we were able to help students submit a scholarship application successfully as well as to gain a better understanding of the FAFSA form."

The foundation's process allows each applicant to submit one application and apply it to several scholarship funds they were eligible for. This enables the students to get the most out of the application process and cut down on time spent on the application, so that they can focus more on completing the school year.

The foundation also had more volunteer reviewers this year, 180, which allowed each applicant to receive three scores from three different reviewers.

"We use our technological platform and at least three reviewers of the applications to remove any bias that may prevent an applicant from receiving a scholarship," said Malaina Mote, head of empowerment and social mobility for the foundation. "Scholarship application reviewers enjoy being able to stay connected with the youth of our community, by reading their stories and about their efforts to give back."

According to Mote, examples of some of the more unique scholarships not as highly sought after included scholarships for students with disabilities, student athletes, students pursuing a specific field of study such as teaching deaf or blind individuals, specific church membership or community service hours in a particular facility such as a veterans hospital, adult students going back to school, students from particular schools or communities, and students pursuing a graduate or professional degree.

Details of the scholarships and a list of recipients can be found at www.floridacommunity.com/2019-scholarship-recipients or by visiting www.floridacommunity.com and clicking on "Scholarships" page.

Four new scholarships awarded this year: Barbara's Friends Scholarship, Hear for You Scholarship and Stef'an Strawder-A Mother's Love Foundation Scholarship.

Shredding Event In Cape Coral This Saturday

The Pilot Club of Fort Myers and the Cape Coral Police Department are holding a shredding event at the Cape Coral Police Department on Saturday, May 22 between 9 a.m. and noon.

Due to COVID-19, all those bringing paper to shred are asked to socially distance and wear a mask. Individuals will be on hand to help drivers unload their boxes to be shredded; the boxes can be returned if desired. Shredding will occur on site.

Donations of $5 per box to be shredded are suggested. There should be no binder clips or paper clips attached to paper being shredded. All proceeds of the event will be donated to the Cape Coral Project Lifesaver Programs and the Pilot Club.

Project Lifesaver is a Cape Coral Police Department program which uses wristbands that emit a signal to help find individuals who tend to wander. The proceeds of this event will be used to help update and replace damaged or worn equipment. This technology can minimize the length of time it takes to locate a missing person/wanderer.

Unfortunately, the need for this program will not dwindle with time, but increase due to the growing number of people diagnosed with autism spectrum disorder, Alzheimer's disease and dementia.

The focus of the Pilot Club of Fort Myers is helping organizations seeking to improve the quality of life for individuals with brain-related disorders through volunteer activities, education and financial support.

The Cape Coral Police Department is located at 1100 Cultural Park Boulevard in Cape Coral. For more information, email at jodyvanc@gmail.com.*

Water Quality Improvement Project Approved

The South Florida Water Management District Governing Board unanimously approved the Lower Kissimmee Basin Stormwater Treatment Project, a large-scale water quality improvement project. Located north of Lake Okeechobee, the project will improve the quality of the water flowing into the lake and support ongoing restoration goals for the Lake Okeechobee watershed.

The project will capture water from the Kissimmee River and runoff while reducing the nutrient pollution in several basins such as the S-154 Basin in the Taylor Creek/Nubbin Slough Subwatershed that flow into Lake Okeechobee. This subwatershed typically has one of the highest phosphorus loads of any watershed flowing into Lake Okeechobee, and the S-154 Basin typically has one of the highest phosphorus loads of any basin in that subwatershed.

Improving water quality and protecting water resources remain top priorities at the district, which continues to work to remove and reduce nutrient pollution from entering natural systems.

The project will be managed by the South Florida Water Management District and funded by the Florida Department of Environmental Protection.*

Shred Day Breaks Record, Benefits United Way

Markham Norton Mosteller Wright & Co., PA (MNMW) hosted a record-breaking fundraiser with its fifth Community Shred Day to benefit the United Way of Lee, Hendry, Glades, and Okeechobee Counties. The firm partnered with Secure Shredding, Inc. to host this free annual event.

More than 130 cars stopped by during the three-hour event, and over $1,400 was raised for the United Way. Additionally, visitors donated canned/non-perishable goods, new/gently used clothing and other items to help those in need.

"We were amazed at the turnout this year for our annual Shred Day. We've seen this event grow each year," said Jessica Walker, MA, APR, CPRC, marketing and public relations manager/consultant at MNMW. "We are happy to bring a heightened awareness to the United Way while also helping those in our community dispose of their personal documents safely and securely." ❄️

New Program To Help With Advanced Illness

Hope Healthcare has introduced Hope First, a program created to provide comprehensive care to better serve Medicare beneficiaries with complex and chronic illness through a new care model from the Center for Medicare and Medicaid Innovation (CMMI).

To participate in CMMI's new model of care, Hope has joined with six of the nation's largest and well-known nonprofit advanced illness providers to form Advanced Illness Partners (AIP). AIP is among 51 entities nationwide designated to participate in this new CMMI program that are committed to providing high-value, comprehensive care to high-need Medicare beneficiaries and accepting risk for the most complex patients in the U.S. healthcare system.

"Through Hope First, we'll use our experience providing home-based, community-oriented, coordinated care for those with advanced illness," said Samira K. Beckwith, president and CEO of Hope Healthcare. "We'll also have an opportunity to share our best practices with our partners in the program."

AIP organizations have provided home-based care in a cost-efficient manner for many years. Now, in light of the COVID-19 pandemic and the aging in place preference for many seniors, AIP will demonstrate how effective this model of care can be in meeting patients' needs.

Hope was selected to participate in AIP based on its success with its Program for All-Inclusive Care for the Elderly (PACE) and its Hope Choices Medicare Care Choices Model (MCCM). AIP is comprised of seven organizations that have nearly a combined 250 years of experience in caring for those with advanced chronic illness through largely home-based, community-oriented care in Arizona, Florida, Washington, DC, Virginia, Ohio, Nevada and Oregon. The seven partner organizations currently serve over 60,000 Medicare beneficiaries annually.

Eric DeJonge, director of geriatrics at Capital Caring Health and chief medical officer for Advanced Illness Partners, said, "We're excited to participate in CMMI's innovative program to bring advanced illness care upstream and serve patients with complex, chronic disease in the home setting for the long-term. As nonprofit providers, our network allows us to remain community-based while also sharing best practices and economies to scale to invest in tools that help us improve care and lower costs of care for high-needs patients."

Poems From Paradise And Beyond

by Di Saggau

Jim Weyant has been an active retiree on Sanibel since 1978. He has always loved Sanibel's environs sense of community and friendly atmosphere. When COVID-19 arrived, he started writing poetry at age 81. He expressed his thoughts about the island, love of country, of friends, social issues, thoughts that pass between two people and more. His book is a delight to read. Beautiful thoughts exist in his poems. I'll give you a few lines from some of his writings.

Sanibel – "Nature in peaceful harmony with man, the perfect spot for a day without a plan."

The Bean – "Folks just don't pop in for a shot of caffeine, rather it's an oasis where friends convene."

Heaven's Gate – "The sign along the road reads Causeway Ahead, but it's no ordinary bridge so don't be misled."

A Bailey's Daily – "The locals eager to stop and chat, it's always such a cheery spot, the friendly folks working there feel like family and I like that a lot."

Six Feet Below – "Better six feet apart than six feet below, I am not that smart, but this much I know."

Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow – "Yesterday I loved you, I could not have loved you more. Today that love dwells even stronger than before, and come tomorrow I will love you as never afore."

The last passage is a complete poem, all the others are excerpts from

Water-Quality Utilities Report

Lee County Utilities' customers received water that met or exceeded all federal and state requirements last year, according to a recent report that has been placed online at www.leewaterquality.com.

The report, which also includes information such as source water assessments and service areas, is required annually by the Environmental Protection Agency.

To save ratepayers money, the annual water-quality report can be placed online instead of direct-mailing customers, according to federal regulations.

"The ability to provide the report online eliminates the need to print and mail more than 80,000 copies. This method reduces the use of environmental resources and reduces the cost of producing the report," Public Utilities Director Pam Keyes said.

Lee County Utilities' 2020 Water Quality Report can be found at www.leewaterquality.com. A printed copy can be obtained by calling 533-8845.*

much longer poems. There are over 155 special poems in the book. Every poem carries a message of some sort, and anyone with a love of Sanibel will especially enjoy them. But Poems From Paradise and Beyond can be appreciated by all. The author says the book is "The Incomplete Works of Jim Weyant." I hope that means another book is on the horizon. You can find the book on Amazon or at Gene's Books, Macintosh Books and Bailey's General Store.*

School Smart

by Shelley M. Greggs, NCSP

Dear Readers, May is National Mental Health Awareness Month. It's a time to reflect about what we do as parents that support our children's mental health. Experts define good mental health as not only the absence of psychological or behavior problems, but also the presence of wellness or psychological health. For example, self-esteem, self-acceptance, resiliency and effective coping skills contribute to mental health and good behavior in students. While families provide the primary support for developing children's mental health, schools play an important role working with students and families.

I have posted some suggestions for you on how to support your child's mental health. These suggestions can guide you to make good decisions with and for your child, and his or her positive mental health.

Create a sense of belonging – Feeling connected and welcomed is essential to children's positive adjustment, self-identification and sense of trust in others and themselves. Building strong, positive relationships among students, school staff and parents is important to promoting mental wellness.

Promote resilience – Adversity is a natural part of life and being resilient is important to overcoming challenges and good mental health. Connectedness, competency, helping others and successfully facing difficult situations can foster resilience.

Develop competencies – Children need to know that they can overcome challenges and accomplish goals through their actions. Achieving academic success and developing individual talents and interests helps children feel competent and more able to deal with stress positively. Social competency is also important. Having friends and staying connected to friends and loved ones can enhance mental wellness.

Ensure a positive, safe home and school environment – Feeling safe is critical to students' learning and mental health. Promote positive behaviors such as respect, responsibility and kindness. Prevent negative behaviors such as bullying and harassment. Provide easily understood rules of conduct and fair discipline practices and ensure an adult presence in common areas, such as hallways, cafeterias, locker rooms and playgrounds. Teach children to work together to stand up to a bully, encourage them to reach out to lonely or excluded peers, celebrate acts of kindness and reinforce the availability of adult support.

Teach and reinforce positive behaviors and decision-making – Provide consistent expectations and support. Teaching children social skills, problem solving and conflict resolution supports good mental health. "Catch" them being successful. Positive feedback validates and reinforces behaviors or accomplishments that are valued by others.

Encourage helping others – Children need to know that they can make a difference. Pro-social behaviors build self-esteem, foster connectedness, reinforce personal responsibility and present opportunities for positive recognition. Helping others and getting involved reinforces being part of the community.

Encourage good physical health – Good physical health supports good mental health. Healthy eating habits, regular exercise and adequate sleep protect kids against the stress of tough situations. Regular exercise also decreases negative emotions such as anxiety, anger and depression.

coastal waters of Lee County.

Reports are provided to water managers at the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and South Florida Water Management District to inform their recommendations on water management issues related to Lake Okeechobee and the Caloosahatchee.

"While our data are scientifically valuable, the photos we take with our new drone will serve as a powerful visual aid that can have a stronger impact on the public and policymakers than water quality data alone," said Reidenbach.

This new tool will be especially important this year as Lake Okeechobee levels are currently more than 2.5 feet higher compared to the past two years, and blue-green algae blooms are already appearing in the lake and estuaries. Images collected using the drone will be posted to SCCF's website (www.sccf.org), providing an ongoing record of conditions that advocates, scientists, resource managers and policymakers can use in their efforts to protect and restore coastal ecosystems.*

Problems With Joint Ownership And Transfer On Death Accounts

by Craig R. Hersch, Florida Bar Board Certified Wills, Trusts & Estates Attorney; CPA

Recently, several new clients have arrived at my office explaining that they don't need revocable trusts. "My banker told me simply to designate all of my accounts as 'transfer on death' to my children, so no probate is necessary, and even no trust is necessary." Other clients have placed bank and investment accounts in joint name with one or more of their children to accomplish the same thing.

Neither is a good idea.

Let's tackle the joint account with rights of survivorship first.

The first is a gifting problem. When Mother places Daughter onto a joint account, then Mother is deemed to have made a taxable gift as to one-half of the value of the account. This would require the filing of a Federal Gift Tax Return Form 709 if the total gifts to Daughter exceed $15,000 in that year.

If Mother lives in a state that has a gift tax, a state gift tax filing may also be due.

In today's world of high federal gift and estate tax exemptions, in Florida this isn't necessarily fatal, unless at some point in the future those exemptions should decrease. In 2025, absent any further legislation from Congress signed by the president, the exemptions are slated to return to their former levels. So a large gift today might resonate in the future.

Further, when Daughter owns half of the account, she loses half of the step-up in tax cost basis at the time of Mother's death. If Mother owned the account solely in her own revocable trust (that avoids probate anyway), then all of the capital gain would have been eliminated at Mother's death. Daughter will pay additional capital gains taxes she otherwise wouldn't have.

Further, assume Daughter has two siblings that Mother wants her to share the account with. Legally, Daughter doesn't have to. Even if Daughter is honest, it is a taxable gift from Daughter to her siblings when she makes transfers to them following Mother's death, resulting in the same problems discussed above, but now they apply to Daughter.

If Daughter gets divorced or is a defendant in a lawsuit, or has bankruptcy or other creditor issues, those potential creditors can attack Mother's bank and investment accounts that were put into joint name with Daughter.

None of these problems exist using a revocable trust.

Now let's turn our attention to Transfer on Death accounts.

Assume Mother designates her investment account as "pay on death" (POD) to Daughter, but Mother also has Son. Daughter is expected to share with Son at Mother's death. Nothing says that Daughter must, and if Daughter does share with Son, then she has the gift issue discussed previously.

If one of the "pay on death" beneficiaries dies or has creditor issues, then another problem arises. Suppose Mother puts her investment account as "pay on death" to Daughter and Son. Mother becomes incompetent and then Son dies before Mother dies. Son is survived by a minor child, Grandson.

Mother wasn't able to change the POD beneficiary, so when she died, Son's will would need to be probated. Son's will left his assets to his wife, as opposed to Grandson, who Mother would have wanted the account to go to. Even if Mother was able to name Grandson directly, the bank could not make a transfer to a minor without an expensive and time consuming court process. This all could easily have been avoided with a revocable trust.

Let's consider Mother's incapacity as well. Because her accounts were not in a trust that authorized certain distributions, Mother's attorneys weren't able to assist the family with qualifying mother for Medicaid. Her nursing home expenses could deplete the account. Further, the bank wouldn't accept the durable power of attorney because it was "out of date," which required the family to enter into an expensive and time consuming guardianship to access the funds.

Mother was financially supporting Daughter prior to Mother becoming incompetent. Those payments had to stop because, under a POD account, there's no way to legally continue those gifts.

POD accounts usually require that you designate equal shares for all POD beneficiaries. This may or may not comply with your intent.

Finally, if one of your beneficiaries is undergoing a divorce or other creditor problem at the time of your death, the POD account may become subject to claimants of that beneficiary.

This is just a laundry list of some, not all, of the potential problems with POD and joint with survivorship accounts. Anyone with any degree of wealth should instead use a revocable trust vehicle to navigate these issues.

Manufacturers Group Sets Events

The Southwest Regional Manufacturers Association (SRMA) has scheduled two upcoming events for its summer series to help support and unite manufacturers and those who do business with them. There will be a brewery social in June and an international trade webinar scheduled in July. There is no cost to attend the events, but space is limited, and online registration required.

"SRMA has a supportive and passionate board who goes above and beyond to support its growing membership base," said SRMA Board Chair Jeff Poirier. "We look forward to meeting with and uniting our members and business community at our upcoming summer event series."

SRMA will meet after hours for cold brews, food and networking from 5:30 to 7 p.m. on June 16 at Riptide Brewing, formerly Momentum Brewing, located at 28120 Hunters Ridge Boulevard in Bonita Springs. The line-up of brews includes an India pale ale, red ale and blonde ale.

On July 28, from 8 to 9:30, SRMA has lined up a powerhouse panel of speakers who will discuss international trade. Panelists include Elena Mendez of EXIM Bank, Dan Bierk at the Department of Commerce, Kevin Brady with Florida Gulf Coast University Small Business Development Center and Gary McKinley of Craters and Freighters. International certifications, EXIM Bank, vetting international firms, quality standards and imports/exports will be discussed. This event is sponsored by Craters & Freighters.

How To Decorate A Larger Room

by Katie Frederick

If you've ever faced the challenge of decorating a small room, it's only natural to wish you had giant spaces to work with. After all, being economical with space requires creative solutions, and it's easy to pine for a room where you don't have to worry about furniture doubling as storage or finding unusual shelving solutions.

However, there are challenges inherent to interior decorating for a big room as well. It's easy for such a space to feel sparse and unfinished, and getting true functionality out of the room means arranging the furnishings in thoughtful ways. Look at your room and its own unique characteristics and make decisions based on a few design strategies particularly geared for wide open spaces.

Divide the room into areas. In most rooms, there will only be enough space for one conversational area. In larger rooms, however, it is difficult to arrange all the furniture so that this is possible. Luckily, you don't have to. You can designate several different zones of the room, which both allows a single space to serve multiple functions and keeps it from looking so empty. For example, you could have one zone that's just for quiet conversations, another that has a desk for writing and reading, and a third that is centered around the television. It's like having three rooms in one.

Create a visual anchor for the room. One of the major drawbacks to larger rooms is that if you're not careful, they can feel unfocused. A visitor walks in, and it isn't clear where their focus should be drawn, or what the most important elements of the space are. Avoid this pitfall by using a large piece of furniture as the visual anchor of the room. Depending on your lifestyle, this could be any number of things. A large coffee table or L-shaped sectional sofa both work well, and if your family is musically inclined, a piano is a fine choice as well. The key is that it should be singular and visually dominant as too many small pieces on their own can begin to create the impression of clutter.

Pay attention to the lighting. Lighting can make a big difference in any sized room. Not only does it impact the things you are able to do in that area, but it can also completely change the look and feel of the furnishings. If the space has large windows, you have less to worry about during the daytime. However, after sunset, it's easy for shadows to creep up, especially in nooks or corners. Lamps can help give you different illuminating options, but too many of them in the same space can look awkward. To get around this issue, choose a small handful of large floor lamps that are all of a similar style. Then, mix in a few low-key wall and floor lamps so that your lighting choices will feel cohesive while being able to work for the whole large area.

Use patterns to unify. Bigger rooms have more furniture, which can feel haphazard if you're not careful. You can avoid this issue by repeating the same patterns in different areas of the room. Even if you switch up the colors or the fabrics to add a depth of texture, consistent patterns throughout a space help carry visitors' eyes naturally throughout the room and make it all feel unified.

Looking for advice on decorating a larger space? Consider reaching out to a design professional, they can help you lay out the room, and suggest the furniture pieces you need to make your room function well and look fantastic.

Child Care Group Hires Center Director

Child Care of Southwest Florida has hired experienced child care leader Yolanda Yslas to serve as center director at the PA Geraci Child Development Center in Fort Myers.

Yslas has worked in education since 1990, most recently serving as administrative coordinator for Child's Path, where she handled education and immunization records, finances, attendance, medical forms, purchasing orders and other responsibilities. Prior roles include leadership positions at four early learning centers in Southwest Florida in addition to teaching positions with several private providers and the School District of Lee County.

"I have been in the field of education for over 31 years, but I am looking forward to my journey with CCSWFL," Yslas said. "I believe that a strong foundation in social emotional development is the key to success in lifelong learning."

Yslas is completing a degree program at Florida SouthWestern State College, where she is a member of the Phi Theta Kappa Honor Society.

"Yolanda brings a wealth of experience as both a classroom teacher and school administrator, and she will be a tremendous asset as our team continues preparing children for success in school and life," said Chris Hansen, CEO of Child Care of Southwest Florida.

The PA Geraci Child Development Center is located at 3713 Canal Street in Fort Myers. For more information, visit www.ccswfl.org.

He scored his record-breaking 182nd triple double of his career in a 125-124 loss against the Atlanta Hawks, besting Oscar Robertson's long-held record.

Let's look at the favorites in the NBA Finals and Stanley Cup. The Colorado Avalanche are favored in the NHL followed by the Golden Knights, Maple Leafs, Hurricanes and 2020 champs Lightning. The Lightning and Florida Panthers are meeting for the first time in the playoffs in the first round. The Brooklyn Nets are favored in the NBA and have their three superstars healthy. The 2020 champion L.A. Lakers are listed second despite being ranked 7th in the west, followed by the Clippers and the Jazz.

And here they come round the bend... it's Rumbauer winning by three and a half lengths at Pimlico. No Triple Crown winner this year, which is probably best because Medina Spirit had a potential asterisk for her Kentucky Derby win with reported drug issues. Trainer Bob Baffert issued a statement before Saturday's Preakness in which he apologized for his handling of the announcement of Medina Spirit's positive drug test following his Kentucky Derby victory. "I always try to be accommodating and transparent with the media, which led to an emotional press conference on May 9 in which I said some things that have been perceived as hurtful to some in the industry. For that, I am truly sorry. I have devoted my life's work to this great sport, and I owe it an eternal debt of gratitude." Not wanting to be a distraction, Baffert chose to stay home instead of traveling to Pimlico.

MLB has a new record – 58 strikeouts without a walk to start the season.

Brewers ace Corbin Burnes now owns that record, the most strikeouts to start a season and the most between walks at any point in a season since 1893, when the mound was set at its current distance. According to The New York Times, "Twenty-six times this season, Corbin Burnes had stood on the mound with a chance to throw ball four. Every time, he had thrown a strike. It wasn't until the 127th batter he faced that Burnes issued a walk. Burnes swears he doesn't even think about it. He has a historic aversion to bases on balls." Opponents hit only .152 in April off Burnes, whose earned run average is 1.57. He has recorded at least nine strikeouts in all six of his starts, standing out even in a season of extreme power pitching in the majors. His strikeout rate and ERA dating back to last season is second only to DeGrom.

From www.golf.com, "On a rainy Sunday in Texas, the PGA Tour crowned a first-time winner. K.H. Lee, a 29-year-old from Seoul, South Korea. Lee won his first-ever event on North American soil by three strokes at the AT&T Byron Nelson winning the Texas event, the second Korean in a row to do so. He captures the last open spot in this week's PGA Championship in South Carolina."

Rafael Nadal bested Novak Djokovic in the 58th encounter of one of tennis's most enduring and competitive rivalries. Both players will now head to Roland Garros for the French Open in the hopes of adding to their Grand Slam tally with the GOAT race wide open. Roger Federer will also be featured in this year's tournament."

On the woman's side in Rome, Czech Karolina Pliskova has had one of the most effective serves in tennis. She was also playing in the finals of the Internazionali BNL in Rome for the third straight year versus reigning Roland Garros champion Iga Swiatek. Yet, in just 46 minutes, Swiatek won this match, 6-0, 6-0. In the first set, the 19-year-old Pole dropped just four points. With her win, Iga became just the fourth teenager to win a WTA 1000 level event.

Earlier last month, Jon Krawczynski of The Athletic reported that Alex Rodriguez and Marc Lore were finalizing a deal to become the next owners of the Minnesota Timberwolves and WNBA Minnesota Lynx, a process which could take place slowly over the next couple of years with current owner Glen Taylor staying involved. These new high profile owners can be huge for the Timberwolves in attracting new stars.

Finally from the BBC, the Olympics is set to start in two months. Calls to ditch the Games in the face of the pandemic are getting louder. So why isn't Japan cancelling the Games? The answer is it's the International Olympic Committee (IOC) who is the decision-maker about cancelling. The vaccination rate in Japan is only between 1 to 2 percent, and we all see what's going on in India right now and other countries. I say cancel it for another year for the health and safety of the athletes and for a more involved viewership and fans at the games rather than competing in empty stadiums.

Athletes for Hope is a non-profit organization founded in 2007 by Andre Agassi, Muhammad Ali, Warrick Dunn, Jeff Gordon, Mia Hamm, Tony Hawk, Andrea Jaeger, Jackie Joyner-Kersey, Mario Lemieux, Alonzo Mourning and Cal Ripken, Jr. They created an organization that brings athletes together to educate, inspire, and channel their energy for a common goal: to make a difference in the world through sports philanthropy. Athletes for Hope has grown to over 4,000 athletes across the NBA, NFL, NHL, MLB and the Olympic movement. These athletes take part in their causeway program which provides education workshops and subsequently one-on-one guidance for each athlete through their personal philanthropic journey. "We are breaking down barriers and bringing people together. Through our work, we help athletes recognize their untapped potential to make a difference, and we challenge them to set a new standard. Many athletes want to give back but don't know where to begin. Our founders saw that the sports community is competitive by nature, which has led to a fragmented approach to philanthropy. And so we decided to break the mold." More about this unique organization in the coming weeks.

Changes Coming For Catch And Release Fishing

The Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation Commission (FWC) will make changes to snook, redfish and spotted seatrout management in the area of Southwest Florida where they are currently catch-and-release only.

As a reminder, snook, redfish and spotted seatrout were temporarily made catch-and-release only in this area after these fisheries were impacted by a 2017-19 severe red tide.

Starting June 1, the following changes from Sarasota Bay through Gordon Pass in Collier County will take place:

Spotted seatrout harvest will resume with a six-fish recreational vessel limit. Commercial harvesters will also be held to the recreational three-fish bag and six-fish vessel limits.

These regulations are for all state waters south of State Road 64 in Manatee County including Palma Sola Bay through Gordon Pass in Collier County but not including the Braden River or any tributaries of the Manatee River.

Snook and redfish will remain catch-and-release through May 31, 2022.

"The commission understands the significance and importance of this fishery for the southwest region. You can hear a lot of diversity in the public stakeholder positions on this issue but I think we found the right path as an interim step," said FWC Vice Chairman Mike Sole. "It is going to be important though, in my opinion, to consider long-term management of snook and redfish."

Under normal regulations, snook will open to harvest on September 1, and seatrout will be under new, more restrictive regulations that took effect in 2020.

A new statewide stock assessment was just completed for snook and one will be completed for redfish in 2021. The commission might consider statewide regulation changes as part of the long-term management of these fisheries.

For more information about regulations for these species, visit www.myfwc.com/marine and click on "Recreational Regulations."* parks, veteran's facilities and gardens.

The National Garden Club honors veterans and active service members by installing these signs throughout the country. The first Blue Star Memorial in Florida was dedicated in May of 1949 in Key West.

The Estero Island Garden Club, a member of The National Garden Club, will sponsor the memorial marker dedication

The Blue Star Memorial dedication is based on the ceremony at Gettysburg, where President Lincoln gave his historic address. As part of the ceremony, there will be a brief history of the blue star markers followed by the unveiling and dedication of the marker. There will be an invocation and benediction, a color guard and patriotic music performed by Brass Music Elements, and will conclude with echo taps.

Paleo
Cheeseburger Pie

by Ross Hauser, MD
and Marion Hauser, MS, RD

Cheeseburger pie has been a favorite over the years, but this version has a few health tweaks added. This cheeseburger casserole has all the classic elements of a burger and is a fun way to feed a crowd but it cuts down on excess simple carbohydrates. Use this recipe for a simple, quick, weeknight meal during a busy week. It truly does taste like your favorite burger!

You may be thinking, “I cannot believe you are recommending red meat.” First, we recommend eating real food – not fast food, not processed food. R-E-A-L food. Unfortunately, our agricultural system has many problems. Therefore, we encourage you to be careful with your food choices. Find sources that are clean, healthy and free of chemicals. We have researched food, diet types and metabolism for many years. You can read more about our findings at www.hauserdiet.com. In short, some people’s metabolisms operate optimally with high protein/fat diets, some fare well on plant-based diets, and others are in the middle. Meat is not the enemy, and veggies are everyone’s friends.

Red meat is packed with protein and iron which are key players in maintaining healthy bodies, particularly muscles, bones, skin, hair and immune systems. It also provides zinc and B vitamins which many people are deficient in. However, not all meat is created equal. A free-roaming, grass-fed animal provides much different meat than animals born and bred in factories that are fed hormones, chemicals, medicine, pesticides, GMOs, and Roundup, with no sunlight. Thus, we use organic grass-fed beef and nitrate-free organic bacon and organic veggies and dairy.

So let’s make this pie! Instead of crust, we steam a small head of cauliflower (and sometimes add spaghetti squash). While cauliflower is cooking, brown one pound of ground beef, then add one medium chopped onion in a skillet. Add a pinch of sea salt and pepper, about a teaspoon or two of garlic powder, and a couple dashes of Worcester sauce and stir in. Set aside after fully cooked and drained.

Press liquid from cooked cauliflower to reduce sogginess of the crust. Mash cauliflower, add one egg, salt/pepper, about a half cup of shredded cheese, and about a quarter to one half cup of gluten-free flour of your choice. We also like to add chia or flax seeds and other herbs. Adjust mixture to appropriate stickiness. Press into a greased pie pan or baking pan. Prebake for about 20 minutes in 400-degree oven, then top with meat mixture. Squirt a few lines of ketchup and mustard across the meat and dot with pickle relish, then top with shredded cheeses of your choice (Irish cheddar is a favorite) or use dairy-free (Daiya is tasty), then bake for about 30 more minutes until hot and bubbly.

Recipe variations include substituting or combining beef for/and turkey, chicken, pork or lentils or other legumes and/or veggie mixture. Add herbs and spices to meat mixture such as smoked paprika, chili powder, Italian seasonings, or oregano. You can also add mushrooms, green chilis, peppers, carrots, celery, or whatever you have on hand.

We have doubled this recipe and baked it in a 9-inch by 13-inch pan. Serve garnished with hamburger toppings such as lettuce, tomato, onion, ketchup, mustard, relish, pickles, crumbled bacon, sliced avocado and sauteed onions/mushrooms. Enjoy!

Hypercalcemia Treatment Options

by Suzy
Cohen, RPh

Dear Readers: Your body is amazingly skilled at maintaining homeostasis. It’s kind of amazing how your body maintains tight control over calcium levels, especially the amount that is circulating in your blood at any given moment. For example, all of these methods are done involuntarily by your body to keep your serum calcium at a normal range, usually somewhere between nine and 10, but it differs depending on your age.

1. Your intestines absorb calcium from foods that you eat.
2. Your bones give up and take in calcium, so there is a dynamic movement of calcium in and out of your skeleton.
3. Your kidneys reclaim calcium, or excrete it into your urine.

When the blood levels drop below normal, your four tiny parathyroid glands immediately rescue levels by secreting parathyroid hormone (PTH) into your blood which tells your bones to release some into the blood, and do it now. People with elevated PTH levels are at higher risk for osteoporosis. PTH levels are measured by a simple blood test. If it’s high, I recommend you read Dr. Norman’s work at www.parathyroid.com.

Physicians will evaluate vitamin D if the PTH is elevated, and if the D is low they will tell you to supplement. This can be very harmful and is the wrong thing to do in most cases, because if the PTH is elevated, and your D is low, it’s low because your body’s trying to protect you from more calcium.

A person’s calcium can be evaluated several ways. Usually a “serum” calcium is measured by a blood test that tells you how much calcium is bound to a protein. There is an “ionized calcium” blood test which tells you what portion is free. If you have so much calcium that it’s spilling into your urine in high amounts, this is called hypercalcemia. To find out, take a test called a “24 hour urine calcium test.”

If your calcium is high, ask your physician about these ideas to see if they’re right for you:

1. Vitamin K2 – Vitamin K2 drives calcium out of the blood and puts it back into the bone. It reduces serum calcium.
2. Bisphosphonates – The category of bisphosphonate drugs (ie Fosamax) can be used for a short term to remove calcium from the blood and put it back into the bones. It will reduce serum calcium.
3. Reflux drugs – Medications like famotidine (Pepcid) or omeprazole (Prilosec) can quickly reduce the absorption of many minerals and it can be quite potent.
4. Follow a low calcium diet – Meat and poultry, shrimp, seafood, green beans, eggs (and egg substitute), oatmeal, squash, nuts, rice, peas, Brussels sprouts, tangerines, kiwi and fruit juice.

5. Switch diuretics – If you are taking a thiazide diuretic like HCTZ (hydrochlorothiazide), this will cause you to retain calcium. By taking a “loop” diuretic such as furosemide, you will reduce calcium levels.

Sometimes surgery for a parathyroid adenoma is necessary; these are diagnosed by specific scans on the neck. Hyperparathyroidism is a common cause for elevated calcium levels. Top Grades For Patient Safety

The Leapfrog Group released its Spring 2021 Hospital Safety Grades, awarding Cape Coral Hospital, Gulf Coast Medical Center and Lee Memorial Hospital each “A” grades for the fifth straight reporting period. HealthPark Medical Center earned an “A” grade for the fourth straight reporting period.

“I want to thank the entire Lee Health team for continuing to provide the safest and highest quality of care to the patients we serve,” said Dr. Larry Antonucci, president and CEO of Lee Health. “It is an honor to be recognized once again by Leapfrog for achieving the highest national standards in patient safety. These ‘A’ grades speak to the kind of care patients can expect in our hospitals.”

The safety grade assigns letter grades of A, B, C, D and F to hospitals across the country based on their performance in preventing medical errors, infections and other harms.

Developed under the guidance of a national expert panel, the Leapfrog Hospital Safety Grade uses up to 27 measures of publicly available hospital safety data to assign grades to more than 2,700 U.S. acute-care hospitals twice per year. The Leapfrog Group’s grading system is peer-reviewed, fully transparent and free to the public.

“It’s clear Cape Coral Hospital, Gulf Coast Medical Center, HealthPark Medical Center and Lee Memorial Hospital are on a never-ending quest to keep patients safe through thick and thin,” said Leah Binder, president and CEO of The Leapfrog Group. “This likely saved many lives through the pandemic and prepared for future health emergencies.”

Lee Health’s raw score was:
Cape Coral Hospital – 3.2886
Gulf Coast Medical Center – 3.1928
HealthPark Medical Center – 3.3128
Lee Memorial Hospital – 3.4021

Children’s hospitals are not included in The Leapfrog Group’s Spring grades, but Golisano Children’s Hospital has been named as a top children’s hospital by The Leapfrog Group four times.

The Alzheimer’s Association will hold a virtual Ask the Expert program on The Gift of the Brain on Saturday, May 22 at 10:30 a.m. In addition to providing an overview of the Florida Brain Bank, the free program will also address the importance of brain donations to the advancement of dementia research and current areas of need.

“This type of information is important for communities statewide, including those that are affected by Alzheimer’s disease or another dementia,” said Milva Taylor Maldonado, program manager for the Alzheimer’s Association. “Although this can certainly be a difficult topic, it is also essential to research initiatives and hopefully, one day, finding the cure.”

Deviled Potatoes

Deviled Potatoes

- 1 pound small gold potatoes
- 1 egg, hard-boiled
- 1 rib celery, finely diced (small amount reserved for garnish)
- 2 mini sweet peppers, finely diced (small amount reserved for garnish)
- 2-3 strips bacon, cooked and crumbled, reserve 1 tablespoon bacon grease (small amount reserved for garnish)
- 3 tablespoons mayonnaise
- 1-2 tablespoons mustard (start with 1 tablespoon and add more to taste)
- Sea salt and fresh ground pepper, to taste
- Fill large pot with water and bring to a boil, add 1 tablespoon salt, and boil potatoes until fork-tender, about 10-12 minutes. Remove, drain, and cool enough to handle. Slice a very small amount off one end of the potato, creating a stable surface. Using the small end of a melon baller, scoop out approximately 3/4 of the potato, making sure to leave enough of the potato intact in order to fill back up. In a small bowl combine the scooped-out potato, cooked egg yolk, reserved bacon grease, and mash until you reach a smooth consistency. Stir in mayonnaise, mustard, chopped egg whites, celery, and sweet peppers. Season with salt and pepper, taste and adjust if needed. To fill potatoes, use a pastry bag or small spoon. Garnish with remaining peppers, celery, and crumbled bacon.

Fresh tip: use other toppings for different flavors, such as chopped olives or pickled vegetables.*

Harper And Clara

Hello, my name is Harper. I'm a black and white 4-year-old female pit bull mix. I have overcome quite a bit in the three weeks I have been with Animal Services. I had paralysis in my rear legs on the first day that then went to my front legs. X-rays showed no injury to my spine. After a consultation with a neurologist, it was determined that I had Botulism, which is rare in dogs and probably from ingesting a dead lizard. I have now fully healed and I'm back to running around like the happy, healthy dog I should be. I'm ready for my new family! My adoption fee is $30.

Clara ID# A867194

Hi, my name is Clara. I'm a white and brown 5-year-old mini lop rabbit. The mini lop is a small breed, although not quite a dwarf. Despite this, I am quite stocky and robust. I have lop ears, as the name suggests, and they hang over my face. I am rather laid back and like to be held. My adoption fee is $5.

Lee County Domestic Animal Services is located at 5600 Banner Drive in Fort Myers. Adoptions are available by appointment Monday through Saturday from 10:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Visit www.leelostpets.com to complete an online application. As always, cats and kittens are adopt one and get a feline friend at no additional charge. For more information, call 533-7387.*

My Stars ★★★★★

FOR WEEK OF MAY 15, 2021

Aries (March 21 to April 19) A once-harmonious relationship appears to be hitting some sour notes. Spend some time together to see why things have gone off-key. What you learn might surprise you.

Taurus (April 20 to May 20) You feel a need to make some changes. Good – you can do it on a small scale (some new clothes, for example), or go big and redecorate your home and/or office.

Gemini (May 21 to June 20) Control your tendency toward early boredom. A situation in your life might be taking a long time to develop, but patience pays off. Stay with it.

Cancer (June 21 to July 22) You might feel that you're on an emotional roller coaster this week. Don't fret; just ride it out and let things settle down. A Pisces shows understanding.

Leo (July 23 to August 22) Do something different for once – compromise. A stubborn stand on an important issue proves counterproductive. You need to be open to new ideas.

Virgo (August 23 to September 22) A friend offers advice that you perceive as an act of betrayal. But before you turn against the messenger, pay attention to the message.

Libra (September 23 to October 22) A year of riding an emotional pogo stick finally settles down. Use this calmer period to restore frayed relationships and to pursue new opportunities.

Scorpio (October 23 to November 21) Your words can sting, so be careful how you respond to a friend's actions. A calm approach could produce some surprising facts.

Sagittarius (November 22 to December 21) Be careful about whose secrets you're being asked to keep. They could impose an unfair burden on a straight arrow like you.

Capricorn (December 22 to January 19) While you prefer taking the tried-and-true course in life, be adventurous this week and accept a challenge that can open new vistas.

Aquarius (January 20 to February 18) Your strong sense of justice helps you deal with a job- or school-related situation. Stay with your principles. A Sagittarius emerges as a supporter.

Pisces (February 19 to March 20) You need to build a stronger on-the-job support system to convince doubting colleagues that your innovative proposals are workable.

Born This Week: You might not say much, but you're capable of extraordinary achievements. You are a loyal friend and a devoted family person.

MOMENTS IN TIME

- On May 30, 1431, in Normandy, Joan of Arc, the peasant girl who became the savior of France, is burned at the stake for heresy. Her most serious crime was her rejection of church authority in favor of direct inspiration from God. She was 19 years old.

- On May 26, 1897, the first copies of the classic vampire novel Dracula, by Irish writer Bram Stoker, appear in London bookshops. Stoker had originally named the vampire "Count Wampyr."

- On May 29, 1914, in one of the worst maritime disasters in history, heavy fog causes a collision of boats – the Empress of Ireland and the Storstad – that kills 1,073 people on the St. Lawrence River in Canada.

- On May 24, 1935, the Cincinnati Reds beat the Philadelphia Phillies 2-1 in Major League Baseball's first-ever night game, played under recently installed lights at Crosley Field in Cincinnati. The game drew 25,000 fans as President Franklin D. Roosevelt symbolically switched on the lights from Washington, D.C.

- On May 27, 1943, a B-24 carrying U.S. airman and former Olympic runner Louis Zamperini crashes into the Pacific Ocean. After surviving the crash, Zamperini floated on a raft in shark-infested waters before being picked up by the Japanese and spending two years in brutal prison camps. His story of survival was featured in the 2010 book Unbroken, by Laura Hillenbrand.

- On May 28, 1961, the British newspaper The London Observer publishes British lawyer Peter Benenson's article The Forgotten Prisoners, launching a movement that later became Amnesty International.

- On May 25, 1994, the ashes of 71-year-old George Swanson are buried in Pennsylvania in the driver's seat of his 1984 white Corvette. Swanson, a U.S. Army sergeant during World War II, had acquired 12 cemetery burial plots so his beloved Corvette would fit in his grave with him.

Moments In Time

NOW HERE'S A TIP

- CSR in Florida sends this reminder: Pull out the plugs on toasters, microwaves, etc. Appliances still draw a bit of power when not in use but plugged in.

- Fasten buttons, zippers and other closures before laundering a garment. This is especially important for any item that includes a hook-and-loop closure. The hooks will catch on other garments, and best case will be filled with lint. Worst case: They can tear at the threads of other items of clothing.

- If you have a bunch of your family's historical documents, make sure you scan them and preserve them for future generations. It's always nice to forward copies to relatives – you never know when someone will get involved in genealogy and really want to see those birth records, baptism certificates and baby photos.

- You can sharpen knitting needles with a pencil sharpener. You also can use an emery board. Sharp needles work best.

- "If you have two pairs of similar slacks – one navy and one black – you can put a safety pin through the tag on one of them so you can tell them apart. I have a pin in the navy slacks. They really do look similar until you're out in the light." – TL in Virginia

- Make chopping walnuts easier: Put some in a bowl, and nest another bowl into it, then rock the top bowl back and forth to crush the walnuts.

STRANGE BUT TRUE

- The rarest shape for a human nose is the bulbous type, exemplified by former U.S. President Bill Clinton.

- Smuggling a cat out of ancient Egypt was punishable by death.

- A variety of corn grown in Peru has kernels so large that they're eaten individually.

- After impressionist painter Claude Monet developed cataracts, he agreed to have surgery on his right eye only. It is believed that afterwards he could see and paint a wide spectrum of colors usually not seen by the human eye.

- Dinosaurs often swallowed large rocks, which stayed in their stomachs and helped them grind up food.

- One in 23 million people have an allergy to water.

- In 1631, royal printers Robert Barker and Martin Lucas published a Bible containing the typo "Thou Shalt Commit Adultery." As if that weren't embarrassing enough, another misprint, in Deuteronomy, substituted the word "greatnesse" with "great-asse." Barker and Lucas were fined 300 pounds and lost their printing license. Less than a dozen copies of what came to be known as the "Wicked," "Sinful" and "Adulterous" Bible are known to exist today and are highly prized by collectors.

- On average, a person's eyes make 15 to 30 gallons of tears a year.

- A rainbow's arc is relative to the position of the person observing it, so it is impossible for two people to actually see the exact same one.

- The air around a lightning bolt is five times hotter than the surface of the sun.

- While rare, there have been enough reported cases of strokes triggered by spa massage treatments that the medical community has nicknamed the phenomenon "beauty parlor stroke syndrome."

- Altocalciphilia is a fetish for high heels.
